HOT FIRE—This is how members of the North Suburban volunteer fire department, the Air Force Academy fire department and Manitou Springs company fought a hot fire at the north end of Cascade Avenue Wednesday afternoon. A pile of old automobile tires burned, sending up a dense cloud of smoke. The firemen kept it from spreading to any buildings.

Hot Fire Fought By Three Area Departments

Firemen of three companies fought a hot north end fire Wednesday afternoon when a pile of discarded tires north of the old drive-in theater and west of Cascade Avenue were discovered on fire, at 2:27 p.m. The fire was fought by the North Suburban volunteer fire department, using both of its trucks, the Air Force Academy fire department and the Manitou Springs fire department. The fire did not reach any buildings, altho the near-by dog kennels for a while were menaced. The flames shot up high and there was a cloud of black smoke.

Chief Joe McGrew of the South Suburban Company was in charge of the fire-fighting, directing the work of 27 firefighters. The Manitou Springs fire department sent a thousand-gallon tank of water.

Third Largest Railroad Shut Down by Walkout

CHICAGO (AP) — A telegraphers' strike shut down today the nation's third largest railroad, the Chicago & North Western, and brought to sharp focus the rail industry's major problem—men's jobs versus technical achievement.

Operations on the railroad's 10,600-mile Midwest network in nine states halted at 7 a.m. \ 1,000 members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers quit work. The telegraphers counted solid support from members of the other railroad unions, who left their jobs also.

Passengers, including 35,000 Chicago suburban commuters, sought other means of travel. Freight for thousands of stores and factories served by the North Western began backing up in railyards and warehouses.

Top-level negotiators whose 11th-hour efforts failed to head off the walkout, accepted glumly a summons to discussions by Francis A. O'Neil of the National Mediation Board.

The issue is: What happens when improved equipment replaces the obsolete and requires fewer men to operate it?

In the case of telegraphers, the Morse code long ago was replaced.

Star Spangled Banner Said Illegal in Class

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Use of the Star-Spangled Banner as an official school prayer is illegal but, as the national anthem, it may be sung, read, and recited in public schools, the state education commissioner says.

In a formal ruling, Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., also said that schools could set aside periods of silence for meditation in place of spoken prayers.

He added that there was no objection to teaching about religions in public schools, although he said the teaching of religion was unconstitutional.

Allen's decision was taken as an official statement of the State Education Department position in the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court's opinion that barred use of official prayers in public schools in New York.

The commissioner had indicated that his ruling in the case involving the Star-Spangled Banner would attempt to provide guides for school boards on what was permissible under the Supreme Court decision.

After the court ruling, the Hicksville Board of Education on Long

Denverite Found Guilty of Beating Big Police Dog

DENVER (UPI)—A 30-year-old Denver man was convicted Wednesday by a Municipal Court jury of using filthy language, disturbance, resistance and kicking and beating a police dog.

Judge Robert P. Fullerton sentenced Lorenzo Villa to 35 days in jail and fined him $100.

Policemen Richard J. Scheer and H. D. Buchanan said Villa used filthy language and began striking Buchanan when they answered a disturbance call last July 12. They said Villa also kicked their police dog, and they ordered the dog to subdue him.

Villa testified the dog growled at him, and then attacked.

The 5-foot, 6-inch tall Villa apparently got the best of the dog. The officers said he lifted the 80-pound German Shepherd off the ground by its collar and was choking the dog when they interfered.

In defending Villa, attorney Bert Gallegos said:

"The police expect us to get down on our knees to these vicious animals. I'll have none of it."

California Fires Burn 42,000 Acres

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Exhausted firefighters battled stubborn flareups today on brushfires raging throughout California, amid warnings the state is a tinderbox.

The U.S. Forest Service cautioned that conditions may get worse over the Labor Day weekend. Six fires already have charred 42,000 acres since Sunday.

In Southern California, gusty winds threatened to carry sparks outside the lines of twin blazes which have burned more than 17,000 acres in rugged mountains on the northern outskirts of Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles County fire chief, Keith Klinger, estimated damage at more than $3 million.

"We have one of the fires 80 per cent contained and another 60 per cent contained," a fire official said.

A late weather forecast called for an influx of moist sea air which might enable firemen to fully contained the blazes by tonight, he added.

Enforceable Atom Treaty Essential, Kennedy Declares

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Kennedy says the possibility of 10 or 15 nuclear powers by the end of the decade underscores the need for an enforceable treaty banning all atomic tests.

The President told his news conference Wednesday he and all the world would welcome a cessation of testing by next New Year's Day. But, he made clear, Soviet objection to international inspection dims the hopes of an agreement.

"I must point out again that in order to end testing, we must have workable international agreements," Kennedy said. "Gentlemen's agreements and moratoria do not provide the types of guarantees that are necessary."

Kennedy warned that when one nuclear weapon goes off, "it may mean they all go off."

"Those who oppose an agreement," he said solemnly, "should consider what our security will

It apparently centered in the Cache Valley 80 miles north of here where considerable damage was reported. It was felt as far away as Pocatello, Idaho, and Evanston in southwest Wyoming.

No injuries were reported.

One wall of the Crystal Furniture Co. building in Logan, a city of 18,000, fell onto a used car lot.

The Utah Highway Patrol reported a slide across U.S. 89 in Logan Canyon.

A building of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was damaged.

The first tremor was felt at 6:36 a.m. and lasted about 30 seconds. It was followed by two smaller shocks.

The University of California at Berkeley recorded the quake and said it was a fairly heavy one.

Cache Valley is but a few miles east of the Great Salt Lake.

One resident, in Ogden, Utah, about 30 miles north of here, reported that his cement porch was cracked. There were no other immediate reports of damage.

The earthquake was felt at Vernal, Utah, about 170 miles east of here, and at Preston, Idaho, just north of the Utah border.

One Salt Lake City resident said she was in her bathtub at the time the quake hit. "It felt like the WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today named Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to succeed Supreme Court Justice-designate Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor.

Wirtz Nominated For Secretary Of Labor Post

Kennedy personally announced his selection at a news conference.

The President said Wirtz, 50, has served with distinction as undersecretary since the beginning of his administration.

He added that he is confident Wirtz will carry on what he called the very fine tradition set by Goldberg in the field of labor-management relations.

Wirtz has had long experience in the labor-management field. In 1946, he was chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

He also has taught law at Northwestern University and at the University of Iowa.

Kennedy said he made the announcement "with great pleasure."

He described Wirtz as an able lawyer with long experience in labor-management relations.

Wirtz has served as an arbitrator in many labor-management disputes.

Goldberg has relied heavily upon him for mediation and negotiations in many disputes.

Wirtz is a one-time law partner of Adlai E. Stevenson, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

The labor post became vacant Wednesday when Kennedy selected Goldberg to succeed the retiring Felix Frankfurter on the U.S. Supreme Court.

Senate Rejects Dividend, Interest Withholding Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has turned down President Kennedy's proposal for a withholding system to wipe out tax evasion on dividend and interest income.

The defeat had been conceded in advance by administration leaders struggling to put the watered-down tax revision bill through the Senate.

But the size of the vote Wednesday against withholding—66-20—was a surprise even to the little group of Democrats who tried to keep it in the bill. Only 19 Democrats and one Republican, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, supported the President; 34 Democrats and 32 Republicans opposed the provision.

There's a chance the proposal will be salvaged in conference because the House included it in passing the measure in March. But the strongest advocates of the plan said their hope is slim.

The Treasury estimated the dividend and interest withholding plan would bring in about $900 million a year in taxes now evaded by failure to report about $5 billion of such income.

This was to be the biggest item in paying for the major feature of the bill—an investment credit to spur U.S. business to buy new machinery and equipment.

Without withholding, the bill is estimated to mean a substantial annual deficit to the Treasury.

One-Shot Antelope Hunt Scheduled At Lander, Wyo.

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — Sixteen distinguished hunters armed with high-powered rifles but with only one bullet each will try their luck Saturday in Lander's annual one-shot antelope hunt.

Those who are successful will be honored at a victory dinner Saturday night. Those who fail will dine with a group of Shoshone Indian squaws.

At daybreak Saturday the contestants will head for open country in search of the pronghorns.

Leading the Wyoming team will be Acting Gov. Jack Gage. Gov. Steve McNichols will be back as head of the Colorado group. Gov. John Anderson will head the Kansas delegation, and South Dakota's team will be captained by former Gov. Joe Foss, now commissioner of the American Footall League.

Cameron Begins Clean Up Work After Big Storm

CAMERON, La. (AP) — Undaunted by its latest battle with the elements, this low-lying coastal town starts today to clean up after a death-dealing windstorm and high waters.

It was Cameron's third severe onslaught by storms and swirling waters in less than five years.

The official casualty list of Tuesday night's storm shows two dead and 30 injured. Eighteen were hospitalized. The Red Cross reported 125 families affected by the storm. One home was demolished and 16 house trailers were destroyed or severely damaged.

17 Clergymen Are Released From Jail in Georgia

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Jail doors have swung open for 20 persons, including 17 clergymen, arrested for a racial protest demonstration. Most, if not all, of the 55 still behind bars planned to gain release today by posting $200 bonds.

The spotlight in this racial trouble spot shifts during the afternoon to U.S. district Court, where a hearing was called on a suit seeking to desegregate parks, libraries and travel facilities in Albany.

More than 50 clergymen, mostly from Northern and Midwestern cities, were among 54 white persons and 21 negroes jailed Tuesday for refusing to leave the sidewalk in front of city hall where they sought to hold a prayer vigil.

"When these men go back home, they'll be telling the Albany story," said the Rev. Andrew Young Wednesday night at a mass meeting where several of the ministers spoke.

"We're creating a people that understand what it means to be pushed around," said Young, an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Rocket Plane Is Plagued by Switch Trips

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — "Something in the Black Box kept tripping switches that weren't supposed to trip," the X15 pilot said after his heat test flight Wednesday.

Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth was referring to the Stability Augmentation System on the sleek black craft. It's designed to shut off the yaw damper, which curbs side-to-side motion. Instead, the roll damper went off Wednesday.

Rushworth switched to an auxiliary system and landed without further incident.

It was the third straight such incident on X15 test flights. Officials said an investigation is under way.

The stubby-winged rocket ship shot up to 97,000 feet and 3,443 miles per hour. Temperatures on its steel alloy skin reached 1,100 degrees, 180 below the ship's high reported to date.

Illegal Airstrip Intention Denied By Two Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Army officers formerly on duty at Ft. Carson, Colo., denied today there was any intentional illegal use of funds in the building of an airstrip there in 1959.

Col. John E. Johnson, now stationed in Europe and post engineer at Ft. Carson when the airstrip was built, told a House government Operations subcommittee that charging the cost of the work up to repair and maintenance was not done to circumvent a requirement for congressional authorization to spend more than $25,000 on a new project.

The General Accounting Office earlier reported the airstrip and plane parking area cost $665,000, and that building them without congressional approval was a violation of alw.

Both Johnson and Brig. Gen. Richard A. Risden, former Ft. Carson commander now on duty here, said the project started out as a repair of an existing runway

Saudi Arabia, Jordan Will Merge Economy, Politics

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Burying the decades-old feud between their dynasties, Kings Hussein of Jordan and Saud of Saudi Arabia have agreed to merge their nations' military forces, coordinate their economies and present a united front in Arab and world affairs.

Hussein and Saud announced their plans for comprehensive unity of the Western-allied Middle East nations in a joint statement issued in Amman and Mecca on Wednesday night.

They called on all other Arab states to join in their agreements, but it was obvious they did not expect President Nasser's United Arab Republic, for one, to accept the invitation. They accused Nasser of shattering Arab unity.

The statement was released a few hours after Hussein returned to Amman from a three-day meeting with Saud at Taif, Saudi Arabia. The two monarchs agreed on "complete military unity" and "the establishment of a common command for the two armed forces immediately."

Impoverished, agricultural Jordan and oil-rich Saudi Arabia will coordinate economic policy and eliminate all restrictions on the movement of persons, goods and capital between the two countries, the monarchs said. They will settle their border problems immediately, they added.

Cooperation and coordination also were agreed upon in all cultural and administrative affairs and in the field of national guidance and information.

In greeting to coordinate "Arab and foreign policy," the monarchs reaffirmed common enmity of Israel. They pledged to "act within a unified plan to restore at all cost sacred Arab rights in Palestine."

Despite their long feud, the Hashemite and Saudi kingdoms have been drawn closer together in recent years because of common dislike for Nasser, his Arab socialism and his power grabs. Cairo radio has urged repeatedly

Jordan-Saudi Pact Seen as Blow at Nasser

SHTOURA, Lebanon (UPI) — The split in the Arab world deepened today with the military merger of Jordan and Saudi Arabia added to the dispute between Syria and the United Arab Republic.

The announcement by Jordan and Saudi Arabia Wednesday of plans to coordinate operations in military and other fields was regarded by most delegates to the Arab League conference here as a move against UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

It still was not clear whether the UAR, which walked out of the League meeting Tuesday, intended to withdraw completely. Its delegation went home Wednesday, but an announcement in Cairo this morning said the delegation had left to return to Shtoura.

The UAR stalked out of the meeting here in protest against Syria's charges that Nasser's government was meddling in Syria's affairs. UAR delegates demanded condemnation of Syria and an apology to Nasser.

The Syrian delegation rejected the UAR demands, saying "Syria has done nothing for which it will apologize."

Police Hunt Bike Riding Nude Youth

This morning a nude youth riding a bicycle was seen in the Beacon and Fillmore Streets area and at press time members of the sheriff and police departments are trying to catch him.

His description tallies with that given Wednesday to the sheriff's office when two teen-age girls who were near the railroad tracks off Wood Avenue, were approached by a naked boy about 17-years-old.

According to the report, he grabbed one of the girls and tried to rip off her clothing. She kicked him and the other girl picked up a rock.

The boy then left, "riding a bicycle," the report said. The girls were able to furnish officials with a description of his appearance and the bicycle.

KILLED

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly 22,000 persons were killed in the nation's traffic accidents in the first seven months of this year, including a record toll in July, the National Safety Council reports.

The council said the traffic death toll from Jan. 1 to Aug. 1 was 21,960, including 3,840 persons killed in July.

Sky Shield III Set Sunday; Emergency Flights Allowed

Emergency flights only will be allowed in the air Sunday during the North American Air Defense Command's (NORAD) training exercise, Sky Shield III.

The exercise will ground all non-participating aircraft from 12 noon to 5:30 p.m. Sunday over the entire North American land and sea area north of the Mexican border.

Najeeb E. Halaby, Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) administrator, said that emergency flights which will be permitted include search and rescue operations, fire fighting, air evacuation for emergency medical treatment and similar relief operations.

Under these conditions pilots will be required prior to take off to furnish the nearest air traffic control facility with information on the purpose of the flight, departing point, route, altitude and destination. These flight will be given traffic advisory information to the extent possible.

Halaby said, "As in the case of last year's exercise, I have issued this special rule to make official the cooperation we have always had voluntarily from civil aviation. The understanding and willingness of the public, the nation's pilots and the entire aviation community to accept temporary inconveniences in the interest of improved continental air defense is most heartening to the FAA and the Defense Department."

He said that FAA's contributions to the success of the mission will be to assure participating units that the skies will be cleared for conducting operations under the required realistic conditions in an environment that will not jeopardize air safety.

FAA air route traffic control centers will help pilots planning to depart from the continental U. S. and Alaska determine the latest times they will be authorized to take off so as to be clear of the exercise area when the operation begins. Similar information will be available for flights coming in from overseas points to insure they are either on the ground or outside the exercise are once the exercise begins.

Frankfurter Quits High Court; Goldberg Gets Post

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ailing Felix Frankfurter, a legal legend in his own lifetime, has handed down a final, sorrowful decision as a Supreme Court justice: to retire rather than attempt to carry on at a faltering pace.

President Kennedy immediately chose Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg to succeed the wiry, waspish little man with a big mind and a flair for piercing questions who had served on the nation's highest court for 23 years.

And the White House said a successor to Goldberg would be named promptly, too.

Goldberg's top assistant, Undersecretary W. Willard Wirtz, reportedly was on the list of persons receiving consideration. Assistant Secretary Esther Peterson, who said she is not a candidate for the Cabinet vacancy, got a fast, strong endorsement from home state Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, as "the most capable person available at this point."

But there was a possibility also that Kennedy would reach outside his official family. He did that for the surprise appointment of Anthony J. Celebrezze as secretary of welfare.

Frankfurter's retirement and the Goldberg appointment were announced at the outset of a presidential news conference Wednesday.

It could have been no surprise that Frankfurter stepped down from the bench, and little surprise that Goldberg received the presidential nod to step up.

Frankfurter at 79 gave way to the inevitable inroads of mounting years and waning health after his years of outstanding yet controversial service on the high court. He suffered a stroke April 5. His speech was impaired. He has been away from the court ever since.

With a twinge of pathos and a refusal to compromise with principle, Frankfurter wrote President Kennedy Tuesday of his decision.

In keeping with his years of pondering the law and the law books, Frankfurter started off by citing "28 U.S.C. (Sec.) 371 (B), 68 Stat. 12"—the statute permitting his retirement.

"To retain my seat on the basis of a diminished work schedule," he said, "would not comport wi my own philosophy or with demands of the business court. I am thus left choice but to regard active service on th ing run its cours

Interstate Highway Improvement Started

DENVER (UPI)— The State Highway Department said Wednesday work had started on rebuilding and improving U.S. 87, part of Interstate 25, from Wellington, Colo., north to the Wyoming border.

The department said part of the 17-mile project included widening the two-lane highway to four lanes while other sections of the road would be replaced with a new highway.

Cost of the project was estimated at more than $2 million, not including paving the road.

Jobless Benefit Extension Beaten

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee rebuffed President Kennedy here by rejecting 13 to 12 his request for another extension of jobless payments for workers who have exhausted their benefits.

The action was a stunning setback for Kennedy. He had listed the bill as one of several that should be enacted to help the government fight recession without an immediate tax cut.

Some leaders talked of seeking reconsideration of the committee vote, but this avenue was not regarded as promising for the administration.

On the showdown, nine Republicans and four Democrats voted against the extension. Eleven Democrats and one Republican voted for it.

The legislation would have provided up to 13 weeks additional unemployment compensation for some 850,000 workers whose benefits have run out. The extension would have run from Oct. 1962 until March 31, 1963.

The vote appeared to come as a shock to House leaders. The legislation has had bipartisan support in the past and not too much trouble was expected.

According to estimates, annual per capita consumption of peanuts in the United States is more than 4½ pounds.

West German Movie Offends Russians

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)— The West German movie "Tsar To Stalin" was withdrawn from the Edinburgh Film Festival Monday because it offended some Russian visitors, according to a festival spokesman.

He said no official protest was made. The withdrawal followed Soviet comments that called the film's English dialogue anti-Soviet propaganda, untrue and damaging.

Low Bid Submitted For Tunnel Approach

DENVER (AP) — The Hubner Construction Co. of Denver submitted the low bid of $1,192,240 for an approach road on Interstate Highway 70 (U.S. 6) to the east portals of planned vehicular tunnels through the Continental Divide at Straight Creek.

There were seven other bidders with a spread of only 2.5 per cent among the five lowest offers.

The work calls for grading, stabilization, structures and asphaltic paving of about two miles of road in Clear Creek County, west of Denver.

About one-tenth of a mile will be 48-foot roadway, the rest 24 feet. The work is scheduled to be completed five months after it begins.

Atom Step Would Take Year for Red Chinese

By DONAL MAY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Red China may be capable of detonating a crude nuclear device in a year or so, U.S. officials said today.

They said they had no intelligence information indicating the Peiping regime might reach this stage in the next few months.

This explanation was given to newsmen after a senior official of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency told a group of newsmen that Communist China would "probably" be able to set off its first nuclear explosion "within a matter of months."

The official, who declined to be quoted by name, later qualified the statement, saying that by a "matter of months" he meant a year or two rather than several years. This was the estimate previously given by U.S. officials.

The estimate is that even if China succeeded in exploding a simple nuclear device it would be a number of years before it could develop anything approaching a weapons system.

Officials said information on the exact state of Communist Chinese nuclear development was sketchy.

Russia entered an agreement to give the Peiping regime technical assistance in the field of atomic science in 1955. But less than a year ago, at the height of Moscow's ideologicav dispute with Peiping, Russia withdrew most of her technicians and scientists from China.

When the Russians pulled out, however, they left behind scientific equipment, including that which could be used by the Chinese in nuclear projects.

In addition to this equipment, the Chinese Communists are known to have atomic scientists of their own, trained in Russia or in some instances in the United States.

U.S. officials doubt that the Chinese could get very far in developing a nuclear weapons system of their own because of their lack of industrial facilities.

Officials said the prospect of China someday becoming a nuclear power was one reason this country was pressing Russia for a partial test ban treaty which would outlaw all but underground tests.

The treaty, as proposed by the United States and Britain, would obligate the signing countries to refrain from helping other nations gain nuclear capability.

State Fair Livestock Premium Hike Sought

PUEBLO (UPI)—Clyde Fugate, manager of the Colorado State Fair, said today the state legislature would be asked to authorize higher livestock premiums for the 1963 state fair.

Fugate said premiums sought would be comparable to those paid at state fairs in Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah.

Former Gov. Dan Thornton urged increases in the premiums. He was judge of the beef cattle division at this year's fair.

"We know the shortcomings and where improvements are needed, but we need money to solve most of the problems," Fugate said. "We are proud of the fair and we are trying to do away with its weak spots."

Kenneth Stines, an architect, has told the State Fair Board that construction of a new $388,000 livestock barn at the fairgrounds should be completed by next August.

Fugate said when the new barn is finished, "we will have room for the increased number of exhibitors that will be attracted by the higher premiums."

BAT BIT CHILDREN

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn. (UPI) — A rabid bat bit three children in the yard of the Ethridge Elementary School but antirabies serum was administered in time to counteract the disease, it was learned Tuesday.

Officials said the incident occurred last week after the children found the bat in a tree.

W. F. Drake, sanitarian at the Lawrence County Health Department, sent the bat to Nashville, Tenn., where tests showed that it was rabid.

Public School Head Heads Desegregation

BURAS, La. (AP)—The superintendent of public schools in Plaquemines Parish has urged Roman Catholic parents to take their children out of parochial schools rather than accept desegregation.

"I am a Catholic, but when my church starts fighting me, I am going to fight back," said the school official, Sam A. Moncla.

Moncla told a group of about 600 Catholic parents Monday night that the public schools have facilities to educate Catholic children removed from parochial schools.

The parents attended a hastily called meeting to discuss an announcement that a parochial school in Buras would be desegregated next month. The parish is in the archdiocese of New Orleans which was directed last spring by Archbishop Joseph Franics Rummel to accept all pupils regardless of race in its parochial schools.

Moncla joined Paris Council President Leander H. Perez, who was excommunicated for defying the church desegregation edict, in urging Catholic parents to boycott parochial schools if they accept Negro students.

Residence Exec Needed Overseas For Good Trade

By JESSE BOGUE

NEW YORK (UPI)— Cooperation and help from a good man in residence is an essential in setting up an overseas operation by a United States firm, says an American corporation chieftain.

Big-scale efficiency in production and marketing, tested and proven on these shores, can be transplanted, said David Schwartz, chairman and president of Jonathan Logan, Inc.; but operations of an American firm over seas or beyond the borders has greater assurance of success with the approval of a man on the scene who knows conditions in his own nation.

Schwartz said that time was becoming an increasingly important factor in locations overseas.

Within the next 10 years, he said, firms here seeking export or cooperative markets are going to run into an increasing desire by other countries to become independent in their production industries, and to be self-supporting in as many as possible.

He heads one of America's largest makers of women's apparel, and already has followed the joint effort pattern in ventures beyond the United States; in Canada, and in licensing of its products in Australia, New Zealand, Mexico and South Africa; It became a partner and then owner of Texfin, SA, a leading textile producing firm in Venezuela.

Schwartz in going into overseas markets has noted that stlyes in women's apparel are far more universal than has been the case in the past ideas that are successful in one nation may well have an appeal in another.

Mississippi Voting Laws Are Attacked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department asked federal courts today to strike down two sections of the Mississippi constitution and seven Mississippi state laws on grounds they are used to keep Negroes from voting.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said a suit was filed in federal court in Jackson, Miss., requesting that the two provisions and the seven laws be declared unconstitutional.

The laws include six passed by the Mississippi Legislature last May. The department said they made it easier to discriminate against potential Negro voters. They also made it more difficult for the federal government to protect their rights, the suit said.

Cosmonauts Claim They Could Land

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet cosmonaut Andrian Nikolayev said this week he and Pavel Popovich could have ridden their spaceships all the way back to earth at the end of their long orbital flights earlier this month.

"You might land this way or that," Nikolayev said in an interview on Radio Moscow.

"If we had been ordered to land in the ship we would have done this. It is very easy to land in the ship," he said.

Catholic Bishop of U. S. To Attend Vatican Meet

By JULES LOH
AP Staff Writer

America's Catholic bishops will take with them to the Second Vatican Council next October a background of lively participation in this rarely used form of church government.

At the last council, a century ago, 46 prelates from the United States participated. Some — notably Bishop Augustin Verot of Savannah, Ga., and Bishop Edward Fitzgerald of Little Rock Ark.— treated the staid assembly to some forthright examples of Yankee determination.

Bishop Fitzgerald was one of only two participants who said "non placet" (I am not pleased) on the final vote to adopt a definition of papal infallibility. The other was an Italian, Bishop Aloisio Riccio of Cajazzo.

Bishop Verot also was opposed, but he made his reputation mainly through fiery speeches on lesser issues.

He thought it was a "disgraceful spectacle" for priests to hunt with guns and felt there should be a church law against it. He wanted the council to take a strong stand on racial justice and proposed a canon "anathemitizing any who dare to assert that blacks are not of the human family."

One historian, E. Cuthbert Butler, O.S.B., characterized Verot as "the enfant terrible of the council. He was a frequent and lengthy speaker . . . who succeeded in raising frequent laughs. He was often in conflict with the presidents (of the assemblies) because of these sallies, but he received their rebukes with irrepressible good humor."

Verot, campaigning for reform of the breviary, the book from which priests are obliged to read daily prayers, complained, "Some things in it cannot be read with gravity and reverence. As St. Augustin's explanation of the 38 years the sick man at the pool of Bethsaida had been in his infirmity—I must confess I can never read this without distraction."

President: "Let the right reverend speaker speak with greater reverence of the holy fathers."

Verot: "I do wish, Eminence, to speak with all reverence of the holy fathers; but sometimes even Homer dozes."

The biggest issue of the First Vatican Council—whether to define papal infallibility—was not even on the proposed agenda when the assembly convened in 1869.

The main point of controversy wasn't whether the Pope was infallible when speaking on matters of faith and morals (only 15 of the 601 bishops present were opposed to the doctrine) but whether it was advisable to define the doctrine at that time.

Most of the Americans felt it was not.

Archbishops Peter Kenrick of St. Louis and John Purcell of Cincinnati and Bishop Michael Domenec of Pittsburgh led U.S. opposition. They claimed, one observer reported, "that the definition would be an insurmountable obstacle to the conversion of Protestants in the United States."

According to this writer, Domenec felt that "if there be no setback, in 30 or 40 years the number of Catholics will be greater in North America than in Italy; and they will be not merely nominal, but real practicing Catholics. The only calamity that can destroy so fair a hope would be the doctrine of papal infallibility." (Present count: Italy 49 million Catholics, practicing and nominal; North America 50 million.)

Bishop Martin Spalding of Baltimore and a half dozen other U.S. prelates favored the definition, but wanted it to be framed without using the word "infallible."

Kenrick, Domenec and the outspoken Verot held out to the end, but went along with the majority on the final vote. All the dissenters, however, pledged their support of the decision after the council adjourned.

Stockpile Disposal Would Be 'Body Blow'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, said today that disposal of lead and zinc in the strategic stockpile would be a "body blow" to the mining industry.

Moss said in a statement he will not support a bill now before a Senate Armed Service Stockpiling Subcommittee which would authorize disposal of strategic materials.

"The lead and zinc industry has been sorely beset by economic hardship for over 10 years now, and has just about reached the end of its resources," he said.

"Disposal of stockpiled lead and zinc under present market conditions and world over-supplies of these materials, would be a body blow. In fact, even the fact that stockpile disposal is under consideration has been enough to depress prices and further unsettle this troubled industry."

Robots Not Yet Ready to Replace Press Agents

By DICK WEST

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Press agents of the world, relax. It doesn't appear that you are in any immediate danger of being replaced by a robot.

I base this comforting statement on the experience I had with the automated information service that the Labor Department inaugurated this week on an experimental basis.

The department's venture into futuristic press agentry employs a recording device that is hooked up to a telephone.

By dialing 9613388, a reporter theoretically can receive a "recorded" account of what's going on around the department. Note I said "theoretically."

I first dialed the number at 12:42 p.m. on the day that the robot in the grey flannel suit went into operation.

All I heard was a series of clicking noises, followed by the telephonic equivalent of the Bronx cheer. I identified is as a busy signal which for some reason sounded more raucous than usual.

The same thing happened the next two times I dialed. I naturally assumed that something pretty big must be going on to keep the line tied up like that.

Finally, on the fourth try, the dulcet tones of Bess Friedman, who has been assigned to give voice to the robot, came undulating over the wire.

She talks a lot faster than I can take notes. A robot, however, does not respond to requests to slow down. I had to hang up, dial again and listen to repeats of the recording until I had copied the pertinent information.

"There will be a meeting this morning at 10 a.m. in Room 3428 on the Huntsville, Ala., strike of electricians," it said.

The future tense sounded a bit odd for it was then 12:57 p.m.

I kept calling back during the afternoon hoping I would find out what happened at the meeting. But all I ever heard was "there will be a meeting this morning at 10 a.m., etc."

I was therefore forced to conclude that an electronic press agent doesn't give out stale news any better than the old fashion human variety.

Moreover, the robot variety has what I regard as a basic deficiency rendering it incapable of performing one of the fundamental functions of press agentry.

Not being on an expese account, it is unable to buy a reporter an occasional drink.

The "dog days," the hottest part of the summer, are so called because Sirius, the Dog Star, rises with the sun at that time. Ancient peoples thought it intensified the heat of the sun.

Walker Raved, Soviet Military Writer Claims

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet military writer declared today former U.S. Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was raving when he said the siege of Stalingrad was a farce.

Walker's charge, made in an interview in the Dallas (Tex.) Morning News Aug. 5, was denounced by Col. V. Anfilov in the Soviet army paper Red Star.

The Russians thus joined West German military men in challenging the contention the 1942-43 battle for the Volga River stronghold was a small-scale affair exaggerated by the Communist propaganda machine to build up pro-Russian sentiment among Americans.

Walker said there were never more than 3,000 Germans at the gates of Stalingrad and that there were no more than three direct assaults on the city by Nazi soldiers. He said he got the information at a briefing in the Pentagon by Lt. Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel in either 1948 or 1949.

The U.S. Defense Department in Washington said later it had a report by O'Daniel entitled "Visit to Stalingrad," but the report is classified.

Bob Kennedy Tells About Success Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The rules for success in politics are many and colorful, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has added another—"Don't knock having a brother as president."

The subject came up Tuesday in a chat between Kennedy and 50 college students in his office. One student wondered whether having a brother in the White House was a disadvantage in his job.

Federal Medical Care Opposed by Candidates

AURORA (UPI)—Two Republican candidates for Congress from Colorado's 2nd District said Tuesday night that they opposed any federal medical care plan.

One of two Democratic candidates for the same office, appearing at the same meeting, said he would have voted "no" on President Kennedy's medicare bill.

Republicans Donald Brotzman and Howard Propst said they opposed any federal plan. But they said they would favor income tax exemptions to allow individuals to buy private medical insurance.

Democrat Conrad McBride said he would have voted against the Kennedy bill, saying it was not broad enough and would have hurt the Colorado medical care program. He and Democrat Harold Adcock suggested that the doctors and the government examine the problem together.

The only candidate for the 2nd District seat not appearing at the meeting was John Shafroth, a Democrat. The meeting, at the Officer Club of Fitzsimons Hospital, was arranged by the Adams-Arapahoe County Medical Society.

President Given Victory in Tax Revision Bill

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate turned today to a fight over expense account deductions after handing President Kennedy a major provision—a $1-billion invest- tax revision bill.

The Senate voted 52 to 30 Tuesday to retain the measure's major provision—a $1-billion investment credit to spur American industry to buy modern machinery and equipment.

The quick action raised Senate leaders' hopes they could push the 392-page bill to final passage by Friday.

The Senate continued in session Tuesday night to debate the next issue, expense accounts, and an attempt to fix a time for a vote on the provision failed.

The investment credit was retained with 37 Democrats and 15 Republicans voting for it, and 17 Democrats and 13 Republicans against it—an unusual lineup, as both conservatives and liberals were widely split.

The provision now is virtually certain to become law since it passed the House and has been retained by the Senate.

Under it, most companies can deduct from their taxes up to 7 per cent of what they spend on new equipment. Public utilities would be allowed 3 per cent.

The administration has urged the credit as a key weapon in its drive to help American business become more efficient and competitive in world markets, and thus bolster the economy.

Foes of the credit assailed it as a windfall to many companies which they said would make the investment anyway. They insisted there was no evidence it would bring any additional modernization.

The expense account fight turned on an attempt by Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., to keep out of the bill an amendment proposed by the Finance Committee that would permit deductions for goodwill entertaining.

The House inserted a provision striking at such deductions. This drew a flood of protests to the Senate group from the hotel, restaurant and entertainment industry.

Gore said the effect of the Senate amendment was to permit continuance of a flood of deductions for such things as "night club hopping, fancy yachts, and swanky night clubs."

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., argued the House bill was harsh. He defended the Senate amendment, asserting "we have tightened up the law immeasurably."

The length of the debate on the bill seems likely to be determined by the fate of a highly controversial proposal to permit self-employed persons to set up tax deductible pension funds.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., has offered this as an amendment. The administration has opposed the proposal.

Stop for Gasoline Saves Lives of Two

FORT COLLINS (AP) — A stop for gasoline probably saved the lives of two girls from Morrison, Colo., here.

An attendant at a filling station noticed both girls, lying under a blanket in the back of a truck, appeared to be unconscious.

The girls, Cheri Williams, 13, and Sheryl McGee, 11, were revived by a fire department squad using oxygen and were reported recovering satisfactorily.

Salinger Brother Retires From Post in Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert E. Salinger, brother of President Kennedy's press secretary, has resigned from his Labor Department post of special assistant on youth employment.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, accepting the resignation with "great reluctance," announced today he is conferring on Salinger the Labor Department's Award of Merit.

The award is for Salinger's service as executive secretary of the President's Committee on Youth Employment. Goldberg wrote Salinger that "for the first time, through your efforts, the department has developed an over-all approach to the problems of youth and has coordinated all of its activities in this area."

Salinger, appointed last November by Goldberg, gave personal considerations as the reason for his resignation.

He agreed to continue as a youth consultant in the department, but said he is returning to California as an administrator in the Napa, Calif., public school system, where he had been a junior high school principal before coming to Washington.

Huge Crane Is Sent By Soviets to Cuba

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet motorship Ustyuuzhna left Odessa for Havana today carrying 5,000 tons of grain and a 100-ton crane, the Soviet news agency, Tass reported.

Tass said it was part of a big buildup in shipments to Cuba, which are expected to double the 1961 figure.

About 10 Soviet ships are already heading for Cuba with cargos including automobiles, agricultural equipment, canned goods and timber, Tass said.

Foreign ships are being called in to help with the increased Soviet-Cuba traffic. Among ships chartered, Tass said, are the West German Westfalen, the Norwegian Tove Lilian, the Creek Pargon and the Italian Airone.

The ships will return to the Soviet Union with Cuban raw sugar, Tass said.

look like at the end of the decade if we do not have the agreement."

One of the president's opening statements was on nuclear testing and he was returned to the subject again and again in a meeting with newsmen that produced these other items:

—Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, 79 and ill, is retiring after 23 years on the Supreme Court and Kennedy has selected Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg to fill the vacancy.

—The President considers the U.S. foreign aid program "the most valuable weapon immediately that we have on the front lines against the Communist advance," and he finds "it very ironical that those who make the strongest speeches against Communist movements are the ones who want to cut this program the hardest."

—The United States has no evidence that Russian troops have moved into Cuba and Kennedy thinks an invasion of the Communist - aligned Caribbean country would be a mistake that could lead "to very serious consequences for many people."

—Kennedy said he is not familiar with any Russian proposal for a meeting in Berlin of the four occupying powers to discuss the divided city's future, but he said there will be a foreign ministers meeting before the U.N. General Assembly convenes next month.

In reply to questions on other topics, Kennedy said:

Government agencies are investigating possible dangerous side-effects from the widespread use of DDT and other pesticides, farmers withholding meats and grains from the market are trying to get higher prices, not deprive consumers of their products.

Pornographic literature is "a matter of concern for parents," but about all officials can do is enforce the laws as interpreted by the courts; the United States strongly supports Cambodia's independence and neutrality; "a very critical situation" would arise if Katanga is not integrated in the Congo.

Kennedy's statement on nuclear testing was in reply to a Soviet proposal in Geneva earlier in the day, suggesting an unpoliced ban on all tests by next Jan. 1.

The target date is reasonable, Kennedy said, but an unpoliced ban on underground tests is not. The United States learned a lesson broke a three-year moratorium and can't "be a party to any renewal of false hopes," he said.

Asked how an agreement signed only by the current nuclear powers would deter other countries from developing nuclear weapons, Kennedy said: "It is our hope that the signing... will arrest the spread and not make it essential."

He added: "but it is only a hope."

Nine Lettermen Greet Bud Davis At First Drill

BOULDER (AP) — It's been many years since Colorado has had as low a percentage of lettermen in its September football squad as will turn out for the first day of practice Saturday.

Only 9 of the 61 players that Coach Bud Davis is counting on hold monograms. This is due to a large extent to the scrubbing of nine veterans by the Big Eight Conference for violations of rules. This will be Davis' first season as ssccessor to Sonny Grandelius, who was fired.

The new Buffalo brigade will have 37 sophomores.

Three of the lettermen are backs—Leon Mavity, John Meadows and Bill Harris. The rest are ends Ted Somerville, a halfback last season, and Ken Blair, tackle Bill Frank, guard Dan Grimm, center Dale Christensen and safety man Nick Graham.

Two practice sessions will be held daily.

Wilkinson Sees Sooner Gridders In Rosy Glasses

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma Football Coach Bud Wilkinson said Wednesday he is looking forward to the coming football season with more hope than at any time since 1956 or 1957.

"I'm real optimistic," Wilkinson told newsmen at his 16th annual luncheon for press, radio and television. "However, this doesn't mean we'll defeat Syracuse, Notre Dame and Texas and then walk through the (Big Eight) conference.

"But I feel our team has more athletic ability than we've had in several years and it should be a rapidly improving team."

The Sooners were undefeated in 1956 and lost their only game the next year to Notre Dame, breaking a 47-game winning streak. Last year Oklahoma lost its first five and won the last five.

Defendant Loses His Case When Testimony Backfires

A defendant who proved his own worst enemy in Municipal Court Wednesday was found guilty of breach of peace and drunkenness, fined $50, and sentenced to five days in jail, the latter sentence was suspended by Assistant Municipal Judge Hunter Hardeman on the grounds of continued good behavior by the defendant.

The defendant Peter Chavez, 54, of 616 E. Santa Fe St., represented by Hugh Ross, local attorney and County Commissioner, was originally charged with riotous conduct, breach of the peace and drunkenness by Mrs. Allice Lewis, 615 E. Santa Fe St.

Chavez brought a counter complaint of riotous conduct and breach of peace against Leslie Lewis, 70, husband of the complainant, which was subsequently dismissed by Judge Hardeman.

The case came to a bitter end for Chavez who could apparently have had the drunkenness charge against him dismissed had he not taken to stand to testify.

Trouble of long standing between the Chavez and the Lewis families came to a head the afternoon of August 11 at 5:30 or 6 p.m. when Chavez disembarked from a cab and entered his house.

Mrs. Lewis while on the stand, attempted to narrate past grievences against Chavez, but was abrubtly silenced by Assistant City Attorney Matthew Wills and Ross who protested that such testimony had nothing to do with the case at hand which pertained to the specific date of August 11.

Mrs. Lewis told the court that she heard Chavez that afternoon call someone a Communist and a German. She said the name calling was directed in the direction of her house and she presumed it was directed at her and her husband, but she couldn't say for sure. She also testified that the name calling was accompanied by loud and profane language spoken by Chavez.

Lewis took the stand and said that he was absent from his house when the name calling occurred but had seen the defendant leave the taxi cab and reel into his house.

Ross at this time asked the court to dismiss the drunkenness and riotous conduct charges against his client due to the fact there was no evidence introduced to the effect that Chavez was guilty of such charges. Hardeman dismissed the riotous conduct charge at this time but, reserved his ruling on the drunk charge until all the evidence was before the court.

AT this point Chavez took the witness stand and told the court that Lewis was nearby when he got out of the cab and hollored at him "You're drunk again you wetback."

"Later when I was inside my home, Lewis stood in front of my house and shook his fist at me. 'You should be deported'. I walked to the front door and told him to go to ----," Chavez said.

At this point Chavez was asked the question which wrecked his case in the eyes of the court. "Did you have anything to drink while you were inside your house?"

"No I'd had plenty to drink before," Chavez replied.

On redirect examination Wills immediately opened up this line of inquiry. Ross objected vigorously on the grounds that what Chavez had done before the occurrence of the incident which he was charged could not be used against him.

Hardeman ruled that the door of this inquiry had been opened question about Chavez drinking as well as the reply of the defendant to the question.

Wills hammered away at the defendant who innocently told the court that he had visited five taverns, and had had drinks at each one before returning home that evening.

The testimony given by the complainant concerning the defendant's reeling motion would not in itself have convicted Chavez of drunkenness; staggering and reeling could be caused by illiness.

Chavez told the court that the preceding morning he saw a flash light flashed about his home at 1:30 a.m. When he got up to investigate he saw the figure of a man run toward the Lewis house. He was unable to identify Lewis as the flashlight wielder and the case against Lewis was subsequently dismissed.

Lewis denied Chavez testimony but admitted that he had watched Chavez arrive home in a cab on the night in question. He admitted saying at the time that: "Pete's coming home and he's on one."

Lewis also admitted that he was the flashlight wielder and that he was searching for burglars.

Other cases heard in court were: Lee Harvey, 18, Ft. Carson, disorderly conduct and injuring private property, $40, $25 suspended when the damage is paid; Harry Harmon, reckless driving, $75, and five days in jail suspended providing the defednant have no more traffic violations in the period of one year; Willie Frank, Jr., 28, of 1008 E. Rio Grande St., assault, case dismissed; Ralph Cleaver, 47, of 517 N. Hancock Ave., signal light, $10 suspended; Mary Greenwood, 32, of 604 Castle Rd., dog at large, $5; John Warren, 48, Pueblo, drunk, five days in jail; Jose Breto, 20, of 210 N. Corona St., drunk, $25 bond forfeited; Russell Taylor, 39, of 323 N. Cascade Ave., drunk, $15.

The state patrolman was Pete Thiel.

Gary Dean Wood, 19, of 2223 N. Franklin St., paid a $25 fine and $4 costs for leaving the scene of an accident after damaging another vehicle.

The violation happened four miles south of Colorado Springs on U.S. Highway 85-87, and the ticketing officer was State Patrolman F. L. Prendergast.

Castro Battles Absenteeism; Freezes Wages

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime has frozen wages and imposed severe penalties on absenteeism in an effort to increase production in shortage-plagued Cuba.

The news broke Wednesday while Havana was awaiting the arrival of James B. Donovan, New York attorney who is on the way here with what are believed to be new proposals for the release of captured survivors of last year's invasion.

Donovan left on a Pan American airliner at 7:45 a.m. EST today to negotiate with Fidel Castro in Havana over the release of 1,113 prisoners captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961.

Alvaro Sanchez Jr., chairman of the Cuban Families Committee, and committee secretary Ernesto Freyre accompanied Donovan.

Donovan did not make public the terms he was prepared to offer Castro.

The clampdown on wages and working conditions was announced in a decree issued by Labor Minister Augusto Martinez which said most future wage increases must be approved by the governmernt.

An exception was made in the case of promotions. An employe who is promoted may be granted a "provisional" wage increase, but it may amount to no more than a quarter of the increase he would have received in the past.

Folley KO's Gonzalez In Bout's Fifth Round

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, the world's third-ranked heavyweight, knocked out Al Gonzales of Odessa, Tex., in 1:55 of the fifth round Wednesday night.

Folley, of Chandler, Ariz., started slowly, but quickened the pace in the second round and had Gonzales back-pedaling through much of the bout.

He sent Gonzales to the canvas for a mandatory eight-count in the third round.

Folley ended the bout with two quick lefts and a right cross.

the overthrow of both Hussein and Saud.

The Hashemite-Saudi feud dates from the late 19th Century when both fought for supremacy over the Arab Peninsula. In the early 1920s, Saud's father, the late King Ibn Saud, succeeded in driving Hussein's grandfather, the late King Abdullah, out of what has become a great desert oil empire of the Saudis. The British later set Abdullah up as monarch over independent Jordan and installed his brother, Feisal I, as king of neighboring Iraq.

Red Commandant Says Four Power Status Is Dead

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany's new Berlin commandant said today Berlin's four-power status has been dead for 14 years.

Maj. Gen. Helmut Poppe, who took over for the Communists when the Soviet Union abolished its post of Berlin commandant last week, called his appointment a "further step toward eradication of the remnants of World War II and conclusion of a German peace treaty."

Poppe made his statement in an interview published by the East German ADN news service.

It came as he assumed formal command of the Communists' Second Border Brigade in the city. The move transferred the brigade from the status of a police force to that of a unit of the Army and thus a part of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact forces.

Poppe rejected the Western allied position that his appointment as East Berlin city commandant violated Berlin's four - power status.

"It is well known that you can only break existing agreements," he said.

He said Berlin's four-power status was broken by the Western allies when a West Berlin city government was formed 14 years ago during the 1948-49 Soviet blockade of the city. The West maintains that Berlin still is a four-power responsibility and refuses to recognize the East German regime.

The Communist youth organization newspaper Young World added to the propaganda campaign by saying that if the Western allies had implemented four-power agreements on Berlin the city would not be a NATO base and a "frontline city of the cold war." It is a favorite device of the Reds to call Berlin a NATO base, whereas in fact the United States, Britain and France have kept their military forces here separate from their NATO troops.

nedy voiced for himself and all Americans "our respectful gratitude for the character, courage, learning and judicial dedication with which you have served your country over the last 23 years." It was characteristic, he said, that Frankfurter had taken the judgment of his doctors and "set it sternly against your own demanding standard of judicial effectiveness."

The Kennedy reply was delivered by his special assistant on national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy.

Goldberg happened to be at the White House about that time. The President was sending him to Chicago to try to head off a strike of telegraphers against the Chicago and North Western Railway, and they had been talking about the dispute.

Kennedy, an aide said, told the secretary of Frankfurter's retirement, discussed the question of a successor, offered Goldberg the position and received an immediate acceptance.

Goldberg is 54, greying, usually smiling, always bouncing around with seemingly unflagging energy. He was among those mentioned for the Supreme Court at the time Kennedy made his first appointment to the tribunal, that of Deputy Atty. Gen. Byron R. White.

There are similarities and differences between Frankfurter and the man who promised to do his best on the court even though "I cannot fill the place of as eminent a jurist as Mr. Justice Frankfurter."

Both Frankfurter and Goldberg are Jews. Both came from immigrant stock. Both battled their way upward. Both battled, too, for unpopular causes they felt were right.

But Frankfurter's legal background was largely that of the Harvard professor. Many of his students became "brain trusters" in the new deal days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Frankfurter was regarded as a crusading liberal in his earlier years and then as a cneservative on the court.

Goldberg's 30 years of law were largely in the labor field. He had a key role in the merger of the AFL and CIO.

In Congress, words of regret that failing health had forced Frankfurter to retire were coupled with generous appraisals of Goldberg.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois—Chicago is Goldberg's home town—said the Cabinet member "measures up to every standard required for a place on the Supreme Court." Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a conservative, said he thought Goldberg would make a good justice and would win quick Senate confirmation.

A number of Democrats were equally ready with applause.

For Frankfurter, in retirement as in his years of active duty, there are sure to be conflicting appraisals. Some lawyers have called him petty. Others have called him one of the greatest of all American jurists.

Some contended his fancy for tossing sharp questions from the bench was little more than harassment. Others upheld his prodding and poking as helpful to attorneys in making their points.

Whatever the ultimate impression may be, President Kennedy's assessment at his news conference was:

"Few judges have made as significant and lasting an impression upon the law. Few persons have made so important a contribution to our legal traditions and literature."

Illegal Airstrip Intention Denied By Two Officers

of Butts Airfield. The site was relocated to effect a saving in money as well as improve the efficiency and safety of operations, they said.

"When we changed the location of the paved runway, I remember asking 5th Army (Chicago command headquarters) whether the provisions of their prior message of May 25 (1959 orders to repair Butts Field) still applied," said Johnson.

"I took at face value 5th Army's assurance that the prior message applied.

"I fully understand that the Department of the Army has decided that this interpretation is wrong and that there was a violation. . . I am a soldier and I accept this decision.

"But. . . I am sure that such violation was unintentional. If a mistake was made, it was in error in interpretation of some very poorly written regulations."

Johnson said the record today proves the wisdom of changing the runway to the present site. And as for GAO criticism that the cost of troop labor had not been properly charged up to the project, Johnson said:

"The construction of this runway was an excellent training project for the engineer troops involved. It required and received superior planning, coordination supervision. . .

"In conclusion, I would simply like to say that I am not ashamed of anything I did with respect to Butts Field."

Peak Highway Travel on Wane As Summer Ends

Passenger travel up the Pikes Peak Highway is on the wane, according to Jack Sullivan, highway superintendent.

Sullivan said the daily totals are now running around 2,000 and fewer more than a 1,000 fewer than earlier in the month.

He said this always happens late in August, as summer visitors start heading for home so that children can start shcool right after Labor Day.

Even so, about 75,000 persons have gone thru the toll gate so far this month. The total for all of August last year was 77,137.

So far this year, Sullivan said, there have been 211,698 persons thru the toll gate.

The all-time high for any one year was 280,192 recorded in 1956. The total is usually close to a quarter of a million.

18-Month-Old Girl Dies in Denver Bathtub

DENVER (UPI)—An 18-month-old girl either was scalded to death or drowned in a bathtub in her home Wednesday. A 2½-year-old sister suffered a burned leg.

Jean Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Savage, of Denver, was dead when firemen arrived. She had been bathing with her two older sisters, Christine, 4, and Cynthia, 2½. Cynthia was taken to Denver General Hospital in fair condition with burns on her right leg.

Detective Byron Haze said the three girls were in the bathtub when their mother, Ruth, 21, went to an apartment downstairs for a short time. Mrs. Savage said she heard one of the girls calling, and raced upstairs to find the two elder girls out of the tub and the baby still in the water.

Police said the water from the tap was boiling hot, and that one of the three girls apparently had turned it on. Mrs. Savage was taken to Denver General Hospital and placed under sedation.

Amateur Duffers Seek Hole-in-One In PGA Tourney

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) —Amateur golfers all over the nation will be shooting for a magical hole-in-one next Monday and a chance to capture one of the prize tournaments sponsored by the Professional Golfers' Association.

It's the sixth annual Labor Day hole-in-one contest and presents the average club duffer with an opportunity to replace Arnold Palmer in the golfing headlines for at least a day. Some 120,000 golfers are expected to take part in the program on about 600 courses.

All clubs and courses served by PGA professionals are eligible, provided that they filed official entries in advance. Each member of an eligible club had the privilege of entering.

The national winner will receive a 30-inch silver trophy topped by the figure 1. Only three aces—an all-time low for this contest — were recorded last year and the national winner was Mark W. Anderson with a 187-yard hole-in-one on the fifth hole of the Hillcrest Country Club, Lubbock, Tex.

The quake was felt as far east as Lander, more than 200 miles northeast of Salt Lake City, in central Wyoming. The tremors spilled coffee at many breakfast tables, but no damage was reported.

The earth movements were strong throughout southwestern Wyoming, including Mountain View and Lone Tree, more than 100 miles away.

Warren Papke, manager of Radio Station KLUK in Evanston, said the station was flooded with calls by area residents wondering what had happened.

Papke said no damage was reported. But he added the tremors vibrated some doorbell chimes so they rang. Light fixtures hanging from long chains in the Evanston Post Office began swinging like pendulums.

Papke said the earthquake was first felt in Evanston at 6:34 a.m.

Guests at a motel were wakened and went to their doors.

The station also received calls about the quake from Kemmerer, Wyo., 50 miles north of Evanston.

Flight Engineers Get Support From Hoffa

HAMPSTEAD, N.H. (AP)—Ron Brown, president of the Flight Engineers International Association, said today his union has obtained financial support from the Teamsters Union in its continuing strike against Eastern Airlines.

Brown declined to confirm a Washington report that a loan of $100,000 had been made after a meeting with Teamsters President James Hoffa.

"We have gotten a loan from the Teamsters but I have no comment as to the amount," Brown said today.

He said he could not go into further details at this time.

The teamsers were ousted from the AFL-CIO in 1957 on corruption charges.

Eastern was struck by the flight engineers on June 23, capping a dispute over whether engineers or pilots would be given preference for the combined pilot-engineer job when jet crews are reduced from four to three men.

Penalty for Union Trouble Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A labor member of President Kennedy's Missiles Sites Labor Commission said here companies that have a history of union trouble should be denied contracts on key government defense projects.

The statement was made by R. J. Haggerty, president of the AFL-CIO Building Trades Department at a hearing of a commission on the cause of a recent strike at the big space and missile center at Huntsville, Ala.

Haggerty's attack was aimed indirectly at a subcontractor on a Huntsville construction project which hired two non-union workers instead of union electricians. This led to a strike of 150 union electricians.

The electricians set up picket lines which 1,100 other trade unionists refused to cross, halting work on $22 million worth of projects in connection with the U. S. moon probe project.

Vending Machine Future Sparkling, Businessman Says

By JESSE BOGUE

NEW YORK (UPI)—It has been nearly three quarters of a century since gum machines made an appearance on elevated platforms in New York and the vending industry as a whole still hasn't realized its full growth ability, an executive said today.

"Each day," said Irving Rill, president of American Univend," sees a new machine or marketing concept replace one only a few days older."

The elevated platforms where Thomas Adams, founder of a gum company, spotted his machines in 1888, have vanished from the down town areas of New York, but the idea remained and is a standard marketing concept with most gum manufacturers today.

Adams generally is credited with starting up practical vending in the United States, although the first U. S. patent for a vending machine was issued in 1884. Others followed rapidly.

From these small beginnings, Rill's company reported in a survey, the industry as a whole grew to the point where it reported more than $2 billion in sales in 1960. Tobacco in one form or another was about half of the figure, soft drinks a little less than a third, followed by candy, gum, cookies, crackers and coffee.

"Unlike some industries where you have to wait for the market to expand before you do likewise, we're catching up with our market," Rill said. "The demand is there. Our only problem is to supply it."

Workmen Were Really Thieves of Store Safe

NEWCASTLE - UPON - TYNE, England (UPI) — Two men dressed as workers walked into a supermarket here Monday, loaded a 225-pound safe onto a wheelbarrow and rolled it to a waiting truck outside.

They joked with shoppers about the safe being too heavy a load for a Monday morning.

Only later was it discovered the men weren't really workmen, but thieves. They escaped with $560.

Cuba in Worse Shape Than Ever, Reports Show

MIAMI (UPI)—The year which Premier Fidel Castro said would solve the problems of shortage-plagued Cuba ended this week with the country in worse shape than ever, it was reported today.

A foreign diplomat accredited to Havana said during a stopover here that Cuba is still suffering from acute shortages of food, clothing, shoes and medicines.

Conditions are so bad, the diplomat said, that:

Expectant mothers must stand in long lines to get cloth for diapers. It is an errand no one else can run for them, because clerks in dry-goods stores will sell diaper cloth only to pregnant women.

Sales of underwear are limited to two garments per person.

Owners of shoe stores fill their show windows with empty boxes for want of anything better to display.

The diplomat said Castro has failed to meet any of the target dates he set in a speech a year ago, when he said poultry would be plentiful by Feb. 1, 1962, and that shortages of potatoes and fish would be met by June, 1962.

Although it is customary for the Castro regime to blame its troubles on "imperialist aggression," supply boss Orlando Ravelo acknowledged last month that they actually are caused by "insufficient production and inexperience in solving problems."

Auto Workers Will Get Pay Increases

DETROIT (UPI) — About 500,000 auto workers will get pay raises of from 6 to 9 cents an hour next week under terms of present contracts.

A so-called annual improvement factor will give the members of the United Auto Workers union an increase of 2.5 per cent or six cents an hour, whichever is greater.

The workers, including those at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, will get the increase Sept. 3.

Mother of Nine Told Not to Gamble Again

SALFORD, England (UPI)—Mrs. Edith Windsor, 31, who is expecting her ninth child, was ordered by a court here not to patronize bookies, dog tracks or play bingo for two years.

Judge Richard Forest imposed the condition after finding Mrs. Windsor guilty of assault with intent to rob another woman.

According to testimony Mrs. Windsor tried to steal a woman's handbag after losing 30 shillings ($1.40) on the dogs.

Mrs. Windsor was put on probation for two years on the condition that she would not visit gambling spots.

Mrs. Windsor's lawyer, John Hugill, said "gambling has caused the ruin of her good character."

Moving of State Fair Proposed by Official

GREELEY (AP) — Clint Mayer, manager of the Greeley Chamber of Commerce, suggested today the Colorado State Fair should be moved closer to the center of the state's agriculture production.

The fair is held annually in Pueblo.

Mayer recommended in a statement it be relocated in the Longmont or Brighton area.

He said the 10-county area north of Denver and east of the mountains accounts for nearly 60 per cent of the state's farm production. Mayer said he based his figures on the 1959 agricultural census.

Of the state's total of $570 million in agricultural products, he said, the 10-county area of northeastern Colorado is responsible for $308.8 million.

Western Union Asks Discount Withdrawn

DENVER (UPI) — Western Union Telegraph Co. asked the Colorado Public Utilities Commission Monday to allow it to withdraw a special discount given some 750 major customers in Colorado.

The request Monday applied only to messages sent within the state.

The PUC earlier permitted Western Union to withdraw the discount for messages sent out of Colorado.

The special customers currently are getting a discount of 20 cents a message on each telegram after the first 50 sent within a one-month period.

Frankfurter Kept Court Stirred Up for 23 Years

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Not long ago, a lawyer gazed wistfully at the empty chair on the bench of the Supreme Court and remarked:

"What a dull day when Frankfurter isn't around. He stirs some of the other justices up."

Felix Frankfurter, 79, who kept the court stirred up for 23 years—from New Deal to the New Frontier—won't be around any more. The bright-eyed energetic justice who sometimes whistled "The Stars and Stripes Forever" in the tribunal's marble halls, has resigned because of failing health.

Many lawyers who quaked in their boots at the razor-tongued Frankfurter's bench-jockeying no doubt greeted the end of an era with relief.

To his admirers, his many sides were the facets of a brilliant diamond.

To others they were pieces of a jig-saw puzzle.

He was gay, waspish, scholarly and sometimes downright rude.

To those who met him socially, Frankfurter could be the life of the party, willing to discuss—and argue — any subject except Supreme Court business.

"He's a lot of fun at a cocktail party—the quintessence of bubbling energy," says a lawyer who views Frankfurter's court opinions with distaste.

Joseph A. Fanelli, a Washington lawyer who studied under Frankfurter at Harvard, has commented that Frankfurter's "greatest genius is for friendship. I'd cut off my arm for the justice."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who appointed him to the court, once said:

"Felix has more ideas per minute than any man in my acquaintance. He has a brilliant mind, but it clicks so fast it makes my head fairly spin. I find him tremendously interesting and stimulating."

Sometimes he may have been too stimulating to others at the court.

One day Frankfurter's impatience kept a California lawyer from launching his argument. Chief Justice Earl Warren squirmed in his seat and finally cut in sharply.

"This attorney has come a long way to present this case. I, for one, want to hear it. Go ahead, Mr. attorney."

Frankfurter subsided for a few minutes, then went back to the attack with more questions.

Frankfurter and his wife, who are very close, have no children. Mrs. Frankfurter, who for years has suffered with arthritis, is said to be the only person who can calm him down.

Born in Vienna, Frakfurter didn't know a word of English when he arrived in the United States at the age of 12. He quickly made up for lost time.

His last major opinion read from the bench was a dissent that ran about 22,400 words.

In an early opinion Frankfurter noted that he wished to say "one word more," then said about 10,000 words more.

Wide Differences Noted In Farm Property Taxes

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department offered some suggestions today to farmers anxious to get taxes reduced on their personal property.

It issued a report comparing the way the various states tax such property, noting the wide differences.

All 50 states levy taxes on farm real estate, but treatment of personal property differs greatly. For example, tractors are taxed in 34 states, but seven states exempt all farm machinery and tools. Sheep less than nine months old are exempt in Iowa, but in Vermont they become taxable at four months.

Seven states do not tax livestock; 17 grant partial exemptions through varying methods.

"Agriculture is an industry that requires relatively large amounts of personal and real property and is, therefore, vulnerable to the levying of property taxes," the department said.

"As far as tangible personal property used in agriculture is concerned, tax differences range from complete exemption in four states to complete inclusion on tax rolls in seven states. Between these extremes are states which exempt some, but not all, tangible farm property from taxation. Again there is considerable variation among the states as to exactly what is exempted and how the exemption is granted," the department said.

The report showed that Delaware, Hawaii and New York confine their property taxes to real estate. Pennsylvania taxes only real property, except for certain intangible personal property. Alaska permits taxation of real and personal property located within the corporate limits of a municipality, but farm property outside the limits is exempt.

At the other extreme, seven states do not exempt any of these following types of personal farm property; tools and machinery, livestock, poultry, growing crops, stored crops and seed, tractors and farm trucks and automobiles used in production. These states are Rhode Island, Illinois, Missouri, Virginia, Arkansas, Montana and Nevada.

States which exempt livestock include Connecticut, New York, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

The study showed also there is wide differences among the states as to the amounts levied on farm property. Many states tax at full market value, others at lower values.

Unsettled Condition Seen in Grain Trade iculture Department reported to-lay the nation's grain markets

A grain market review said
orn prices were generally un-

emand. Grain sorghum prices

House Proposes Elderly Housing Loan Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has voted to authorize a $10 million expansion in the federal direct loan program to provide new housing for the elderly.

The program, which has been given $80 million by Congress since 1959, encourages construction of new housing. The housing rents from $15 to $20 a month below projects financed either conventionally or with Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insurance.

Approval came on a 367 to 6 roll call vote. The authorization measure now goes to the Senate.

Eligible borrowers include private nonprofit corporations, consumer cooperatives and certain public agencies.

Under present law, loans may be made to rehabilitate, convert or improve existing buildings to make them suitable for housing for the elderly. The House changed this to limit the loans strictly to new housing.

Rep. Albert Rains, D-Ala., chairman of the House subcommittee on housing, said his group believed that housing under the program should be "specially and suitably planned for senior citizens."

He said the bill "will avoid any possibility that loans will be used for the conversion of existing housing into 'make-new' housing which does not adequately serve the needs of elderly persons."

Relative humidity usually is lower in the winter because cold air does not hold water as well as warm air.

Slurry Pipeline Said To Be Great Success

DENVER (UPI)— A chemical company executive said Tuesday a Utah-Colorado gilsonite slurry pipeline has proved pipeline transporting of solids is practical.

J. H. Henderson of Salt Lake City, manager of engineering and product development for the American Gilsonite Co., said the Bonanza, Utah-to-Grand Junction, Colo. line has been "eminently successful."

Henderson spoke to the 48th national meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"There exists a great potential for this means of transport, particularly where large tonnages are to be handled, or where other means of transportation are impractical or too costly," he said.

Gilsonite is mined at Bonanza and refined near Grand Junction. The 6-inch pipeline runs 72 miles through terrain that would otherwise require a 200-mile, all-weather highway.

The slurry is crushed gilsonite, a solid, natural hydrocarbon, in water.

Many More Items Too Numerous to Mention

'Dual Unionism' Found True in Hearing

DENVER (UPI)—The Communication Workers of America (CWA) announced this week 10 members of the union were found guilty of "dual unionism" in a union court last week.

The hearings, according to Fred L. Garrett, District 8 director of the union, were conducted at Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 24.

W. R. Martin, vice president of Local 8490, was expelled from the CWA as a result, Garrett said. Martin allegedly assisted in a "plot to swing the 17,000-member bargaining unit into the Teamsters Union," Garrett said.

The other nine were found guilty of promoting an independent union for installers and were suspended from membership for three years.

The local has headquarters in Denver, and represents 850 Western Electric Co. installers in the Mountain States area. The others were R. E. Sims, F. G. White, W. E. Boyd, P. R. Chaffin, H. M. Cook, D. G. Platt, C. E. Hathaway Jr., B. C. Senback and K. S. Mowry.

The word "hurricane," or "huracan," means "big wind" in the language of the Carib Indians of the West Indies.

Kennedy Fashions Defended by Briton

LONDON (AP)—A leading British columnist today defended Jacqueline Kennedy's frequent public appearances in a bathing suit.

"Since when has youth and grace and gaiety at the White House been improper?" asked the London Daily Mirror's Cassandra (William Connor), who rarely has a good word to say for the United States.

Cassandra took issue with Dr. Willis Ray, a Colorado Baptist leader, who contended that both the President and Mrs. Kennedy has "thrown dignity, decency and decorum out the window" because they went swimming in bathing suits.

Wilderness Oil Drilling Privilege Extension Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee voted here to extend mining, oil well drilling and prospecting privileges in a proposed 7-million acre wilderness system.

As approved by a subcommittee, a bill to set up the system would have allowed prospecting, oil well drilling and mining for 10 years. The period was changed to 25 years after several congressmen said that mining groups favored the extension.

The amendment was offered by Rep. J. Edgar Chenoweth, R-Colo., and supported by Reps. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., and William H. Harrison, R-Wyo.

The committee chairman, Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo., said a Senate wilderness bill would permit mining for an indefinite period if found compatible with wilderness preservation.

An amendment approved Tuesday would permit construction of roads for hauling timber through the wilderness system.

The committee is expected to vote on the bill later this week.

APIA —Samoana the Samoan newspaper, has announced that it is strictly impartial and has no political affiliations.

COLORFUL 'CLIPS'—Brightly colored fabric "clips" dress up this school jumper. Accompanying it is a blouse-slip, guaranteed to stay in place during even the most strenuous school days.

Girls' School Dresses Designed With Mom in Mind

Dresses for school wear cut with distinction are on the fashion agenda this fall.

Some are so planned that busy little girls can go on to piano lessons or dancing class in the same dress, if they choose. Others, in this fall's popular olive and gray shades, may see two days' wear at school.

Anticipating the busy life a school child leads from the time she catches the school bus till the dismissal bell, many cotton dresses are one piece for neatness, but two piece in effect.

Boleros are not separate, but are carefully stitched down. Jumper blouses are as likely to be attached as to be separate. Spotless white dickies look removable, but aren't.

Neatness is the first reason for keeping school clothes one piece. But secondarily is the indisputable fact, as mothers already know, that it's as easy to wash and iron the entire dress as to submerge the dickie separately.

Designers have gone all out to add bright trimming to dresses of solid color or subdued pattern. They've put colored borders on plaids, on irridescent solids, on plain dresses.

With the skillful use of rick rack, school dresses take on a sampler look. Or rick rack more sedately outlines a white vestee.

Embroidered panels may be found on either the front or the back of a shirtwaist dress.

Bright and block paids are superimposed on monotone plaids, and dashes of color are provided solid-color dresses by weaving wool through the cotton fabric and then cutting and fringing the ends.

The pleated cummerbund, in either matching or contrasting color, is an interesting substitute for the usual belt. Dresses for little girls, however, are as likely to have a fine, backtying bow.

Where in previus years, designers of little girls' dresses concentrated mainly on the basic rainbow colors, this year's crop has instituted all kinds of innovations. Lilac, shocking pink, chartreuse, and tangerine add distinction to even the most simply cut shirtmaker.

Start the fall with some of these cottons, add a sweater when days become crisper, and the schoolbound miss will fare brilliantly in her new wardrobe.

AID TO BURMA

RANGOON, Burma (AP)— Burma will receive $34 million from the U.S. Agency for International Development for agricultural machinery to open up 30,000 acres a year to rice production, the Burmese government announced today.

Zoning Official Will Not Listen to Steve

DENVER (UPI) — Even Gov. Steve McNichols doesn't carry enough weight with the Denver Zoning Department to get a little leeway on regulations.

The department turned down a request to allow an eight-foot chain link fence at the governor's mansion for privacy and protection.

Zoning administrator J. D. Arehart said the fence would have been four feet too high in front of the mansion and two feet too high elsewhere.

The governor asked for a meeting Sept. 11 with the city board of Adjustment Zoning, which can grant variances in case of need.

Capital Circus

By MICHAEL O'NEILL

Washington, — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's Hurry - up flight to tour key Caribbean command posts underlines the seriousness with which this country regards the sudden Russian military buildup in Cuba.

It is also another reminder that in our habitual preoccupation with crises in Europe, Asia and other far away lands, we often fail to heed the ominous rumble in our own backyard — thunder not only in Cuba, but throughout most of a deeply troubled hemisphere.

The somber fact is that Latin America is currently experiencing a massive new surge of unrest that is threatening the drive for economic and social progress and throwing major new roadblocks in the way of President Kennedy's hapless Alliance for Progress program.

Brazil, the biggest country in South America, is in a political shambles. Rival military factions are battling for control of Argentina. A military junta is supplanting civilian rule in Peru. Political crises are boiling in Ecuador, Bolivia, Guatemala and a half dozen other countries. And economic problems loom everywhere.

In the opinion of American experts, these developments are paying the Communists far bigger dividends than Fidel's fiefdom. Cuba, in fact, has become something of an asset even though the Russian arms and technicians represent a threat in strictly military terms. The reason is that it is now a spectacular example of Communist failure.

When Castro first clawed his way to power more than three years ago, he touched off a wave of Fidelismo that swept through the shirtless masses and intellectuals of Latin America. No one who toured the continent with former President Eisenhower in 1960 will ever forget the menacing chants of "Cuba SI, Yanqui No."

ECONOMY OF CASTROLAND FALLING TO PIECES

Now, however, the land of Castro is a colossal mess, which even Communist propaganda can't disguise. Despite large -scale Soviet bloc aid, the economy is near collapse. The sugar crop this year is a failure. Factories and businesses are in a deep slump. A flashy economic development plan has been junked. Food, shoes, spare auto parts and thousands of items are rationed or in short supply.

With Cuba's aid debts now running to more than $400 million, Russia is reported to be more than a little disenchanted with Fidel. But more important, the disillusionment has spread to Castro's once - enthusiastic followers in Latin America. Latin American governments, which had been fearful of siding with the U. S. on the Cuban issue, are now much bolder.

Despite this important plus, however, our problems in Latin America have been increasing to an alarming degree. One of the more obvious symptoms has been a major setback in several countries.

The fundamental reason for the phenomenon is that democratic institutions are notoriously weak throughout most of Latin America. Political parties, for a variety of reason's are simply not strong enough to rule well or compete with the military. Under great economic and social stress, there is a natural tendency to turn to the military.

MILITARY RULE SOMETIMES IS BETTER

This has not always been all bad. In many countries, the military officers have been the best-educated men, often better able to stave off Communist threats than disorganized political leaders, and sometimes the ones most dedicated to their country's needs.

Although it is not well known, it is also true that militarism has been declining in Latin America. Edwin M. Martin, the able new assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, recently estimated that the number of military dictatorships have dropped by 40 per cent in recent years. And the ones that have appeared have been more responsive to the democratic progresses.

In the military takeover in Argentina earlier this year, for example, the generals carefully hastened to restore at least a semblance of civilian rule. In Peru — partly as a result of U. S. pressure — the junta quickly promised new free elections and maintained most of the people's personal freedoms.

Whatever the pros and cons of military rule in some special situations, the whole concept runs counter to the announced democratic goals of the hemisphere and the long - range policy of the U. S.

As a result, the Kennedy Administration is attempting to discourage military coups, on the one hand, and to enlighten Latin military leaders, on the other. Thus, In Peru, the U. S. promptly suspended diplomatic relations and foreign aid when the junta took over.

PERU ACTION OF QUESTIONABLE VALUE

Some critics suggest that the Peru move was a failure, since the junta refused to retreat and we have had to resume relations (though not aid). Martin and other Administration leaders feel, however, that the tactic has been at least partly successful.

They believe that it encouraged the junta to maintain most civil liberties and to promise early elections to name a new civilian government. Also, they said the move was necessary to help knock down the widespread popular impression that the U.S. favors military dictatorships over progressive democratic governments.

The other Administration strategy, still largely unpublicized, is an attempt to get Latin military leaders to use their troops to carry out "civic action" programs, so that they become identified with, rather than against, social and economic progress. The theory is that this would give them something to do besides political plotting and lessen popular pressures for violent political solutions such as Communism.

The over - all - aim, of course, is to try to curb the present epidemic of political instability.

Although Cuba, luckily, has proved to be a flop so far as a Communist showcase, the rest of Latin America is hardly an example of democracy at its finest. It is in a mess and the potential danger for America is great.

Tax Deduction Bill Provisions Softened

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Wednesday to permit entertainment deductions on taxes for good will purposes so long as the spending is connected to the purpose of the business involved.

The 54 to 39 roll call kept in the tax recision bill a Senate Finance Committee amendment designed to soften the impact of House language aimed at broad good will entertainment deductions.

President Kennedy's original expense account proposals were figured to yield $250 million additional a year, the House bill $125 million, and the finance committee version $60 million.

The Senate bill preserves two features of the House version which the administration supports: A $25 limitation on business gifts and a requriement for detailed substantiation of the business purpose of a claimed entertainment deduction.

Field Operations Has Unique Mobile Office

Tourists with their mobile camping outfits could take a lesson from the operations and training section of the 5th Infantry Division at Ft. Carson.

Thru the efforts of M. Sgt. Dale Springer, the division tactical operations center in the field is housed in a compact, mobile office consisting of a custom van body mounted on a 2½ - ton truck chassis.

Available work space is increased by a 1½ ton trailer that accompanies the vehicle and a tent 33 feet wide by 24 feet long that folds down out of the top of the van.

The trailer contains a complete draftsman's reproduction room with fluorescent lighting. The interior of the van is a study in space utilization with shelves, map boards, hideaway tables and desks and a special rack which holds the radio up and out of the way.

Among Springer's exterior innovations is a telescoping antenna which sprouts from a section of pipe attached to the side of the van. The device shortens the time required for erecting the antenna — a job which usually takes two or three men two hours to complete.

The traveling office enables the division nerve center to shift from garrison to the field without interrupting its smooth operation.

By MARGUERITE MITCHELL

A Frenchwoman who visited in Colorado Springs this week has become so Americanized that she has adopted an Anglo - Saxon name and taught herself to "think in English."

She is Miss Georgie Leighton, 41, formerly of Nice and now a resident of Washington D. C where she lives with the American family who sponsored her trip to the U. S. a decade ago

She has never returned to her native country and has no intention of doing so; in fact, Miss Leighton says she is slowly forgetting the French language and speaks now with only a slight accent.

This self - appointed spinster is in love with the American West and intends to persue the romance as her goal is to live permanently in Colorado some day.

"There are some people who are meant to be married," she said, "but I am not one of them."

"I don't have very much, but what I have, I use as I see fit and that's what makes me happy," she went on candidly. "Civilization has put so many restrictions on people that I want to be free to go as I please and do as I please."

Miss Leighton goes as she pleases on a French road - racing bike, with a minimum of clothing packed in a small kit. When she planned her third trip west this past June, she discovered she had room left for either a skirt or a bathing suit. She chose the latter.

But she found the West relaxed in its restrictions on clothes and — always asking first — says she has been allowed in many places in shorts, including the Salt Lake City Tabernacle.

Besides her modicum of dress, Miss Leighton always travels without a watch.

"I start out at daybreak and enjoy every minute of the day," she said. "There's so much to see and you don't need a watch for this."

Miss Leighton first visited Colorado in 1959, returned in 1961, and this year has spent three months cycling—a typically European mode of travel and possibly the only concession to her former life in Europe.

She has her slim bike shipped to a bicycle shop in Denver and follows it by bus. Using Denver as her headquarters, she starts out and this summer has visited Yellowstone, the Black Hills, Taos and Montana.

Alcohol, Gas Again Proved Bad Mixture

Alcohol and gasoline again proved a dangerous mixture Wednesday afternoon when two cars collided headon in the northbound lanes of the Colorado Springs freeway near the Uintah Street interchange.

Released from the El Paso county jail on $300 bond shortly after the accident was Lota Earl Bundy, 68, of 709 E. Fontanero St. Police Officer John C. Donahoo reported that Bundy was driving his car south in the northbound traffic lanes and was obviously in a drunken condition. He was charged with driving while drunk.

The Bundy car struck the northbound vehicle of Opal Lee, 43, Denver. Miss Lee and two women passengers, Ruth Huebner, 30, Lakewood, and Bergit Thompson, 72, Grafton, N. D., were injured in the crash and were taken to Penrose Hospital by E and E Ambulance.

Miss Lee, suffered head injuries and cuts and was admittd to the hospital. Mrs. Thompson incurred a cut on the right shoulder, arms, back and fingers. She was also admitted to the hospital. Both were reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

Miss Huebner suffered lacerations and abrasions. She was treated at the hospital and released.

Donahoo said the Bundy car traveling south in the northbound traffic lanes, narrowly missed another vehicle before striking the Lee vehicle. Bundy, according to Donahoo, said he did not know how he got on the freeway and did not think he was in the wrong.

Authorities said that an alcometer test on Bundy read 2.5. A reading of 1.5 is considered evidence of drunkenness.

Both cars, one a 1951 model, the other a late model compact, were considered a total loss, police said.

Air Cadet Wing Dress Rehearsal Set in Stadium

The entire 2,500 Air Force Academy Cadet Wing will get its first look at $3½ million, 40,000 seat Falcon Stadium Sept. 15 — but they'll have to work for it.

Members of the wing will run thru a full scale dress rehearsal of their appearance at the Academy's first real home football game a week before the big event.

Because of the tight schedule for the Sept. 22 Colorado Day game, timing must be "just right." The wing is expected to complete the march-on and take their seats in about 15 minutes.

In addition to appearing at the opening game in Falcon Stadium, the Cadet Wing will march in regular Saturday morning parades five times during the fall semester.

The public may watch parades on Sept. 8 and 29, Oct. 13 and 27, and Dec. 1 — final parade of the semester.

A special parade is scheduled for Sept. 22 at 10:30 a.m.

Inflation Self-Inflicted, Economics Prof. States

By RAY GUNTER

Altho inflation is a terrible disease, "it is one with which we deliberately infect ourselves," Prof. Oscar W. Cooley told Colorado Springs businessmen Wednesday at a luncheon at the Garden of the Gods Club sponsored by the Gazette Telegraph. Publisher Harry Hoiles was host.

Cooley, an economics professor at Northern Ohio University, Ada, Ohio, and associate instructor at the Freedom School, labeled inflation "invisible taxation."

"Severe as are the visible taxes, which take from us one-third of our total income yearly," he said, "they are as nothing compared to our invisible taxes, which sap the wealth from our pockets and our bank accounts day and night."

However, he said, this "is not something which afflicts us because we cannot help ourselves. On the contrary, it is a deliberately chosen policy — chosen and implemented by the people at Washington who, presumably, represent us."

Cooley said the only way to halt this inflation would be to take the money-creating function out of the hands of Congress and return it to the private bankers of the country.

If this were done "the responsibility for the soundness of our money would be in the hands, not of politicians, who are always under the itch to spend, but of bankers and the customers of banks."

Cooley said that if inflation is to be eradicated, people must understand the basic facts about banking.

The chief symptom of inflation is a drop in the purchasing power of each unit of money, he said. "The purchasing power of the dollar depends basically upon the number of dollars that are floating about available for people to purchase with.

"If there are few dollars, people treasure them, are slow to part with each one, and therefore are willing to give up only a little money for a lot of goods. Prices are low, we say.

"If there are many dollars bulging everybody's pocket, people are careless of dollars, thinking of them as a 'dime-a-dozen' and are ready and willing to part with many of them for each unit of goods. Prices are high."

Cooley said that when all money was made of silver and gold, which by nature are relatively

How to Keep Well

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

(© 1962: By the Chicago Tribune)

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

LEARN TO SAY "NO"

No one looks forward to a heart attack but the emergency is not always as bad as we have been led to believe. Most victims survive and the majority do not become invalids. They return to their former occupations. For many, the warning leads to a new and more desirable existence.

Someone asked a 90 year old to what he attributed his longevity. He gave credit to his ability to say "no." He told of having had a breakdown at age 40 that required a change in his philosophy of life. His first promise to himself was to say "no" whenever he did not want to do something. The plan paid dividends because his days became less bothersome and more enjoyable and relaxing.

Victims of coronary thrombosis have the same opportunity. There is no better excuse than "I've had a heart attack" for not assuming additional duties, becoming a member of this or that committee, or giving a talk before some stuffy organization. It is an acceptable reason for going home from parties at an early hour or walking out of a dull meeting. No one is offended and the individual saves himself considerable wear and tear.

But there is no reason why members of the coronary club must go beyond this. Statistics show that those who continue to work live longer than those resigned to the rocking chair. Do something, so long as it does not bring on shortness of breath, coughing, or chest pain.

It is natural at first to become apprehensive about exertion. At the end of six weeks after the attack the involved area in the wall of the heart has healed. There is no need to resort to a state of invalidism after three months has elapsed.

Hindsight always is better than foresight but it is a pity more of us do not enjoy ourselves and learn to say "no" before rather than after a heart attack.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Recurrent Cold Sores

C. P. writes: I have repeated cold sores above my upper lip. Some say they are due to a virus; others, to a vitamin lack or to an upset stomach. Are any of these possibilities likely?

Reply

Yes. Cold sores are viral infections that often follow colds and indigestion. We do not know why some people are bothered more than others with these lesions. Immunity plays a role.

Vaccination Is Safe

W. P. R. writes: I'm 70 years old and planning to go abroad on a trip. I hear I have to be vaccinated. Is this dangerous at my age?

Reply

No—but it would be dangerous not to, especially if you go to England. A reaction to a "take" may be followed by a slight fever and swollen arm but this is unusual and everyone recovers.

Hardened Retinal Arteries

H. W. writes: Does hardening of the arteries of the eyes always lead to blindness?

Reply

No. We frequently see marked evidence of arteriosclerosis of the retinal vessels in persons with good vision and in top health. There are more common causes of blindness in oldsters.

Poison Ivy

T. R. writes: How soon after contact with poison ivy does discomfort occur?

Reply

Usually within a few hours although redness, itching, and swelling may not arise for several days. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on poison ivy and what to do for it.

Belgium Gives Support To Congo Peace Plan

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium pledged support today for the Congo peace plan proposed by U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant to end Katanga's secession.

The plan calls for adoption of a new federal constitution that would unify the young African republic and leave President Moise Tshombe's rebellious Katanga Province a degree of autonomy.

Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula has endorsed the U.N. plan.

Two chief features of the plan provide for Katanga sharing revenues from its vast mining industry on a 50-50 basis with Leopoldville and integration of Katanga's military forces with the Congolese national army.

FEEL LIKE BLOWING YOUR TOP? — Everybody does now and then. But the people in Jimmy Hatlo's "They'll Do It Every Time" do it every day. And with good reason. They've been put into Hatlo's hilarious portrayals of the frustrations of everyday life and the foibles of everyday people. Substantial Youth Shown in New TV Feature

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In a television season which, although it hasn't even started, it marked by a paucity of new, fresh ideas, one hour-long show seems to be a standout "It's A Man's World."

The word is that maybe the public will like it and maybe it won't, but at least it will react to this NBC series about four young men living on a houseboat in a Mid west college town.

Lest one jumps to the conclusion this is a new switch on old private-eye "Surfside Six," cast an eye on creator Peter Tewksbury's ambitious description of his latest "permanent character anthology" (a television-ese term invented to cover everything from "Ben Casey" to "Sam Benedict").

"We're trying to get something that falls among J. D. Salinger, Thornton Wilder and Maxwell Anderson," said the youthful-looking producer, "and to give it an 'Our Town' feeling—maybe it's even avant grade but we hope nobody in the audience knows it."

Tewksbury was director of those durable "Father Knows Best" shows, and moved along to create, produce and direct, "My Three Sons." You may never have seen his face, but those high-laced sneakers of the Fred MacMurray show billboard are his trademark. More important is his trademark in creating young people—in television—who act like human beings, not clowns.

"We don't develop them as idiotic or comic teen-agers or go in for the youthful nut-stuff. We try to say that youth as substance."

The reason the four boys, ranging in age from 14 to 22, live on a houseboat, Tewksbury said, is to "get them away from authoritarian figures like parents."

The series had its genesis on the back lot of the big Revue Studios. Tewksbury had been signed for a series and went out to see what kind of backgrounds were available. He found one he liked: a small town set, with a tree-shaded square, a court-house plus a nearby lake.

Then he set off on a cross-country bus ride during which he looked over the Middle West countryside and talked to "people who ride buses." He found, in Marietta, Ohio, the pretty little college town he wanted to make home-base for his quartet. Exteriors have been shot there, particularly at Marietta College.

Tewksbury, aiming his show directly at young people, thinks that perhaps the attention of the older crowd may be caught by the show too and that it may help them understand the younger generation.

CBS has hired Robert Earle for Allen Ludden's old "College Bowl" moderating chores, starting Sept. 23. He has been teaching in Ithaca College and has had some experience in local commercial and educational television.

Jack Clark, who filled in for Ludden during his recent holiday from "Password," looked as if he had studied the Ludden technique long and hard—he imitated it perfectly even to his arms-akimbo manner of passing out the words to players.

Republican Conspiracy Is Claimed in Lisbon

LISBON (AP) — Lisbon police announced Wednesday night the arrest of a "number of Communists" who allegedly planned to destroy national institutions and proclaim a popular republic in Portugal.

Police sources said those arrested also planned to give independence to Portuguese overseas territories.

Claim for Lost Property Vetoed By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy this week vetoed a private bill to allow the Trousil family of Boulder, Colo., to file a claim for property which was nationalized in Czechoslovakia.

The bill would have waived the statute of limitations for the Trousils on a program to compensate U. S. citizens for loss of property taken over by the Czech government following World War II.

The law said claims had to be filed with the Foreign Claims Settlement commission by Sept. 15, 1959. But the Trousils —Barbara W., and her twin sons, Edward G., and Robert E. — did not file until August, 1960.

The Trousils claimed the manager of the property in Czechoslovakia did not tell them their holdings had been nationalized in 1953. It was not until they made a trip there in 1960 that they discovered the truth, they said.

But Kennedy said "it seems to me" the Trousils would have filed a precautionary claim to protect their investment, and would have checked on their property earlier, especially since the Czech manager told them earnings from the property could not be taken out of the country.

The President said he also rejected the claim because there is only $9 million available to pay $80 million in awards, meaning each claimant will be fortunate to realize 10 cents on the dollar. He said if the Trousil claims was accepted, it would reduce the amount of each award and delay payment to those who filed claims on time.

The money to be used to pay the awards was obtained from sale of Czech holdings in this country.

Rep. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., promptly charged Kennedy "sacrificed people for expediency."

The bill was introduced in the house by Dominick and in the Senate by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo.

The Czechoslovakian Communist government nationalized the estate of Mrs. Trousil's husband, Bohumil, who died in 1948. The Trousils said this was done with the collusion of a guardian who was entrusted the estate because the mother was in the United States and the sons in boarding school in Czechoslovakia.

"The reason given for the veto supposedly was that approval of my bill would serve as a precedent for similar action on behalf of other claimants," Dominick said.

"This factor was considered when the bill was before the committees in both houses of Congress and a determination was made that the circumstances surrounding the fraudulent concealment of facts by the government of Czechoslovakia and the court-appointed guardian fully justified waiving the deadline and allowing the Trousils to file their claim and have it considered on its merits.

"The veto of this bill is a further injustice against the Trousils and is another example of the unfair policy of this Administration, which sacrificed people for expediency."

Weather Forecast Satellite to Be Operated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau is considering an early start on regular operation of a satellite weather forecast system, using operational models of the present Tiros experimental satellite.

Dr. S. Fred Singer, director of the National Weather Satellite Center, described the proposal today to a House subcommittee.

The subcommittee heard testimony Tuesday that the Nimbus satellite, intended to be the regular weather forecasting system, is running six months to a year behind schedule.

Singer said he expects to present the new Tiros proposal to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the military, and other agencies concerned within a few weeks.

As for the delays in perfecting Nimbus, Singer defended NASA and the contractors working on the later-model weather satellite.

The delays are reported to result from technical difficulties, mainly with the control system to keep the satellite's instruments aimed always at the earth, but also with the power supply and some of the television equipment.

Red China Pledges Support to Castro

TOKYO (UPI)— Radio Peiping accused the United States today of "armed prorvorcation against Cuba" and assured Premier Fidel Castro he can count on Red China's "resolute support."

Broadcasts quoting Communist organs published in Red China echoed the Castroite charge that the United States was to blame for Friday night's Cuban-refugee attack on Havana.

New U.S. Ambassador Will Tangle With Nikita

FOY D. KOHLER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One day late in September a small and wiry diplomat named Foy D. Kohler will take up the delicate job of being this country's ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will not be on hand at the airport to greet Kohler, but the two men soon will know each other well, because this 54-year-old career State Department officer must serve as the main information link between the high command in Washington and its counterpart in Moscow.

It is no job for a cookie pusher or for a courtly gentleman of the old diplomatic school. It is an assignment for rugged experts such as George Kennan, Charles A. (Chip) Bohlen, Llewellyn Thompson, and it will test the mettle of Ohio-born Foy David Kohler.

He goes to Moscow "with a complete knowledge of government policy," President Kennedy has said, as well as with "my complete confidence." Both are vital qualifications.

Probably Kohler's first business in Moscow will be to discuss Berlin with Khrushchev. It is no coincidence that Kohler knows this subject well.

Throughout the last several years, since Khrushchev flared Berlin into a crisis, Kohler has been deeply involved in U.S. strategy. Although his formal title has been assistant secretary of state for European affairs, he has spent much time directing a special task force that has formulated U.S. policy on Berlin.

Thus under both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations he has had access to the innermost secrets of cold war diplomacy. Now he has reached the climax of a diplomat's career despite a setback 10 years ago that could have cut it short.

On Saturday, Dec. 6, 1952, Kohler and his wife were involved in an automobile accident when the car she was driving hit a telephone pole on Old Dominion Drive in the Virginia suburb of Arlington. They were returning home from a late party.

Kohler was arrested by Arlington police and charged with public drunkenness. He forfeited $8.75 collateral.

But there was something else: He was carrying in the car some State Department documents classified "secret," dealing with political situations in the Near East. Kohler told the police the papers should not be left unguarded, and called the State Department to have someone go to the car and pick them up.

To have the papers with him was a violation of State Department security rules. The department immediately suspended him for a month without pay and afterwards shipped him off, to be counselor in the U.S. Embassy at Ankara, Turkey.

At that time he was a senior Foreign Service officer with 21 years of experience. Seven years later he was back in Washington in the State Department's high command. His title: Acting Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs. On Dec. 11, 1959, President Eisenhower appointed him assistant secretary of state.

The Arlington incident was recalled on Aug. 15 when Kohler appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for his confirmation hearings as an ambassadorial appointee.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the committee, told Kohler that "I have a letter from Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.) . . asking me to comment on an editorial referring to an incident that occurred that you are thoroughly familiar with. I feel it is my duty to ask you to comment on it, as to the significance of it."

Kohler replied: "It is a matter that is on the record, Mr. Chairman. It was well publicized at the time. It was an unfortunate and regrettable incident for which I accept full responsibility. I appeared before the Board of Foreign Service and was appropriately disciplined for violating the rules of proper behavior and carrying classified documents with me.

"The (State) Department was good enough to point out in its statement at that time that no such incident had occurred before, and I believe the record of the past 10 years shows that I don't make such mistakes a second time."

The committee quickly gave Kohler its approval. One Republican member, George Aiken of Vermont, commented that "Mr. Kohler's record of 31 years is available to this committee, and I don't know why we should take up time asking questions."

On Aug. 17 the Senate confirmed him by voice vote.

The record Aiken referred to began Dec. 17, 1931, when Kohler entered the Foreign Service after graduating from Ohio State. (He was born in Oakwood, Ohio, Feb. 15, 1908, the son of a state hospital employe).

He was sent first to Windsor, Ontario, where he stamped visas. From there he went to Bucharest, Belgrade, Athens and Cairo and became in the process an expert on Eastern European and Near Eastern affairs.

In January, 1947, he went to Moscow for the first time as counselor of embassy, and stayed there — rising to the rank of minister — until 1948. It was during this time that Stalin clamped down the Berlin blockade, the beginnings of Kohler's now-intimate acquaintance with the problem of Berlin versus the Russians.

While there he also learned Russian. He's a bit rusty at it now, he has said, but is practicing up before leaving for Moscow. (He told the foreign relations committee that his wife, North Carolina-born Pam, speaks it better than he does).

From 1948 on, Kohler has been at the State Department, mostly as assistant secretary for European affairs.

He took time out from Berlin problems to accompany Vice President Richard M. Nixon to Moscow, and he did much of the spadework in preparing for Khrushcehv's visit to the United States in 1959.

Animated and brisk, he often can be seen racing through the bleak State Department corridors, carrying himself with a slight stoop that makes him seem even smaller than his 5 feet, 8 inches and 150 pounds.

Governor Orders Hospital Arguments

DENVER (UPI)— Gov. Steve McNichols has ordered University of Colorado officials to begin preparing arguments favoring a $3.5 million Shrine Burn Hospital for the university's Medical Center in Denver.

McNichols said the list of reasons for the Denver location should be ready to submit to Shrine officials next month.

Potentate of the El Jebel Shrine Stephen Russell told McNichols and CU President Quigg Newton, Harvard and Johns Hopkins Universities had offered land for the hospital. Russell said the hospital should b eclose to research areas, such as universities, because of pecialized training needed for doctors and nurses.

The burn treatment hospital would be exclusively for children, and is one of three planned for the country. Shrine officials expect to spend about $1.5 million annually for maintenance of the first center.

The number of schools applying for the hospital was expected to be narrowed to five or six after the September meeting.

Bell Ringers Organized By Republican Women

Following the slogan "Ring Every Door Bell in Colorado for Peter H. Dominick for the U. S Senate," some 27 local women have been recruited for Republican "Bell Ringers" by Mrs. John C. Hays and Mrs. Joel A. H. Webb. These co - chairmen of "Bell Ringers" were named this week by G. Winston Whitney, El Paso County campaign chairman for the Republican senatorial nominee.

Door - to - door calling for Republican votes will begin after school starts, Mrs. Hays said. A partial list of volunteers includes Mrs. Steve Knowlton, Mrs. Russell Tutt, Mrs. Thomas Bloom, Mrs Leon Wilmot, Mrs. Milo Yalich, Mrs. Wesley Bradley, Mrs. K. G. Freyschlag, Mrs. James Ross, Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. Harry McWilliams, Mrs. Ralph Ruder, Mrs. Milo Moore, Mrs. C. L. Feldt and Mrs. Lon Robinson.

Others are Mrs. Karl Eitel, Mrs. Jean Campbell, Mrs. David Pfaelzer, Mrs. Robert Donner, Jr., Mrs. Robert Heinlein, Mrs. Frederick C. Hoebel, Mrs. Marshall Cross, Mrs. Carlisle Guy, Miss Gail Hopper, Mrs. C. M. Judd, Mrs. Winston Whitney, Mrs. Beno Walker and Mrs Jack McColl.

Mr. Dominick, and Englewood attorney who represents Arapahoe County in Congress, was a member of the state legislature four years. He was voted "Best Freshman Legislator" in 1957 and "Most Effective House Republican" in 1959.

A veteran of World War II, Congressman Dominick is 47, married and has four children. He is an Episcopalian. This is his first race for the U.S. Senate. The "Bell Ringer" plan was used in his successful campaign for Congress in 1960 in Arapahoe County.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is a tip someone gave me years ago: I have a separate pressing board. If people will cover this with a piece of chintz, there is never any lint on dark clothes!

This kind of cover is especially good for dark cottons, navy and black, that one might wish to press on the wrong side.

I have also found that chintz outlasts any other ironing board cover that I have every used! One could use a pretty printed piece of chintz to match her kitchen decor.

I find that small pieces of chintz can be found among remnants and are large enough for this purpose. Quite a savings.

Mrs. J. W.

Dear Heloise:

When defrosting a refrigerator, put several thicknesses of newspapers on the top shelf and set the drip pan on them.

By doing this, the ice and water will be absorbed by the paper and kept off the rest of the contents in the refrigerator. Makes the clean - up job much quicker and less work.

Mrs. S. A. Harmon

Dear Heloise:

Many people want to know how to eliminate scratches on wax finishes. I rub mine with turpentine and a soft cloth and then apply fresh wax.

For scratches on varnished furniture, or a white spot caused by hot or damp dishes I apply spirits of camphor with a soft flannel cloth and after a few moments apply fresh wax.

For lipstick stains in napkins I use undiluted luquid hair shampoo! I just rub this in the spot and let it sit about 20 minutes and wash as usual. . . (When using shampoo, be sure not to use any with a built - in color! You might have a bigger mess than you started with. - Heloise)

Mrs. James Waugh

Dear HEloise:

Do you have a recipe for sugar - starch for crocheted items?

H. T. T.

SUGAR STARCH

Put $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of water and a scant $\frac{3}{4}$ cup of sugar in a small pan. Put pan over low heat and stir until the solution is clear and not sugary anymore, but be sure that it does NOT come to a boil. In fact, it should never come near the boiling point.

Dip the crocheted piece in warm water first and then roll in a bath towel to remove as much of the water as possible.

Dip crocheted piece in sugar-starch and stretch to desired shape. Pat with cloth to remove excess moisture and let dry thoroughly.

Dear HEloise:

I would like to tell you what I did to a glass shower - door that was unsightly. I first cleaned it with a soap pad and rinsed it well with vinegar and then clear water.

When the door was dry, I painted the inside of it with fish acquarium paint. I found this in the pet department of the dime store. It comes in colors and costs about 25 cents a bottle. It only took two bottles to paint one door.

This gave my door a frosted appearance, like the frost on a window pane, and one could make fancy designs if she chose.

Ruthanne Shuck

Other people have written that they have used this same paint on jalousies and high bathroom windows, too. It lends privacy. A terrific idea!

Watch Your Mannerisms

The simplest way to find out exactly what your own irritating mannerisms are is to watch other women. When you meet one who pokes a finger at you to emphasize a point, don't just think of how annoying she is.

Ask yourself if you do it, too. When you're in the room with a girl who talks incessantly, consider how often you may have been just such an offender.

I attended a party recently at which one guest interrupted whenever someone else attempted to speak. It was annoying, and I was embarrassed for her. Yet she made me realize that on occasion I had done the same thing, particularly when I couldn't contain an enthusiastic comment.

Big Fashion

The classic V neck sweater is big fashion for fall. Copied from that tennis sweater worn by men, it's done in navy with white trim or white with red and blue trim. And usually, it's worn over a white skirt.

Enjoy Nectarines While They Are in Season

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Nectarines from California won't be in the market much longer. Therefore, enjoy them while they last, in molded salads and desserts, in fruit cups and of course to eat out-of-hand.

Try this salad for the stay-at-home Labor Day porch or patio party. Simply slice fresh nectarines and avocado and combine with shredded salad greens for tossing in a delightful dressing of sour cream, chopped eggs and seasonings. Serve with your favorite sandwiches.

Summer Salad Delight
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

2 to 3 large fresh nectarines
1 large avocado
1 quart crisp salad greens
Sour Cream-Vinaigrette Dressing

Slice nectarines. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin and slice fruit. Combine nectarines, avocado and greens in a large bowl. Toss gently with Sour Cream-Vinaigrete dressing.

Sour Cream Vinaigrette Dressing

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon capers (optional)
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
2 chopped hard-cooked eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar

Mix all ingredients thoroughly.

Grip Tip

Screws will have a firmer hold in the wood if you dip them in paint or glue, before you use them.

Use Enough Make-Up

Don't make the mistake of applying make - up too sparingly in an attempt to achieve a natural - looking effect. The "natural look" often requires more make - up to cover every blemish and to blend the color to an even tone.

Ups, Downs in Marriage Must Always Be Expected

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A marriage counselor claims that the reason why so many American marriages end in divorce is because so many couples believe that anytime they aren't happy together, their marriage isn't worth preserving.

He's right, of course. An awful lot of young couples do marry with the idea that marriage will bring them everlasting happiness.

That's a foolish attitude, even in the very young. For how can a marriage always be happy when the happiness of a marriage means the happiness of two persons? No human being is happy all the time. And no marriage is always happy, either.

Marriages have their ups and downs, just as individuals have theirs. There are good days and bad days, good years and disappointing years, triumphs and tragedies even in the best of marriages.

So long as a marriage does bring happiness to the marriage partners some of the time, it is worth preserving. And if the couple will only remember that and is willing to take the bad with the good, the disappointments with the enrichment, the responsibilties with rewards, the marriage will be preserved.

Some marriages, of course, are mistakes from the start and never bring anything but misery to a pair completely wrong for each other.

But most marriages begin happily and shouldn't end in divorce simply because they have less-than-happy periods. Together or apart or with new partners, no two persons are going to be happy all the time.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Take Him to a Doctor

DEAR ABBY: My husband has started something new lately. He calls me every hour to see if I am home. If I happen to be out (only to the grocery store or to do some household errands) he starts calling all my neighbors to find out when they last saw me. I have four children who keep me very busy and I have no time for any monkey business. I have never given my husband any reason to doubt me. His constant questioning of the neighbors as to my whereabouts has made me look like a woman who can't be trusted and who neglects her children. I am 38 and he is 55. Could his age have something to do with it? --CHECKED ON

DEAR CHECKED: Possibly. Men, as well as women, experience glandular and chemical changes between 50 and 60. Your doctor can tell you whether it's his age or not.

DEAR ABBY: A church-going woman asked me if I would bake a dozen cherry pies for our Ladies' Aid Bake Sale. I am famous for my cherry pies and everybody who has ever eaten one goes crazy over it. I told her I would do it if they were sold for no less than 75 cents each as each pie serves eight and is a real treat. She promised and I made the pies.

I later found out that "she" didn't even put my pies out for sale. She took them home and put them all in "her own freezer". Then she put $2.00 in the register. What would you do about it? She was chairman of the Bake Sale. --BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: This was a lot of crust! Tell her she owes the bake sale seven dollars.

DEAR ABBY: I didn't marry my wife to sit in the front seat with another man while she sits in the back seat and yaks with her girl friend. Whenever we go for a drive with another couple, I'm stuck with the other man in the front seat while my wife and the other lady sit together in the back. I don't have anything to talk to the man about, but what am I supposed to do? --STUCK IN FRONT

DEAR STUCK: Tell your wife you prefer her company to the husbands of her friends. She should chat with her lady friends in the afternoons.

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager, and this little question helped me a lot. Maybe it will help others: "If someone gave you a dime for every kind word you said about someone, and collected a nickel for every unkind word, would you be rich or poor?" --AN ABBY FAN

Remove All Excess Lipstick

Lipstick is one cosmetic that should be most carefully applied. Never glide it on and run out the door. It should always be allowed to set about 20 minutes, then blotted.

If the excess isn't removed with a tissue, it can easily smear and give your lipline a ragged appearance or, even more unsightly, rub off onto your teeth.

There's nothing attractive about drinking glasses or linen napkins smeared with lipstick. And no friend cares to be greeted with a red lip print on the cheek.

All this can be avoided by taking the proper care at home when you apply your lipstick. It will last longer and stay on your own lips if you have the patience to let it set, then blot it.

Fall White

There will be lots of white around for fall and winter, strange as it may sound. But it isn't the true white of summer; it's off - white, a slightly creamy shade.

Luncheon For the Girls

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Seafood Salad Plate with Trimmings
Melba Toast
Jellied Cantaloupe Beverage

Jellied Cantaloupe

1 package (3 ounces) pineapple flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup dry white wine
1 tablespoon lime juice
1 medium cantaloupe

In an 8- or 9-inch aluminum cake pan stir together the pineapple gelatin and boiling water until gelatin dissolves. Stir in wine and lime juice. Place pan in ice-cube compartment, stirring several times, until slightly thickened—this will probably take only 15 or 20 minutes so watch. Meanwhile, halve cantaloupe and remove seeds; using a round-bowl ¼ teaspoon measure, cut out balls—there should be 1½ cups. Fold cantaloupe balls into slightly thickened gelatin; turn into a 3½ or 4-cup mold; cover and chill until set. Unmold.

Opening lead: Three of ♠

Although a contract may be ironclad in the sense that there is no possible defense to defeat it, nevertheless declarer may be required to exercise considerable care in mapping his plan of campaign. South's caution in today's hand paid him a handsome reward in the form of a vulnerable slam.

West opened the three of spades against the final contract of six hearts. The nine was played from the dummy forcing out East's king, and declarer won the trick with the ace. It appeared that, barring a very bad break in clubs, only one trick need be conceded, and that in the spade suit. However, South devised a line of play that would assure success regardless of how clubs were divided.

First he drew the trumps in two rounds. Then he played ace, king and another diamond ruffing the third round in his hand. A small club was led to the dummy's ace as both opponents followed, and now the jack of spades was played.

Regardless of who won the spade trick the defense would be compelled to make a return helpful to declarer. If the defender winning this trick were out of clubs, his forced play of a diamond or a spade would present South with a ruff and sluff. If that defender returned a club and his partner followed, then the suit must break. There is another variation in which the player with the queen of spades has all the missing clubs. If this were East, he would lead back the jack of clubs. South could duck the return to dummy's queen and finesse the suit on the way back.

When it developed that West won the spade trick and led back the jack of clubs, declarer played low from the dummy and won with the king of clubs in his hand. It was routine when East showed out of the suit to lead a small club and take a finesse against West's ten.

WAC Officer to Be Guest At Farewell Cocktail Party

Maj. Margot Harris will say farewell to the U. S. Army and Ft. Carson at a 6 p.m. cocktail party hostesses by her sister WAC officers on Saturday at the Carson Officers Club.

Her final assignment was with the Carson personnel section.

Carson's senior Women's Army Corps officer has spent an eventful 20 years in uniform including more sea duty than many U. S. Navy personnel.

She went to sea soon after World War II as assistant to a troop transport commander. Arbitrating between dependent wives of many nationalities so soon after the close of hostilities was a challenging sideline but there was so little time between sailings that she still has to see Europe.

She has traveled widely in the Orient, however, and is looking forward to a home somewhere in the southwest where she can finally display the results of her shopping trips. She enlisted from Newtonville, Mass.

Highlights of her Army career are many. After several years in Adjutant General administrative work she decided she needed some formal education. But her assignment was to the faculty of the The Adjutant General School for two years in the non-resident training branch.

She was in charge of permanently-assigned enlisted WAC's at the WAC Center, Fort Lee, Va., when it was moved to Ft. McClellan, Ala. As last to leave Lee, her arrival in Alabama officially completed the move.

Her favorite assignment was at Ft. Hauchuca, Ariz., where she was secretary to the general staff at the Army's electronic proving grounds.

She came to Carson in 1960 from Korea where she was adviser to the Korean Women's Army Corps. There she learned to speak some Korean altho most of the officers spoke English.

She has received three awards of the Army Commendation Medal, the first for her work at Camp Shanks, N. Y., where she was one of the first women so honored.

Change Make-Up

If you feel that your appearance isn't quite right when you step out in your late summer clothes, it could be that the make-up colors you're wearing are a carryover from winter and spring fashions.

To create the best possible over-all look with the season's colors, change your make-up shades and nail coloring occordingly. Use sun pastels—pinks, corals, peach—and as summer advances, wear slightly deeper foundation and powder.

You'll find that this color change will make a big difference in the way you look in your summer wardrobe.

and landed in Montana," she said. This trip was unplanned as are all of her tours of the west.

The "magnificient old houses where people are still living" in Helena and Butte thrilled her, she said, as have the melodramas in Glenwood Springs, Virginia City and Cheyenne.

She fell in love with Aspen — "Where else can you walk down a street and hear beautiful music coming out of every window and door?" — Telluride was "so exciting" — and the San Louis Valley was "unbelievably beautiful."

In Yellowstone, Miss Leighton almost shared a tree with a bear during a heavy rain. She explained that she always carries a cover to protect her bike and when a storm hit the national park, she dashed for tree cover to attend to this matter.

A huge bear had the same idea; Miss Leighton, who is five feet, two inches tall, said she wasn't frightened but she didn't linger long to argue about rights.

After she cycled over Rabbit Ear's Pass, she said she overheard several people who had preceded her ask "Where are the rabbit ears?"

"If people would only open their eyes," she commented sadly. She says she is not going to be one of "those people" who lamments about missing things because she usually "makes darn sure" she doesn't.

Before Miss Leighton heads westward, she visits Washington's libraries and studies up on the regions she expects to cover.

But taking a slap at the nation's capital, she said she found more information about obscure nation's in Africa and other foreign countries more available than material about the U. S. A.

She has solved this problem by picking up guides on the states at each town she visits and paying calls on the chambers of commerce. She also buys postcards and collects booklets from museums as she further limits her traveling gear by not carrying a camera.

Tuesday Miss Leighton walked up Pikes Peak "eating raspberries on the way" — her return trip was not so pleasant. "All you could hear was the buzzing of flies," she recalled as she stopped at the Barr Trail cabin.

Upon entering the cabin, she saw rats scurrying about over leftover cereal cartons, utensils left uncleaned and scattered about, and the entire cabin in a state of "disgusting disorder."

This was shocking to the Frenchwoman - turned Amrican who was used to the tidyness of the European hostels. If people will not take proper care of the cabin, she said she felt everything should be removed and the building lift simpley as a rain shelter.

Miss Leighton writes copy and continuity for WTOP, an affiliate of the Washington Post and Newsweek Magazine. She finds the hours erratic but the work stimulating. "I once had one of those 9 to 5 jobs," she said, "and stuck it out for a year; I almost died of boredom and went back to radio."

She cycles 25 to 50 miles each morning. This keeps her weight down as she admits she eats and gains out of "sheer frustration" in Washington. Her normal winter weight is 125 pounds and in summer she trims down to 115. She weighted 130 pounds in June but now weighs 114.

"Here I'm too busy to eat and in Aspen, I didn't have time to eat."

"I'll be physically sick going back," she prdicted, but added, "I'll be back in two years," showing her gamin smile.

A safe assumption about this enthusiastic woman is that if she had been around when the fight for the west was on, Miss Georgie Leighton would have been the American West's 19th Century Joanne of Arc.

Three Dog, One Cat Bite Cases Reported

Three cases of dog bites and one of a cat bite have been reported to the sheriff's department over the last two days.

On Tuesday Jan Mescall, 8, of 209 Kiva Rd., was bitten by a dog on the right leg and arm at 201 Kiva Rd. Eugene Hurtado, of 117 Kiva Rd., had the animal destroyed.

Chris Sturgis, 4, of 1905 S. Franklin St., was attacked Wednesday by a dog belonging to Gordon Echlund of 1907 S. Franklin St., where the incident took place.

A dog belonging to Frank Vale of 41 Burgess St., bit Myrena Woodworth, 35, of 39 W. Burgess St., Wednesday.

Both dogs will be confined for the necessary 10 days.

Timothy Kinikin, 3, of 76 Sherri Dr., was bitten at his home Wednesday by a cat, the property of William Wright, of 73 Davie Dr.

It will be confined for 10 days.

AFA Bus Drivers Get Safe Driving Lowdown

Air Force Academy bus drivers got the lowdown on safe driving during a recent safety seminar.

Henry U. Brown, director of the driver's school for Central Greyhound Lines, conducted two sessions for all Academy bus drivers and potential operators.

The seminar stressed the importance of driver qualification and attitude, plus the moral responsibility for operators to conduct themselves as professional drivers when behind the wheel.

Equipment used by Brown's company is similar to that driven on the Academy site so the accident prevention program of the bus firm is readily adaptable to Academy operations.

Suitcase, Contents Missing From Car

A brown Sampsonite suitcase and its contents were reported missing from the car of Richard Arthur Forster, 1601 Vine St., Norman, Okla., while the vehicle was parked at 1711 E. Kiowa St., Tuesday night.

Forster told Police Officers Donald C. Watts and James Caldwell he had left the vehicle parked at the curb for approximately 15 minutes, and when he returned the suitcase was gone.

Value of the suitcase and its contents was listed at $65.

Inflation Is Self-Inflicted, Economics Professor States

"Some say the reason we gave up circulating gold money was that it was too heavy to carry around, but $100 in gold coins at the present price of gold would not make anyone round - shouldered.

"I suspect the real reason we, as well as most other nations, gave up the use of gold money, was that it was too hard to reproduce, and hence that governments — our money creating agencies — could not multiply it as fast as they wanted.

"In short, it was inflation-resistant. The gold standard was discarded because it got in the way of the inflationists."

Cooley said that altho the printing press became an "engine of inflation" during several periods of history, it was not very efficient because it was not invisible. When people became suspicious of the many new bills and turned them in for redemption in gold, the government refused to redeem them.

A more subtle method of inflation was then devised out of deposit banking, Cooley said.

The most common method of transacting business today is by check. By making a loan in the form of a deposit subject to check, the deposit banker actually creates a medium of exchange, which can be called "checkbook money," Cooley said.

"Businessmen, borrowing for productive purposes, use this bank-created medium to procure goods and supplies and tools which they employ to earn the wherewithal to pay back the loan. Thus bank credit enables production to go on which would not otherwise go on.

"When the businessman pays off the loan, he normally does so by drawing a check on his account and handing it to the banker, who debits the businessman's deposit account, thus extinguishing, or destroying, the checkbook money that had been created when the loan was first made.

"Commercial banks are continually creating and destroying checkbook money as loans are made and paid."

On the other hand, Cooley said, "if the checkbook money were created by the banks, but were not destroyed — if it simply continued to pile up as loan after loan were made — the total quantity of money in use would continually increase, and the result would be inflation.

"And this is exactly what happens with respect to the loans which commercial banks make to the United States government.

"When the loans are made, checkbook money is created, and since the loans are never, or seldom, paid off (to be more exact, when one government bond is paid off, another one or two is issued to take its place), this checkbook money is never destroyed. It goes into circulation and remains in circulation, diluting all the other dollars in circulation, that is, making each dollar less valuable.

"Thus, the government has found that by simply selling bonds to the commercial banks of the nation — and it sells them many —it has an easy way. . .of getting money without levying taxes."

Since a banker is limited in the amount of money he can loan by a legally required reserve, he can make other loans to buy more bonds only as he has excess reserve, the economist said.

But if there is no excess and the government wants to sell banks more bonds, "the Federal Reserve System comes to the rescue. The 'Fed' has several ways of pumping excess reserves into the banks when the treasury wants to drain them out by selling bonds.

"It can rediscount notes held by the banks. It can lend money to the banks on government bonds as collateral. And it can buy government bonds in the open market, paying for them with checks which go to swell member bank deposits in the 'Fed,' which in turn constitute member-bank reserves.

"This is creation of checkbook money at the Federal Reserve level."

This process is limited by the 25 per cent gold reserve which Federal Reserve banks must maintain.

Altho there are many advocates of a proposed increase in the price of gold, "devaluing the dollar," Cooley said, "to raise the price of gold now would merely be to recognize the decay of the dollar which has already occurred.

"The raising of the price of gold would also be one move in the chess game of foreign trade control by governments."

"Devluation inevitably results in more inflation. This is because it spurs exports and decreases imports. We send more goods out, less goods come in. Hence, we have fewer goods. Fewer goods mean higher prices.

"Meanwhile, thru deficit financing, or sale of government bonds in return for bank deposit credit, the government increases the supply of money. Having decreased the supply of goods and increased the supply of money, inflation surely follows.

"So it is clear that both deficit financing and devaluation are planks in the inflationary platform. They are methods by which governments dleliberately manipulate money to cause inflation."

Altho inflation is a controlled operation, it will not be discontinued, Cooley said, "because it provides such an easy way for governments to pay their bills.

"And it enables governments to become bigger and more socialistic day by day. They finance their expansion by inflation."

In Cooley's opinion, the "mischief" was done in this country when the Constitution gave Congress the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof.

"The idea was that only the government could stabilize the value of the dollar. But history has demonstrated that government has not stabilized the value of the dollar. Quite the opposite, in fact."

If the money-creating function were put into the hands of private hands, they could create a money "which would be vastly superior to what we have now."

In such a privately - controlled system, inflation would not prevail, Cooley said, because "there would be no automatic money-creator, or money generator.

"The increase of the amount of hard money in circulation would depend on the mining of gold, which nature has decreed to be a slow process. The increase of checkbook money would depend on the increase of bank loans, and this in turn would depend on the growth of business, which would make such loans profitable, and upon the increase of the gold reserve.

When the government approached a bank to borrow money, the government would be in the same position as any firm. It could only borrow insofar as the bank had reserves and was willing to lend them out. The government could not create reserves out of thin air, as at present, to enable the banks to lend to it."

Cooley suggested that the federal government ought not to borrow from the commercial banks in any case, "for this is the act which infects our society with the virus of inflation."

Under a private money system, "the people as depositors and borrowers would stand to gain or lose as they sized up the integrity, the judgment and the conservatism of their bankers. We would have a truly free money system.

"Freedom is good. It calls out the best that is in men. Our country's history testifies to the truth of this statement.

"I am suggesting that in this vitally important field of money, we practice the simple principle of freedom, under which America became wealthy and great."

Runway Surface Work Completed At Pete Field

The recently resurfaced northwest-southeast runway at Peterson Field is now in use, according to Stuart Wandell, airport manager.

He said all the painting and striping is completed and the runway surface is in good shape.

The City Council last month approved a change in the contract and approved putting on a slurry seal on the runway. The painting and striping was done after that.

The next step in the municipal airport improvements will be reconstruction of the north-south instrument runway and extending it some 2,000 feet.

All of the north-south runway work will cost an estimated $1 million. Federal funds totaling $413,066 will be available for the first phase of the work.

Jet Economy Proves Popular at Continental

DENVER (UPI)— Continental Airlines said today it flew 1.5 million revenue passenger miles more on the first weekend of its new jet economy service than the average on the three preceding weekends.

Continental said the 10.4-million-mile total for last Friday, Saturday and Sunday was the highest for a three-day period since the holiday rush of Jan. 1-3 this year.

Visitor Record Is Reported in U.S. State Parks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record 273,484,442 visitors were counted at state-operated parks and recreation areas during 1961.

According to a report issued today by the Interior Department, atetndance increased by 5.6 per cent over the previous high recorded in 1960.

The visits included 21 million overnight stays.

The report was prepared by the National Park Service at the request of the National Conference on State Parks. It included returns from 101 agencies in the 50 states which administered state parks, recreation areas, historic sites, parkways and related areas.

The data covered 2,792 areas covering nearly 5.8 million acres. Among them were water recreation areas of the Reclamation Bureau and the Army Engineers administered by states.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall pointed out that the Park Service has been publishing state park statistics annually since 1939 and that this responsibility in the future will rest with interior's new bureau of outdoor recreation.

Alabama Demos Revise List for Legislative Race

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— Democrats in Alabama have revised their list of nominees for the state legislature in line with federal court orders to give urban areas more representation.

Voters in 21 of the state's 67 counties cast ballots Tuesday in a special primary called after the court's unprecedented action last month in reshuffling the lawmaking body by judicial decree.

Jefferson County, the state's most populous, voted for 10 additional House nominees to go with the seven chosen in the state's regular primary in May. Four of the new seats were filled; the other six nominees will be selected in a runoff Sept. 11.

Democratic nomination is equivalent to election in Alabama.

A new political figure emerged from the balloting. A Mobile businesswoman, Clara Stone Fields, apparently defeated two male opponents for one of the five additional seats allotted to Mobile County by the court order.

Only two women have served in the Alabama Legislature.

The federal court took seats away from some smaller counties, gave them to the more populous political subdivisions of the state, and made it necessary to choose new nominees.

Anti-Discrimination Order Is Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today President Kennedy might issue an executive order before Jan. 1 banning racial discrimination in federally assisted housing.

Kennedy was asked by newsmen when he expected the President to sign the long-awaited order, which he promised on several occasions during the 1960 presidential campaign.

"There is no time set for it," the attorney general replied. "I know the President is giving it consideration. I think it is very possible that it will come out before the first of the year."

Jet Runway Delay Reported in Denver

DENVER (UPI)—East Denver residents won't get any relief from the roar of jet planes taking off and landing at Stapleton Field until February, according to city officials.

The new 11,500-foot north-south jet runway will not be completed until February. City officials have said that completion of the runway would reduce the number of commercial jet flights over east Denver residential areas.

The announcement Tuesday that the completion date had been set back to February was the fourth such delay. Completion first had been scheduled for Aug. 30 (Thursday), then Oct. 24, then late November and then Dec. 11.

Emerson Ellett, deputy public works manager, said the Dec. 11 date cannot be met because of difficulties encountered in awarding a contract for the runway lighting system.

Gaines·burgers
BRAND
EQUAL TO
3 ONE-POUND CANS

GAINES·BURGERS is a trade-mark of General Foods Corp.

A whole new way to feed your dog every day. Two Gaines·burgers are equal in nourishment to a 1-pound can of the finest canned dog foods.

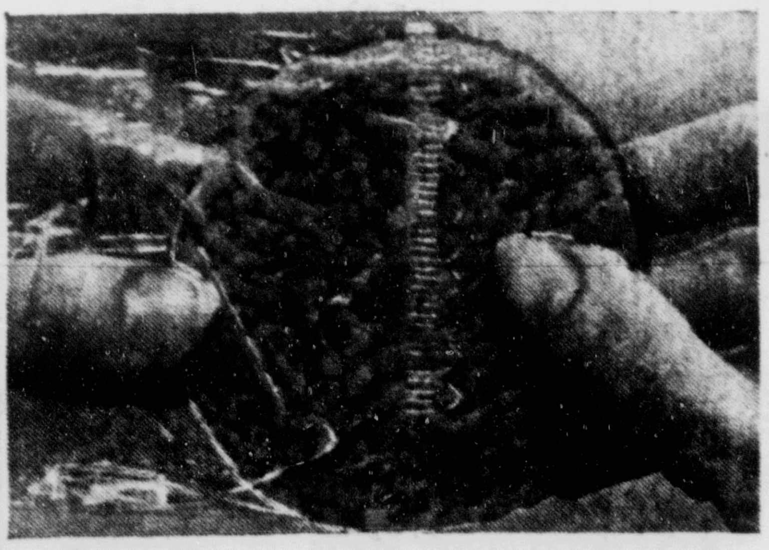
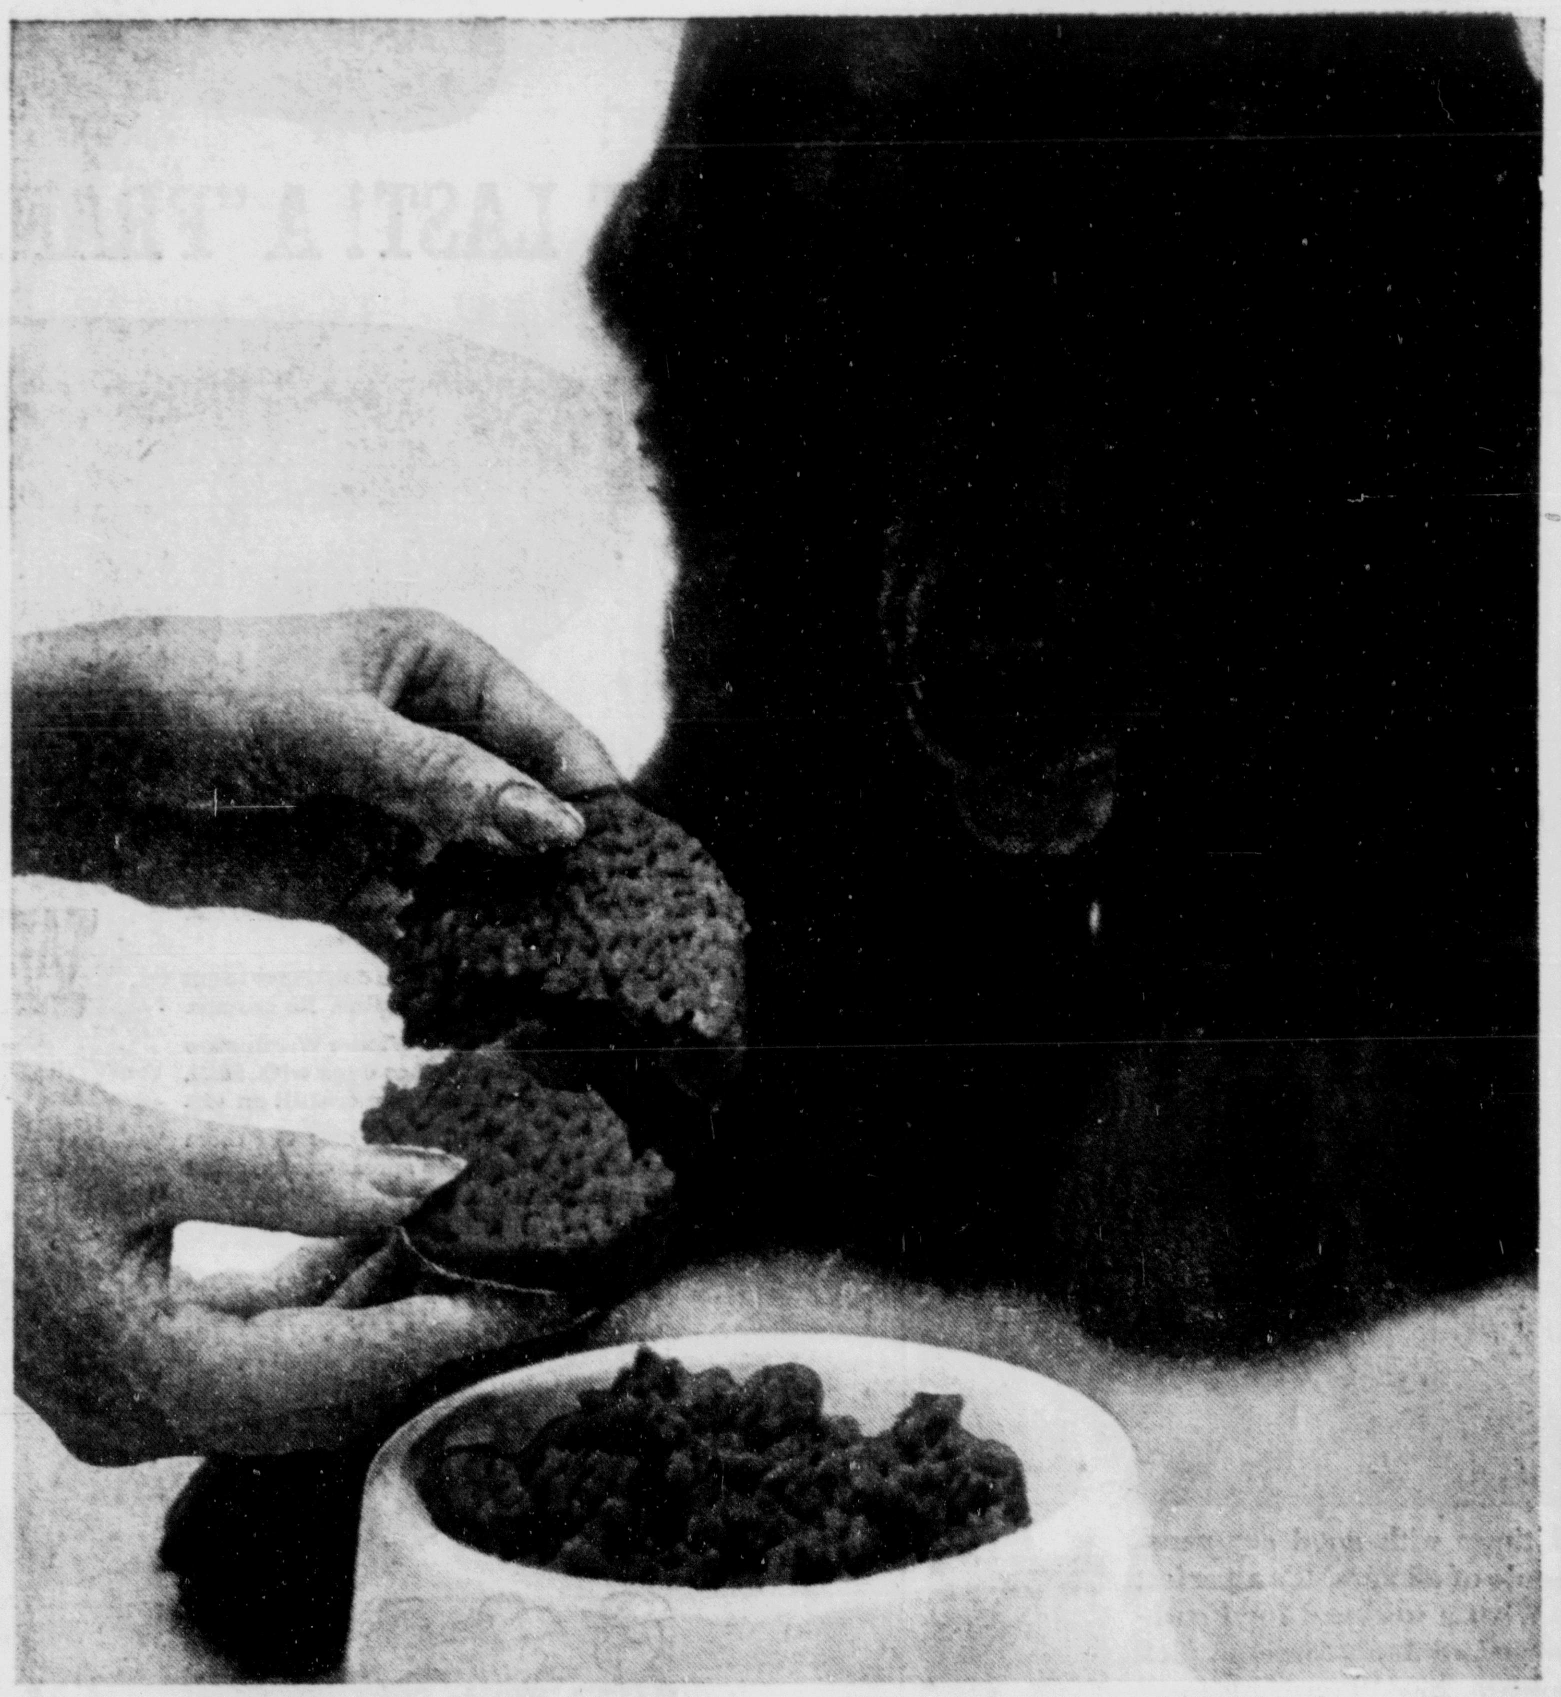
FOOD

Gaines·burgers do not have the water that is found in canned dog food. Press the water out of a 1-pound can, and you'd have the same amount of food as you have in 2 Gaines·burgers. They give your dog a completely balanced diet—beef, a vegetable, bone minerals, milk solids and vitamins. And they cost no more than the finest canned dog foods.



Look, no can. Nothing to scoop, scrape or spill. Though Gaines·burgers are beefy, they need no refrigeration. You can keep them in the cupboard—even after the box is opened.



Feeding is easy. If you've been giving your dog 1 can a day, feed him 2 Gaines·burgers; if 2 cans, 4 Gaines·burgers; and so on. Just break Gaines·burgers into a dish and set before your dog. And, to complete his meal, serve water alongside. You may buy Gaines·burgers 2 ways: 6 to the package (an average dog's feeding for 3 days) or—the more convenient way: 12 to the package. Both are at your grocer's now.

Gas Association Opposes Utility Type of Controls

By MAX B. SKELTON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The natural gas industry has reaffirmed opposition to utility-type controls over wellhead prices of Natural gas.

A resolution adopted by the Independent Natural Gas Association of America also asked that federal controls be applied on a uniform basis to all production sold wholesale to interstate pipelines.

The Federal Power Commission was asked to regulate gas owned by interstate pipelines on the same basis as gas owned by other producers.

The resolution was adopted Tuesday at the final session of the annual meeting of the trade group that includes pipeliners, distributors, and producers who supply gas to 46 states.

The resolution made no reference to area price controls but said utility-type controls are impractical.

The FPC abandoned cost-rate or utility-type controls in 1960 in favor of an area formula under which it plans to establish ceiling prices for each of the nation's major gas producing area.

The gas association also approved a resolution objecting to intervention by coal interests in FPC proceedings on gas rate cases. The resolution said such intervention is designed to prevent gas from competing for new markets.

The convention also asked the FPC to abandon a 10-year-old formula under which the commission, in determining pipe line dustrial and household users of gas.

This resolution also was aimed at the coal industry in that coal has championed the formula's 50-50 allocation of demand costs between industrial and residential users.

Orville S. Carpenter, head of Texas Transmission Corp., Houston, was elected president and New Orleans was selected for the Sept. 16-17, 1963, meeting of the association.

Howell, 19, and Terrill, 21, left Three Forks, Mont., June 17.

Two Oxygen Furnaces Planned by U.S. Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., the country's largest steel producer, disclosed today plans to install two oxygen steel-making furnaces at its nearby Duquesne works for the production of high-quality steels.

The facility will round out a modernization program at Duquesne which will make that plant the leading producer of quality alloy and silicon steels and high grade carbon steel bars, U.S. Steel said.

The oxygen steel-making process makes a "heat" of steel about eight times faster than the conventional open hearth method.

The new furnaces will produce a "heat" of steel in less than one hour, compared with an average of about eight hours for an open hearth.

By RON SPEER

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The National Farmers Organization starts Saturday what it calls a "battle for the survival of the family farm."

Members of the Midwest farm group are pledged to sell no hogs, cattle, sheep or grain from midnight Friday until processors agree to long-range contracts, with the NFO calling for higher prices of those products.

Buoyed by a massive turnout of an estimated 20,000 members who shouted approval of the holding action here Tuesday, NFO president Oren Lee Staley declared: "We mean to win.

"Whatever length of time it takes to win this battle, we will do it," the 39-year-old Rea, Mo., farmer said.

"American farmers are the most underpaid group in America. They have retreated as far as they can. We do not intend to retreat any farther."

Staley warned members to brace for a long fight. He said the supply of meat in storage and sale of livestock by non-members will keep the market at near-normal levels for about two weeks.

"Then you can expect buyers to try to break your morale by saying everything is normal — even when there is no meat in the markets," Staley said.

The NFO president said his group has sufficient strength to attain its goals in the holding action. Three previous holding actions—in which hogs were kept off the market — failed to produce higher prices.

Staley has declined to reveal the number of farmers in the NFO, which claims membership in 15 states west of the Pennsylvania border to the Rocky Mountains, and south from Canada to Kentucky and Oklahoma.

He said, however, that he believes control of 25 to 30 per cent of the country's total agricultural production is needed to affect the market.

"We feel our members and the non-members who will support us give us that control," he said.

As Staley outlined the NFO's plans for the holding action, he was interrupted with bursts of applause from the bronzed farmers. The crowd was described by NFO speakers as "the biggest gathering of farmers under one roof in history."

Staley told members that if they had livestock ready for the market to "sell it in the next three days." Then livestock should be put on short rations so they do not become overly fat during the holding action, he said.

The holding action calls for livestock and grain to be held until the following minimum prices are secured, compared to what the NFO said are current prices:

Butcher hogs 190-210 pounds, $22.75 a hundredweight (now about $18.50).

Choice grade cattle weighing 800-1,000 pounds, $32.45 (now about $28.00).

Choice wooled lambs, $29.45 (now about $22.00).

Corn, $1.49 a bushel (now about $1.10).

Soybeans, $2.56 a bushel (now about $2.30).

The NFO members approved a recommendation that milk producing members meet later to determine whether they keep milk off the market.

Staley said increased prices are only part of the NFO's goal in the holding action. He said the holding action will continue until processors of farm products sign long-range contracts calling for the NFO to supply processors needs "which would stabilize the farm market."

Contract Ratified By Phone Workers

DENVER (AP) — Communication Workers of America have announced ratification of a new contract with the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co. calling for wage increases up to $5 weekly.

The pact covers 13,800 workers in MST&T offices in Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming and El Paso County, Tex. It will be retroactive to last Aug. 10.

Operators now received $75 a week will get a $3 increase while plant employes receiving $121 will get $5 raises. Some employes, however, will get from $5.50 to $7 boosts as a result of town upgrading.

Over 3,000 Acres Gutted by Fire In Forest Areas

DENVER (UPI)—Regional U.S. Forester David S. Nordwall said today fires had destroyed 3,497 acres of grass and forest in Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota and Nebraska so far this year.

Nordwall said $350,000 had been spent in the 16 national forest and grasslands of the four states fighting fires during the first seven months of the year.

He said 383 of the fires occurring through Aug. 27, which destroyed 2,223 acres, were man-caused. Total cost and fire numbers were down for 1962 from the same period in 1961, he said. But total destroyed acreage was up.

"We would much rather spend monies improving old, or building new campground and picnic sites for public enjoyment than to use it for fighting fires," Nordwall said.

"There is nothing we can do to prevent a lightning-caused fire. But there is no excuse for a man-caused forest fire."

Of the total acreage, 1,560 was in the San Isabel Forest of Colorado, and 1,010 acres were burned in Nebraska. South Dakota lost 88 acres, Wyoming 63, and Colorado the rest.

Protection Against Cave-in Is Proposed

DENVER (UPI)—A Republican state senator from Fort Collins said Tuesday he would introduce a bill in the 1963 General Assembly to require contractors to protect workmen against ditch cave-ins.

Sen. Paul Wenke's proposed bill would force contractors digging a ditch or trench more than seven feet deep to line it with supports to prevent cave-ins.

Joseph Shields, 46, Englewood was killed Monday when a wall of a sewer ditch collapsed in suburban Arapahoe County. Wenke said his bill was prepared several weeks ago.

Wenke's plan received the endorsement of Lloyd V. Gilley, secretary of the Drain Layers Union Local 331, who said it has been "needed for a long time."

Mutual Fund Record Found Same as Market

EDITOR'S NOTE: The operations of mutual funds recently was the subject of an exhaustive study. The following dispatch is an analysis of how effective they are in investing for their shareholders in the stock market.

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A major study of the mutual fund industry comes to the conclusion that the funds as a group have done no better in the business of making money in the stock market than the market itself.

That is, the funds' performance about equaled that of the Standard and Poor's 500-stock average.

This comparison raises the provocative question of whether the average investor might not just as well play the market directly as indirectly by buying shares in a mutual fund. A mutual fund is an investment company whose business is buying securities, chiefly common stocks.

Prof. Irwin Friend, head of a four-man team at the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, which examined the mutual fund industry, said the answer to the question is this:

—If investors bought a random selection of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, they would on the average do as well as a mutual fund. The word "average" in the case means the sum of losses by some of these investors and profits by others.

Which gets to why people buy mutual funds. They don't want to choose which stocks to buy. They feel they don't know enough about the market and they don't have the time or background to find out.

Moreover, they don't have enough money to diversiy their investments for safety's sake—to buy a sufficiently broad variety of stocks so that they don't have all their money in one or two industries.

What about the 8 per cent sales commission most mutual funds charge? Can't the direct investor avoid that?

For the small investor who can ill afford large risks, Friend said, achieving diversification comparable to that given by a mutual fund could cost more in brokerage fees than 8 per cent. There also are the costs an inconvenience of bookkeeping, he noted.

However, Friend observed that purchasers of "front end load" monthly investment plans may realize "only limited returns" if they drop the plan after one or two years. Because a sales commission figured over the life of the plan is deducted at the "front end," it may exceed 50 per cent of first-year payments and 30 per cent of payments in the first two years.

Most people with a few hundred or even several thousand dollars in a fund probably would conclude from the study that, all things considered, they might as well leave their money in. Not a few undoubtedly are satisfied if they do only as well as the market — at least in a rising market.

Since the first open-end investment company was formed in 1924, the mutual fund industry has grown enormously. After nearly being extinguished by the 1929 crash, the industry began to recover.

Its great days came in the bull market after World War II. As of Dec. 31, 1961 there were 344 open-end mutual funds with assets of $24.4 billion. An estimated 5.3 million individuals were share holders. (Open-end means no limit to the amount of money the fund can take in and invest.)

The Wharton school study of 189 funds, made for the Securities and Exchange Commission, is the most exhaustive examination of the industry in more than 20 years. Although nominally analytical, it breaks out in several places with clearly implied criticism.

Probably its most pointed observation is that there are "potential conflicts of interest" in fund practices and in their affiliations with investment advisers and stock brokers.

The discussion of "potential conflicts of interest" was based on the funds' managements profiting excessively at the expense of their shareholders. More specifically, advisory and brokerage costs appear higher than they need be, especially for the larger funds. Lower costs could be reflected in increased dividends to shareholders.

The funds undoubtedly will have more to say about this. They already have said that fees paid advisers, be added on fund size, are inadequate when a fund is young and small. Therefore, it would be unfair to scale fees down as they grow with a fund, even though the cost of advising the fund rises less rapidly than the fee.

Friend said his study team was making no ethical judgment about fund, although he did say they encourage economic growth by lowering the cost of capital. He declined to describe the 585-page report as either favorable or unfavorable to the industry.

Reporters Must Dig for Facts In Castro Cuba

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Facts about what goes on in Cuba are hard to come by these days.

An important factor is that the press in Cuba is fully controlled by the Fidel Castro regime. Every newsman working for a Cuban paper knows what he must and must not write. The result is a sterile press that usually throws little light on what goes on.

Even so, statements in Havana newspapers often provide indications of basic situations existing in such problems as housing and the food supply, and U.S. reporters can follow up these leads to some extent.

The number of such reporters is strictly limited. The Associated Press, for example, has only one non-Cuban reporter working in Cuba. Applications for visas to send in other reporters are turned down or ignored.

Only a token number of visiting correspondents are allowed each month—usually one or two. Most of these represent newspapers or radio and television networks. El Mundo of Havana said recently that "North American newsmen and those of other nationalities have had and have free access to our country." This is not true.

The correspondents able to work in Cuba find most official doors closed to them. When they do have news to report, they often cannot get it out of Havana. Long distance calls are frequently cut off with the explanation, "I'm sorry, sir, the New York party hung up." Cables often disappear if they displease a supervisor checking all incoming and outgoing messages at the telegraph office. Wording is sometimes changed in cables that clear Havana.

An exception to these circumstances arises when the government wants to exploit some kind of news. Dispatches last Saturday, carrying Castro's charges that the United States was responsible for the shelling of a hotel in a Havana suburb, cleared promptly. Telephone calls to and from Havana also went through without a hitch. The following day, without explanation, telephone calls were cut off for 15 hours.

In many ways the Cuban censorship has become more capricious than that which formerly operated in the Soviet Union. One of the differences is that the Castro regime does not even admit that an external censorship exists. In the Soviet Union, correspondents had to submit all news copy, but they were able to learn whether it had been forwarded intact. They could withdraw it if the censor insisted on changes in meaning.

Desite the Cuban censorship, many of the trends of the Castro regime have been fully reported to the outside world. Some of the facts come out of diplomatic reports, which are not subject to scrutiny before transmission. The thousands of refuges leaving Cuba also provide much information. But often this is colored by wishful thinking, so it must be weighed carefully.

Birthday Gifts Found in Foreign Aid Fund Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tapping of foreign aid funds for birthday gifts to new countries and a road to an athletic stadium has been disclosed in a House hearing.

The information was brought out by a subcommittee in a scrutiny of the $275-million contingency account controlled by the President but actually spent by the State Department and the Aency for International Development.

Chairman Otto E. Passman, D-La., commented that the law governing the fund is broad enough to permit the President to open a saloon every two miles across some foreign country.

In testimony released today, Fowler Hamilton, AID director, agreed that the fund was supposed to take care of unforeseen developments and to deal with a real crisis.

Hamilton testified that through April, the fund had been tapped for $223,423,000 for situations "like aid to Greece when the Berlin situation got hot."

The tabulation of withdrawals, supplied at Passman's demand, disclosed some other uses.

Algeria was put down for an "independence day gift" of $130,000 and an additional $7,000 to bring an Algerian over to study the U.S. Civil Service.

Indonesia received $5,600,000 to push completion of a road to the site of the Asian athletic games.

Iran got $29 million for the specific purpose, an AID statement said, to assure the survival of the government of Prime Minister Ali Amini, whose existence was threatened by a financial crisis. The prime minister was ousted anyway.

The African countries of Guinea and Mali got $3.5 million and $2.7 million, respectively, because of their changing political attitudes.

Syria was granted $9 million in February when it broke away from the United Arab Republic. In May, Egypt, the other part of the United Arab Republic, appealed for and got $15 million.

Young Cubans Being Sent to Soviet Union

HAVANA (UPI)—Each of the 25 unions comprising the CTC Labor Federation is sending one of its members to Moscow for 10 months training, it was announced today.

The delegates said the incident occurred near Bermuda.

Propst Blasts Compulsory Health Insurance

DENVER (UPI) — Howard Propst, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, said Tuesday night compulsory health insurance, no matter what it is called, is socialized medicine.

"Advocates of this plan prefer to say 'Health insurance' or 'care for the aged'," Propst told a meeting of doctors in suburban Adams County.

"Regardless of their choice of words, they are talking about socialized medicine. Socialized medicine is a government- operated, taxpayer-financed system of providing medical care."

Propst is contending with Don Brotzman of Boulder for the Republican nomination for 2nd District Representative in the Sept. 11 primary election.

"The proponents of compulsory health insurance insult the intelligence of the American people by arguing that under this government plan everyone would have free medical care and nobody would have to rely on charity," he said.

"This something for nothing approach is deceiving, for where else does the government get money to provide the so- called 'free' medical service except from the people?"

The island of St. Helena in the middle of the South Atlantic was so important as a supply station for sailing ships that 1,500 stopped there in 1845. With the advent of steam it's importance declined to a point where only 30 ships put into its harbor in 1959.

Documents Are Surrendered in Power Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) said today documents sought by Western Colorado Power Co. have been turned over to it by Colorado Ute Electric Co.

They were sought in connection with a $15 million REA plan to Colorado Ute, an electric cooperative, to build a power plant at Hayden, Colo.

Western Colorado had charged a breach of contract if Colorado Ute continued with plans to build the REA-financed facility.

On May 20, at the time a court deputation was taken, REA administrator Norman Clapp turned over three documents but said he was directed to let Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman see the rest. An REA spokesman said this was done for Freeman to determine if Freeman would claim executive privilege, and thus refuse to release them.

Then on Aug. 20 attorneys stipulated that subpoena served on Clapp and the records would be withdrawn and that Colorado-Ute would furnish the requested documents.

They also stipulated that there will be a continuation of the deputation Friday at Clapp's office.

Immediate Armed Clash Ruled Out in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — Four of Algeria's six guerrilla commands and the regular army's general staff were lined up today in support of Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's bid for control of the new nation.

The military leaders left up to Ben Bella's Political Bureau the decision of whether to use force to quell the rebellious guerrilla commands in Algiers and the Kabylie Mountains. This apparently ruled out an immediate armed showdown since the bureau members previously voiced opposition to any fratricidal military clash.

Leaders on both sides were reported fearful of the consequences of civil war in the nation rocked by continual crisis since it gained independence eight weeks ago. The Moslem population, weary after 7½ years of civil war and terrorism, strongly opposes new bloodshed.

Col. Houari Boumedienne, the regular army chief of staff, publicly threw the support of his 45,000 troops to the Political Bureau at a news conference Tuesday in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers. He was flanked by commanders of four guerrilla wilayas, or zones.

Maj. Si Slimane, his second command, read a manifesto calling on the Political Bureau to "take adequate and indispensable measures to reestablish peace and security in the entire territory and particularly to the capital."

The manifesto charged that a handful of unscrupulous officers had brought anarchy to Algiers and threatened all of the nation.

The four wilaya commanders who joined Boumedienne in supporting the Political Bureau command about 30,000 troops.

Ben Bella is opposed by Wilaya 4's 20,000 troops in the Algiers region and Wilaya 3's 10,000 troops in the Kabylie Mountains to the east.

Ben Bella and the bureau seized control after a bloodless struggle with the provisional government headed by Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda. But the guerrillas of Wilaya 4 controlled Algiers and last week sent the deputy premier and his adherents packing to Oran in west Algeria.

The guerrilla commander in Algiers meanwhile accused the French army of exploiting Algeria's crisis. He said French troops killed several Algerian soldiers Monday at Marengo, west of Algiers.

French authorities said the Algerians fired first on French troops protecting a farmer. They put French losses at three dead and seven wounded. It was the most serious military clash since the March 19 cease-fire.

France's Algerian Affairs minister, Louis Joxe, warned in Paris that continued cooperation with the former French territory depended on the release of kidnaped Europeans and an end to violence.

France has pledged large amounts of aid to Algeia, where the economy is at a virtual standstill and well over half of the one million European population has fled. The Europeans were the backbone of the country's business world, education system, civil service and agriculture.

Study of Mutual Fund Rules Is Given Interest

By JESSE BOGUE

NEW YORK (UPI)— In releasing a report on a study of mutual funds, the Securities and Exchange Commission has aroused some investor interest today in the part the SEC plays in rule-making for the funds.

The study was made for the SEC by a group of professors at the Wharton School of Finance and contained some suggestions for legislation which would change provisions of the investment company act of 1940, under which the SEC regulates the funds.

The act became law after the SEC had studied the performance of investment companies and their practices in the 1930's. Many prominent persons in the industry cooperated in framing the legislation.

The huge growth of the industry, as most investors know, came in the post war years, particularly since the mid-1950's; at least 157 have been added since 1955. And they now number about 340. Fortune Magazine in a recent article on this growth notes that one result has been the "dividing lines between the standard categories (of funds) have become badly blurred."

In the 22nd annual edition of "Investment Companies," published by Arthur Wiesenberger Company last May, and widely regarded as one of the most complete reference works on funds, is a digest of the investment company act of 1940, the one in which amendments may be sought as a result of the Wharton study.

The act, this volume says, supplements other state and federal laws and provides comprehensive regulation for the protection of investors.

OSLO—Norway's Foreign Minister has requested terms for entry into the European Economic community.

Health Guards Are Taken for Uranium Work

DENVER (AP) — Colorado is taking all possible measures to guard the health of 5,200 persons working in the uranium industry, an official told the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at its convention today.

William N. Gahr, chief engineer of the Colorado Public Health Department, said surveys made since 1950 "have pointed out a probable increase in the incidence of lung cancer among uranium miners."

"However, the inconclusiveness of the surveys clearly indicated the need for more complete investigations, which are now under way," Gahr said.

The state department works with the U.S. Bureau of Mines and the U.S. Public Health Service in the surveys.

Gahr said uranium ore produced in Colorado last year was valued at $61 million, thus making the industry "a vital and important force in Colorado economy." The ore came from 425 mines.

Gahr said the Colorado Bureau of Mines has set 300 micro microcuries per liter (almost one quart) of air as the "maximum allowable concentration for alpha-emitting decay products for radon in areas occupied by miners."

Another speaker, Robert E. Anderson of Midland, Mich., said extraction of gold from sea water is still far from practical, even though "the concentration of gold by ion exchange appears to be approaching commercial status."

J. H. Henderson of Salt Lake City, in a paper Tuesday, said the use of a pipeline to transfer gilsonite slurry from Bonanza, Utah to the Grand Junction area has been highly successful.

Henderson is manager of engineering and product development for the American Gilsonite Co.

The slurry is made up of crushed gilsonite, a solid, natural hydrocarbon, in water. It is used to produce electrode grade coke, gasoline and other liquid fuels, road oils and penetration asphalt.

Henderson said using a pipeline to transport solids has great potentialities "particularly where large tonnages are to be handled, or where other means of transportation are impractical or too costly."

Estes Gained Nothing, Says Federal Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy said Wednesday the decisions he made in the Billie Sol Estes case were based on a belief that all citizens—including the Texas promoter—should get what they are legally entitled to—no more and no less.

In the final analysis, the department's No. 2 man said, Estes was able to "gain nothing by all his twisting and turning with the Department of Agriculture."

"In our dealings with Estes, we exhibited no favoritism—only the fairness and justice every American has a right to expect in dealing with his government," he said.

Murphy made these contentions in a 29-page statement prepared for the Senate Investigations subcommittee which is seeking to determine whether Estes got favored treatment through political influence in connection with big cotton planting allotments under a department control program.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has charged that someone of high department rank—either Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman or Murphy—must have been behind the suspension last Jan. 6 of orders cancelling Estes' 1961 cotton allotments.

Murphy said he had approved cancellation of these allotments—obtained in transfer deals from other farmers—on Dec. 22, 1961.

But, he said, he ordered a "second look" at the cancellation order in January at the request of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., as well as at the request of Estes and his lawyer.

Murphy said this second look strengthened the department's position for a possible court fight over the allotments and that in no way did it reverse the department's basic position that Estes was not entitled to the allotments.

The undersecretary said that except for two crates of cantaloupes, he had received no gifts, or other benefits from Estes. He said that after he received the melons, he wrote Estes thanking him but asked that he send no more because of the administration's "strengthened policy" against acceptance of gifts by government officials.

12,100 Enrollment Is Expected at CU

BOULDER (UPI)—The University of Colorado said today it expected fall enrollment on the Boulder campus to be a record 12,100.

The figure would compare with 11,651 in the fall of 1961.

Admissions Director David B. Muirhead said the university expected more few freshmen and graduate students, and fewer transfer students.

Recovery in Steel Production May Face New Delay

NEW YORK (AP) — Any sizable recovery in steel production may be delayed until November, The Iron Age said today.

The metalworking trade publication predicted that as the situation stands now September output will show only a modest improvement over August.

Iron Age said the chief reason for the delay in expected pickup of steel orders is the slow start up of automobile production. Output of cars in recent weeks has been the slowest in postwar years.

Automakers also continue to use up steel from sizable stocks on hand. Iron Age said this process will continue for the balance of the year regardless of how high car production climbs.

For example, the publication said, despite record output of cars and trucks by General Motors, the company's steel intake in the first seven months of the year was up nearly 25 per cent more than the increase in production.

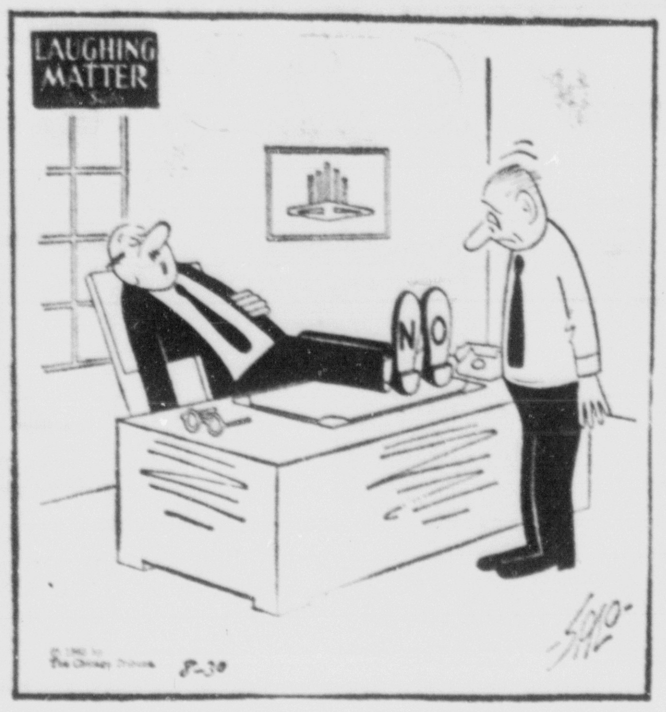
Suggested as another possibility for the slow pickup in automobile production was that automakers are trying to smooth out peaks and valleys of production because of the high costs of supplemental unemployment benefits.

PRETTY GOOD SYSTEM

BRISTOL, England (UPI) — A retired British couple who hit the soccer pool today disclosed their system.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jones said cover the names of the teams on the card with a sheet of paper, then stick a pin in it and "hope for the best."

They won $173,000 Tuesday on their 35-cent investment.



Payoff Charged In Texas Probe

DALLAS (UPI)— Assistant Texas Atty. Gen. Bob Flowers today accused a second former state oil official of taking bribes to allow a multi-million dollar "hot oil" theft scheme to operate.

Flowers said Nelson Decker, an inspector for the Texas Railroad Commission, took $47,000, partly in direct payoff and partly as an interest in a slanted-hole oil well which was pumping stolen oil.

Decker worked under former district engineer L. D. Murphy in the East Texas oil field. Murphy was accused Tuesday of taking $58,000 in bribes to let operators steal oil.

Decker sat impassively in the hearing room as Flowers outlined the alleged payoff scheme. He is scheduled to take the stand later at the hearing by the Texas House of Representatives General Investigating Committee.

Decker and Murphy were fired May 14 after refusing to submit to a polygraph (lie detector) test about slanted-hole oil wells.

Flowers said Decker owned an undercover interest in five oil leases in Gregg County. Deviated wells were found on four of the leases.

PHOTOGRAPHER WEDS

Karsh's first wife, Solange, died last year.

Increased Russian Trade Seen in Cuba

MOSCOW (UPI)—The volume of Soviet - Cuban trade will double this year and has already reached the point where it is necessary to charter foreign vessels to handle it, according to the official Soviet news agency Tass.

Five ships from NATO countries are among those listed by the news agency Tuesday as currently loading Soviet cargoes for the island republic. Two others come from Lebanon and Liberia and three more are Soviet.

"In any big port of the U.S.S.R. one will see today ships which are to sail for Cuban shores," Tass said.

"Some 10 Soviet ships are converging on the ports of Havana Santiago and Cienfuegos."

It said the Soviet Union has been sending fertilizer, industrial equipment, paper, metals, grain, automobiles, tractors, building materials, oil and mining equipment to Cuba in return for raw sugar, "the traditional export of Cuba."

GAZETTE TELEGRAPH

Your Freedom Newspaper

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

It Isn't the Education— It's the Form

In the holy name of educational administration, what have we here? It is a "calendar" of reports required by the Colorado State Department of Education issued by Byron W. Hansford, commissioner.

Having examined this calendar, we can attest to some additional facts and follies confronting our government school system. With few exceptions, these reports could be readily abandoned.

Of course, since our schools are products of the government, the schools must obey the government. And the government, to no one's surprise, has been known to go in for a bit of red tape. But this! There are 24 pages in this "calendar." And the numbering doesn't include the covers or a brief introduction.

On each of the pages is a list of about 10 reports which have to be filed by the various schools with the various official agencies in the education business.

Some of the reports have dates fixed when they have to be completed and submitted. With some, the dates are open.

Some of the reports have to be made by school districts, others by the schools themselves. Some are to be made by the county superintendent. Whatever their purpose, the reports take time and cost money. We doubt very much if more than a small fraction are used for anything except the collecting of data that will never be used and never should be used. Let's take a few samplings.

Here's the "Department of Education, Annual Financial Report." It must be filed on Form DS1-FS1. It is due within 20 days after the form is received from the Department of Education. It is to consist of a machine-printed annual financial report developed from the district secretary's annual report. It is to be sent to the division of research and statistics of the State Education Department. It is to be prepared by the county superintendent.

Presumably, it goes into a file when it is received. The same data is obviously available elsewhere. It is a useless duplication.

Here's another: "Invoice, District Organization Fund." This requires Form SDR-8. It is to be filled in "as expenses are incurred." It is to contain a statement of expenses of county school planning committees in connection with "school district reorganization." It is to be sent to the division of school district organization. The county superintendent has the job.

One more in the same general classification: "The Certification to Commissioner of Education of Change of Personnel of School Planning Committee." It requires Form SDR 207-59. It is to be made out any time a change occurs. It is to contain the names and addresses of persons dropped from county school planning committees, and names and addresses of persons replacing them. Again the county superintendent does the work and sends it to the division of school district organization.

Here's one that doesn't require a specific form. It's the "Application for Vocational Credential." It's to be made out by the school prior to the employment of an instructor. It is to contain the name of the person, starting date of employment, length of period to be covered by credential. It goes to the assistant commissioner, Office of Vocational Services.

In all, 188 different reports are required thru the full year. There are 161 specific forms which have been printed, prepared and stored, and are being circulated on which to answer all the questions pertinent to government demands. There are 25 reports which have no forms required. In two cases there are reports demanded for which forms are being developed but which are not yet ready.

Is it any wonder that the cost of government schooling goes up and up and up? And what do these people do who are engaged in filling out these forms, receiving these forms and filing these forms? In what particular do they aid in the development of knowledge in the minds of those who attend our compulsory, tax-ridden, report-inundated school system?

Ah, bureaucracy, what waste paper you can make!

When does education emerge from this welter of red tape, reports, statistical in-gathering and mounting bales of useless paper?

Needle or Noodle

The government seems intent on giving the businessman the needle. To prevent it the businessman is going to have to use the noodle.

West Germany's Example

Our readers are generally aware of the dazzling accomplishments of the West German economy since World War II. To many this achievement is related vaguely to the industrious character of the German people and to the condition of freedom which allows that industry to express itself in profitable and productive labor.

The big questions are why and how did West Germany turn to a free economy. Certainly free enterprise was not a dominant element in her tradition. The collectivist trend in Germany dates back at least as far as Bismarck and reached its apex in the national socialism of Adolf Hitler.

Moreover, West Germany was surrounded by collectivist neighbors — the Soviet puppet of East Germany, socialist Scandinavia, and destituted by debt, taxes and regulations. At the close of World War II, the magnet of socialism pulled at West Germany from every geographical direction and was deeply vested in her own history. Yet West Germany made the shift toward freedom. The first mystery is why, and the second is how.

The explanation comes from a Swiss economist, Dr. Roepke, professor at the Graduate Institute of Studies, Geneva. Dr. Roepke described the West German miracle in an article entitled "Will West Germany's Free Enterprise Survive?"

"It could be argued, indeed," the Swiss economist wrote, "that for a country such as Germany which has pushed its destructive economic policies to the farthest extreme, there was really nothing left but to accept 100 per cent collectivism a la the Soviet Union or, alternately, to return to market economy, to monetary discipline, to the free play of prices, to the law of supply and demand. Fortunately for Germany and the Free World, the decision fell in favor of the second alternative."

In short, West Germany turned to the free (or market) economy, in which prices are determined by natural instead of man-made law — because she had drained the glass of collectivism, and had tasted its dregs.

As to the method of the transition, Dr. Roepke writes that the market economy in Germany "is the outcome of a deliberate and serious attempt to win popular support for a economic policy which ran directly counter to the people's traditions and experiences. This was accomplished in two ways. First the market economy was made the central concept of a well - thought - out economic doctrine. . .

"Thus a genuine appeal to the peoples' understanding was made and a great deal of the activity of the architects of the new policy — the theoreticians as well as the practical men of affairs, in particular, the minister of economics himself (Erhard) — lay and lies in teaching, proselytizing, and explaining. Secondly, this appeal to reason was accompanied by an appeal to conscience, a moral appeal."

Thus the twin mysteries of West Germany are cleared up, but a further question is raised by the title of Dr. Roepke's article; namely, "Will West Germany's Free Enterprise Survive?"

On this point, Dr. Roepke speaks in the past tense. He wrote:

"Ultimately, the weight of the evidence and the sheer logic of the situation won the day. The events of the German case spoke too clear and compelling a language to be misunderstood, with the result that one country after another followed the German lead, more or less faithfully, more or less successfully, but unquestionably in the direction of more market economy and a greater monetary discipline."

Paradoxically, he noted, the socialists in Germany, Switzerland, and other European countires no longer espouse socialization and planned economy. And he continues with this revelation:

"A particularly impressive example of this general development is the case of France since 1958. By ending the deficits of the central government, resisting inflationary wage demands, and undertaking certain drastic economic reforms aimed at restoring a measure of competitiveness to the economy, the French succeeded in converting their chronic balance-of-payments deficit into a sizable surplus while simultaneously increasing the general level of output and income."

The lesson of West Germany is that a well - thought - out doctrine plus strong salesmanship brought a new birth of freedom. The revitalization occurred when that country was internally weakest and when the external socialist threat was greatest.

These Days

Black Nationalism

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

A distinction must be made between those Negroes who believe in desegregation and those who believe in separation. Desegregation means that the Negoes seek the same opportunities as the White Man to education, jobs, living quarters, etc.

The separationist wants the Negro to be separate and distinct. The leading group among the separationists is the Black Muslims of which Elijah Muhammad is the leader.

The Black Muslims do not like to be called Negroes; they refer to themselves as black. They regard the Black Man as superior to the White Man.

The "Herald-Dispatch," a Negro newspaper, says:

"To say we teach hate is childish. We teach the American Negro that he is the original man. We teach him the truth, which has been hidden from him. We refute the lies his enemies have taught and are teaching him. The American Negro has suffered for four centuries at the hand of the white man more than 300 years in slavery. He has been murdered, branded as a common animal, has seen his father and brothers lynched and hanged from poles; their bodies thrown into the rivers; Negro men in the South castrated. . .

"The Herald-Dispatch does not believe in integration. We do not believe that it is physically or humanly possible for a nation to integrate with another which considers itself superior. . ."

'NEGRO'

The nationalists prefer to be called black rather than Negro for the following reasons:

"The word 'Negro' implies nothing; it contains no masculine prefix or suffix. Note: in China, a man is referred to as a Chinaman; in Germany as a Ger-man; in England, an English - man; in Ireland, an Irish-man. Either the masculine suffix 'an' or the word man is added. Note also that all racial groups are identified by some geographical place on the earth and, even a poodle is more important if it is a 'French Poodle.' The word 'Negro' is nothing but a stigma. . ."

This movement is not to be ignored. It is effectively organized, it is well-financed; it sets goals which to a degree are attainable, such as operating stores, boycotting stores owned by White Men. Its major goal is to establish a separate nation within the United States, taking over two states for this purpose.

Elijah Muhammad, whose true name is Elijah Poole, calls himself the Messenger of Allah and is so recognized by his followers. Associating his movement with religion, he said:

"According to the past histories of the major prophets, one comes 2000 years until the end of the World of Sin. Moses came exactly two thousand years after Yakub (the God and Maker of the evil Caucasian race). Jesus came two thousand years after Moses, and the last prophet came two thousand years after Jesus, fulfilling much of the histories of the Prophets before him; especially Moses, David, Jesus and Muhammad. The man Allah (God) raised up from among the American so-called Negroes in the West will unite his people to Islam with the guidance of Allah with a book of Scripture for his people prepared and written by the fingers of Allah (God)."

ANTI-U.S.

Elijah Muhammad is definitely anti-American. This is what he has to say on the subject:

". . .You own nothing here but the freedom to be a fool for white America. The college - trained Negro clergy, politician and educator knows that there is no future for them under white Christianity. They have neither a country nor a chance to build a civilization for their own people, but yet they refuse to take part with me in the sure program of God for our people — even after watching our success daily. . ."

Finally, Elijah Muhammad has this to say of himself:

"Allah has sent me as His last Messenger. I am a warner to my people, the so-called Negroes, to separate themselves from the slave master. . ."

Movements of this kind cannot be ignored. This particular one is increasing its membership and is attacking the known Negro leadership with greater violence than has heretofore been known, even in the days of Marcus Garvey, the father of Negro nationalism.

Actually what this movement seeks to establish is a state within a state, a minority which will be able to attack the majority on all fronts. The Negro separationist movement is anti - Christian, having accepted Islam, on terms which no Arab can understand.

To The Point

Area Redevelopment

By RUSSELL KIRK

Presidential candidate John F. Kennedy promised the people of West Virginia to do something for them. The fulfillment of this pledge was the Area Redevelopment Administration — which, of course, dispenses funds from the federal teasury all over the land, not merely to West Virginia. It is supposed to restore prosperity to "depressed areas."

But some of the original enthusiasts for Area Redevelopment are experiencing second thoughts. Trinity County, in California, was surprised to find itself listed as "depressed" and exposed to a grandiose scheme of federal planning, without having asked for aught of the sort.

Senator Clair Engle, a New Frontier Democrat, protested most vehemently that Congress had not intended that the Area Redevelopment program should "force redevelopment medicine down the throats of areas that don't know they are depressed, that haven't applied for this federal assistance, and don't want it."

Up in Lake County, Mich. — where this writer happens to own a house — the same thing is happening: it has been announced, abruptly, that Lake is to be enriched by federal funds and subject to federal organizing.

Well, Lake County is an interesting region. What is very rare in the North, half the county's population is colored — rural Negro — and the county has the only colored prosecuting attorney in the nation, I think. No real industry exists — and no real farming. For Lake County, a flat region of pines and oaks, lives by its woods, its lakes, and its rustic night clubs.

A large part of the population works, in season, for the Michigan Department of Conservation, guarding and improving the forests and the fishing. Summer cottagers bring some money into little Baldwin, the county seat. And two or three lively night clubs flourish during the summer season in Idlewild, the resort for colored people from Chicago and Detroit. Baldwin is a healthy community, with considerable handweaving and pottery - making and other home crafts.

Now just how is Washington bureaucracy going to redevelop Lake County? Lake has no natural resources but the forests and lakes already utilized; its population is scanty; and tho it is true that many people have no gainful employment during winter, they always have lived that way, and budget accordingly. If they preferred big incomes to a pleasant existence in the woods, they would have moved out of Lake County long ago.

In many other regions than Lake County or Trinity County, federal "redevelopment" may mean jobs for the boys — the boys in Washington.

SPURIOUS CLAIM

To the Editor:

Sometimes I cannot help wondering whether a rooster crowing at sunrise really thinks he caused that sunrise.

If a rooster thinks this (or if we assumed it in the manner of Aseop) could we people call him ridiculous?

Could we?. . .After reading the letter of David W. Harris in the Open Parliament of August 13? Listen to this lusty "crow" from his letter:

"If such assistance (foreign aid) had not been given by our country, it is clear that the South Koreans, the Greeks, and other people of the free world would today be living on the other side of the Iron Curtain."

I doubt that even Mr. Harris would attempt to deny that from 1919 to 1945 there were never as many as 200,000,000 people behind the Iron Curtain. Further, I would be interested if he attempted to deny that since "foreign aid" started in one form or another, something over 800,000,000 people have gone behind the Iron Curtain. This was to be expected: When American bureaucrats started looting the American people for the purpose of giving the stolen funds to their counterpart gangsters elsewhere in the world, it was only natural that these dollars would delay the imminent cellapse of "communism" — which cellapse would have taken place quite naturally without the artificial props of these stolen funds.

The claim that "foreign aid" has "halted the spread of communism" is as spurious and ridiculous as would be a claim that high - octane gasoline had "halted the spread of fire." It has impoverished us and financed the spread of communism. It has also created graft and corruption on a scale heretofore unknown in the world.

I cannot read Mr. Harris' mind, of course. Therefore I have no way of knowing whether he is uninformed beyond belief or deliberately trying to distort the truth.

But I would be interested in knowing his connection with the operation of that massive organized lunacy that has the effrontery to call itself "foreign aid." I cannot conceive of anyone rendering public lip-service to this idiocy if it were not a condition of his employment. Perhaps Mr. Harris would not mind divulging this information?

And if his personal employment is involved, his superiors might take note of his damaging admission — in the form of a plea to the people of Colorado for support of the program. He pointed out that one dollar out of every fifteen thousand six hundred and five have been spent on purchase orders in Colorado.

Doesn't the release of such frank and damaging information as this border on the verge of a serious bungle in the view of his employers?

POLITICAL SHOPLIFTERS

To the Editor:

Friday the 17th of August the people of Colorado were disgraced. The President of the United States of America honored the state and especially the City of Pueblo by paying them a visit. The best the program committee could do was to have him introduced by a political shoplifter. Almost every day the Gazette publishes accounts of one or more shoplifters who have been caught in the act. Some of these are old enough to be jailed. Some are so young that they are merely turned over to their parents with the hope perhaps that some suitable punishment will be administered or some helpful advice given to them.

Some few people may perhaps remember that U.S. Senator John A. Carroll was caught helping himself to over a thousand dollars a month which he supposedly paid his daughter for half-time service while she was a law student. When he was asked to explain his action he had nothing to say, at least in reply to my queries. Surely anyone in his right mind must know that he was merely helping himself to funds that had been entrusted to him to use in public service. When a shoplifter is caught, the goods in his possession are taken from him and returned to the rightful owner. Has any report been published that Senator Carroll returned a single dollar to the fund from which he lifted it? I have not seen any.

What does the Carroll - for-Senator Committee have to say on the subject? Is either political party in Colorado so short of honest men that it must nominate and renominate known looters of our money? Would it not be just as appropriate for the City of Denver to reappoint its ex-policemen to the acting force as soon as their term of office in Canon City is finished?

Perhaps part of the reason for juvenile delinquents is such cynical disregard for common decency on the part of some men in responsible political positions and on the part of political groups that aid and abet them by renominating them instead of calling them to task for wrong doing. We voters should keep a few things in mind.

New York Paces Slowdown

By PAUL HARVEY

New York City, like it or not, exerts tremendous influence over the rest of us. Through centralization of our nation's finances on Wall Street, entertainment suited to Broadway tastes, fashionwise and otherwise, the tail does wag the dog.

Manhattan Island, pace-setter for the nation, is setting a slower pace.

Three decades ago, it was Madison Avenue which decreed an end to the half-day office workday on Saturday.

Now the "long weekend" has been extended to retail stores, services, many restaurants during July and August.

Initially, the natives used the "torrid heat" as their excuse for escaping the island on weekends. With air conditioning, that excuse is no longer valid, but the precedent is established, the practice perpetuated.

The first weekend in this month of August I found New York virtually shut down.

Efforts to lure visitors for "Summer Festival" are downright deceitful. New York, in July and August, "goes fishing"!

In the theaters, understudies replace vacationing leading men and ladies.

Many prominent restaurants close for two months. Others operate with skeleton staffs so special dishes are "not available in July and August."

Fifth Avenue's elegant stores are locked, empty on Saturdays, and their windows display little more exciting than back-to-school tweeds.

Whole banks of elevators may be shut down in the city's finest hotels—during July and August.

Fashionable shops, and many of Third Avenue's antique dealers, simply close their doors for two months.

No one-day laundry service during July and August, and none at all on Saturdays.

Where is New York City leading us?

Doubtless the example, like the five-day workweek, will gradually infect the provinces with lethargy.

If we could all goof-off and get away with it, I'd be for it.

If, however, we have an international adversary breathing down our necks, determined to overtake and then take over the United States in an economic race, either we win the race or we might not even survive it.

I understand the contemporary clamor for shorter workweeks and longer coffee breaks and earlier retirement and spending the summer in the country and the winter in Florida.

Government, confiscating profits from those who dare to prosper, has discouraged the energetic.

But if leisure is now to be our goal . . .

If pay for not working has diluted our diligence . . .

If Americans add to their cumulative idleness a summer-long nap, the tortoise will pass us.

And surely some future historian will have to write that we, like every other fat nation state in history, were invincible.

Until we died by our own hand.

Business Is Wary Of Government

From Ft. Lauderdale (Fla.) Daily News

Why is American business so distrustful of the Kennedy administration?

This is a question that has bothered administration officials a great deal in recent weeks and, no doubt, even President Kennedy, himself, after making quite a few overtures to regain the confidence of the business world, would like to have a concrete answer.

If so, we might suggest he read a rather remarkable advertisement published in the July 23 edition of the Wall Street Journal.

This ad, written by Art Taham, board chairman of a rather large advertising agency, was a cogent little essay about the role that advertising has played in the development of our economic system and the tremendous improvement in our standard of living. It was entitled "About Fixocrats and Freedom of Choice," and while it is too lengthy to be repeated in toto in this space, there are certain paragraphs in it that go a long way towards explaining the animosity that exists between the administration and many business interests.

Mr. Taham pointed out in the beginning of his essay just how our American system brings the "poor" nearer to the "rich" in this country than any other country in the world simply because mass production, mass advertising, and mass selling bring the best within reach of almost everyone.

He then went on to say:

"Despite the truly wonderful achievements of our system, I hear a great deal of criticism of advertising these days. It comes mostly, I think, from the Fixocrats, those self - elected super thinkers who would like to establish a sort of Dictatorship of the Intelligentsia in which they would decide what is good for everyone and protect the rest of us from the consequences of our own poor judgment.

"They're a confident lot, these Fixocrats. Undismayed by the fact ours is the most successful and the most democratic economic system in the world, they are sure they can fix it better. They see no need to demonstrate their qualifications. They just expect us to hand them the monkey wrench.

"One of the criticism, for example, presented by Schlesinger, Galbraith & Company is that advertising makes people want things they shouldn't. I suppose that might occasionally be true, but it's also true of college educations and bikini bathing suits — and I'm not in favor of outlawing either.

"What S. G. & Co. mean, of course, is that advertising makes people want what S. G. & Co. think the people don't need. What S. G. & Co. attack, whether intentionally or unconsciously, is the most fundamental principle of our society, freedom of choice. Freedom to choose what we will buy — freedom to choose our friends and associates — freedom to choose where and how we will live — freedom to save our money, to spend it wisely or to 'waste' it if we please.

"Freedom of choice has given Americans the world's highest standard of living. Mass production and mass marketing have literally made it more economical to sell the best at a price most everyone can afford. Advertising is democracy in marketing. Thru the competition it stimulates, it brings the best to more millions than ever have had it in any other economic system, and certainly to far more than are securing it under any other economic system today.

"Scheslinger, Galbraith & Company may be master technicians, but I for one would like to see a few successful example of their work before we hand them the monkey wrench."

What Mr. Tatham has expressed in the above paragraphs represent the thinking of a great many American businessmen. They hold no antipathy towards President John F. Kennedy, personally. They acknowledge him to be a highly intelligent man but they simply cannot understand why he has surrounded himself with so many liberal professors and other advisers who seemingly have no basic understanding of what our free enterprise system has accomplished and who are hell-bent to change it to one more to their own personal liking.

President Kennedy can make all the soothing speeches he cares to make but so long as he pays more heed to these "Fixocrats" than he does to more solid and more conservative advisers, so long will he have difficulty convincing businessmen he means what he says.

It does no good, for instance, for Mr. Kennedy to solemnly pronounce he is not against business while at the same time his "Fixocrat" friends are advocating programs and policies completely inimical to our business system.

A man is judged by the kind of company he keeps and if President Kennedy's chosen company is composed of people who think our free enterprise system has outlived its usefulness, then it should be no great puzzle for him to figure out why his administration is looked upon with disfavor by so many members of our business community.

Marilyn Monroe

By AMBROSE HILLS

She had money, looks, brains, just about everything young women aspire to. Yet it is being suggested that she took her own life, and the world is wondering why.

We heard the news at our country cottage, where we were spending the long weekend, and the young folks debated the matter interminably. No doubt your family did the same. And in Marilyn's case, more than in that of most movie stars, there was genuine sorrow. As an actress, she was the best. There is little doubt about that. Whatever faults she may have had, she could act superbly. There must have been some mighty good thoughts and feelings in her makeup or she could never have developed from an ordinary ham actress into a genuinely fine one.

My own view is that she had become a fine person, caught up in a shabby industry, tied to a role which no longer suited her, and she could see no way out.

Some years ago I read about a young lady who had just begun to hit the high spots in Hollywood, and then disappeared. She went to a small town, lived a quiet life, avoided publicity and rejected every offer to return to the big time. I have forgotten her name, but her story impressed me. I would wager that, in her hour of decision, she faced a problem similar to that of Miss Monroe.

She was probably helped, however, in her decision, by the innumerable bits of advice and help her parents had given her in the formative years. When the chips are down and we face real trouble, most of us recall the wisdom of our parents and are able to survive.

Miss Monroe, raised as a waif, did not have such a background, and even the best of psychiatric help could not make up for it. Children well raised by loving parents know that external events cannot bring the peace of mind Miss Monroe seemed unable to find; that this treasure is an inward thing on which we start to pay installments from the first moment a free choice is given to us. It has nothing much to do with wealth, or beauty or fame; it has a great deal to do with the outcome of the thousands of struggles that go on inside of each human being regardless of outward circumstances.

Meat, fish and poultry sales accounted for 24.2 per cent of total supermarket volume in 1960. The companies who advertise meat and fish spent over $9.5 million nationally in daily newspapers to tell consumers about their products.

Macmillan Still Favors Common Market Step

By JOHN GALE

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan revealed today previous assurances to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Britain's wholehearted interest in working for European political unity after the West German leader had expressed some doubts.

Macmillan ordered publication of part of a private letter he wrote Adenauer last month. Adenauer, in a television interview Tuesday night, had expressed reservations about British participation in a West European political union.

The publication of Macmillan's private letter, described here as unprecedented, underlined a growing coolness between the two statesmen on the issue of Britain's future role in the continent. French President Charles de Gaulle also has been described as privately cool to British entry in the Common Market, although both he and Adenauer have stated publicly they want Britain in.

Adenauer said in the television interview that as a German and a European he greeted Britain's eventual membership in the economic union of West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. But he said that it had never been documented that all members of the Common Market should also be members of a European political union.

Adenauer said Macmillan told the British House of Commons July 17 "British membership in the Common Market does not imply membership in a political union of Europe as well. But in a letter he wrote me four days later Mr. Macmillan said quite the contrary—obviously because his ministers were of a different opinion."

Macmillan's letter said the British government had been "watching with sympathetic interest the efforts of the six (Common Market nations), to move toward greater political union."

"I can assure you," the letter continued, "that once the Brussels negotiations (on Britain's bid to join the Common Market) are successfully concluded, we shall wish to join wholeheartedly in this task."

The British Foreign Office said there was no conflict between what Macmillan wrote Adenauer and what he told the House of Commons. In the House, Macmillan said that it had always been clear that membership in the Common Market involved political implications but that Britain would have to judge, step by step, how far to go.

Macmillan has pushed Britain's bid to enter the Common Market despite strong opposition at home and throughout the British Commonwealth. The Brussels negotiations were adjourned last month until October after a deadlock developed on British efforts to get assurances for markets for Commonwealth agricultural products.

WHO'S KIDDING WHOM

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — The speeding motorist identified himself as "James Klein" and produced a driver's license to prove it.

"You're under arrest," patrolman James Kenna replied. "James Klein is my cousin."

The motorist later admitted he was Willie Lee Graham.

450 Employes Lose Jobs in Airline Issue

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eastern Air Lines says 450 employes in customer service won't be called back to work when the air line resumes full operations Sept. 13.

The 450 layoff notices today followed word sent 1,350 maintenance employes Tuesday that they will not be recalled. All are members of the International Association of Machinists and 1,150 of them live in Miami.

An Eastern spokesman gave two reasons for the layoffs.

"When we begin full service we will be operating with 34 fewer aircraft as a result of retirement of older engine aircraft," he said. "Secondly, because of the strike we will be flying fewer total hours."

Public Works Bill Approved By House Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Wednesday approved a hotly contested administration bill to pump up to $900 million into essential public works projects in communities with high unemployment.

Members passed the bill by voice vote after rejecting, on a 221 to 192 roll call, a Republican motion to kill the measure by sending it back to the Public Works Committee.

The action was a clear victory for President Kennedy, who had put the measure high on his economic "must" list. The Senate already has approved a somewhat different measure, and differences between the two bills still must be compromised.

Administration backers said the bill would create jobs fast in areas where they were needed most.

GOP opponents said it would not, and that anyway the bill was only designed to get votes in the November elections.

MOVE TO MONTROSE

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado Wool Growers Association will move its office temporarily from Denver to Montrose, effective Monday. Robert Field, executive secretary, said the move was approved by the board of directors to economize operations. Field lives in Montrose.

Seniors Competition Tightens

Favorites Win Matches But Margins Shrinking

By TOM CUSHMAN

Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

The World Seniors Golf Tournament swung into the quarter-final round this morning after a lengthy weedingout process had assured the third annual event of its most balanced field for the three windup days of action.

The four matches today all figured to be tight as proof was served up during another sun-backed day of firing Wednesday that favorites Howard Creel and Adrian McManus may not breeze into the finals as had been anticipated.

Both won, but Creel got an unexpected tussle from Col. Augustus Regnier of Oakland, Calif. before prevailing, 3 and 2. McManus had a sound scare before edging Stuart Rockey of Los Angeles on the final hole.

In other top bracket matches Frank Godchaux of Abbeville, La. ousted W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth, 4 and 3; George Haggerty of Detroit defeated L. W. Ramsey, 3 and 2; and Adrian French of Los Angeles posted a 2 and 1 win over M. A. McClelland of Kansas City, Mo.

Joining McManus in the winner's circle of the lower bracket were Richard Guelich, Jr. of Buffalo, N. Y. who defeated Francis Clayton of Joplin, Mo., 2 up; Ernie Blanton of Enid, Okla. via a 1 up victory over Howard Frame of Ralo Alto, Calif.; and James McAlvin of Lake Forest, Ill., who wrung out a 2 up win over E. J. Rogers of Oklahoma City in what has to be classed as a minor upset.

Today Godchaux was to take the next shot at knocking Creel off the winner's pedestal which he has not deserted since entering the tournament for the first time last summer. Speculation among close followers of the action suggested that the defending champ might have his hands full with the Louisiana golfer.

The second upper - bracket match promised to be another excellent one with Haggerty, who recently was runner - up in the U. S. Seniors tourney, meeting French, a quarter -finalist here a year ago. Both have been among the more impressive competitors this week, altho French has been bothered by soreness in his right arm.

McManus, whose usually steady game was wavering a bit in Wednesday's heat, was to take on Guelich, who is one of the tourney's more colorful competitors — complete with a gigantic flap - brimmed straw hat that has more success in beating the sun than it has with the gusty Broadmoor winds that shoot down off Cheyenne Mountain.

The fourth match today paired Blanton, another veteran of the Broadmoor course, and McAlvin. It, too, should be close.

The golf was somewhat less hot than the temperature Wednesday. Creel soared three strokes over par, an unusual occurance for him, in his victory over Regnier and still could claim one of the better rounds of the day.

McManus had even more trouble. "Our match was a real seesaw affair," he said afterwards. "Neither of us played well. I had a two-hole lead with three to go and then lost both 16 and 17." The Pasadena, Calif., golfer won with a par effort at 18.

To further point out his troubles, McManus explained his woes at 16. "I still am trying to find a way to lick that hole," he said of the tricky par three. "The first day I used a five iron, the next day a six. Today I went to a seven and still hit over it — just about as I did the first two times."

Action Wednesday did serve to lop a number of competitors from the huge field which started Monday. Finals were set today in two of the lower flights and semifinals in three others.

Semi - finals in the Championship Flight and consolation and Evans Flight and consolation will be Friday with the finals, all over the 18 hole route, coming up Saturday morning.

Reds Veto Tennis Bums

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Russians are going all out for tennis in an effort to catch up with the rest of the world in every way but one — they want no tennis bums.

"Our young players have their schooling to continue and the older ones will have their work," said Russian coach Semen Beliz-Geiman, who Wednesday saw his youngest protege — 18-year-old Alexander Metrevelli — win the first match ever played on American soil by a player from the Soviet Union.

"If we do develop a player of great importance, he will play in many tournaments around the world as long as there is a point to it but not to the exclusion of everything else," said the stocky coach of the Russian team.

In other words, no tennis bums need apply.

Metrevelli, a dark-haired youngster, Wednesday downed 17-year-old Bronson Vay Wyck of Montclair, N.J., 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2, in preliminary test that got him into the 128-man draw for the official start of the U.S. tennis championships Friday.

Alex was one of 74 lesser known men players who faced a qualifying match just to get into the tournament proper.

Russell Wins Hambletonian After 47 Years of Trying

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—It took Anders Russell 47 years to win harness racing' biggest event, the Hambletonian, and now he might have the hottest horse in harness history.

Russell, 62, drove a big bay trotter, A.C.'S Viking, to a straight heat victory in the $116,612 one mile chase for 3-year-olds, and the winner's share of $62,584.29 made the Viking by far the biggest money winner in his class this year.

But it also made him a pretty good choice to become the second horse in history to win harness racing's Triple Crown, and he can do the job if he can capture the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington Oct. 5.

The only horse ever to win the Triple Crown, was Scott Frost in 1955. This year A.C.'S Viking, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Petersen of West Hartford, Conn., was the 5-2 favorite for Wednesday's chase, and he made the odds-makers look good. He drew the worst post position, on the outside of the second tier of starters, behind 10 other horses.

But Russell, driving with a broken ankle suffered a month ago, brought him through the hole when Sprite Rodney, ahead of the Viking in the first tier, moved out in a hurry. Thereafter he moved quickly into contention.

Coming down the stretch Impish, driven by Frank Ervin, and Safe Mission, driven by Joe O'Brien, had the Viking in the middle, but Russell showed his whip to his talwart bay, and that was enough. He won by a length and three quarters.

In the second heat, the Viking was on the rail in the first row, but Russell didn't push him. He was fifth at the half, and then he began to move. Coming into the stretch, Isaac, driven by John Simpson, was setting the pace.

Then Russell went to the whip, in earnest. The Viking gave everything, and nipped Isaac by a head.

His time for the two heats was 1:59 3-5, equalling the third astest in Hambletonian history, and 2:00. The only horse ever to hang up a quicker heat was last year's winner, Harlan Dean, with 1:58 2-5 and 1:59. Hoot Frost and Quick Song has 1:59 3-5 also.

Caddy-Scholars Benefit From World Senior Golf

The World Seniors Golf Tournament currently in progress at the Broadmoor course, is beginning to fill a purpose which is undoubtedly beyond the expectations of founder Chick Evans.

Evans, who was the force behind the origin of this tournament three years ago, also has gained fame thru former golfing feats and the establishment of the Evans Scholars Foundation which provides scholarships for deserving caddies.

Thru the efforts of Broadmoor president, Thayer Tutt, and Roy W. (Wally) Walholm, a Western Golf Association official and active campaigner for the Evans Foundation, the World Seniors is becoming one of the Foundation's more generous benefactors.

Friday night at the annual Awards Banquet for the tournament, all proceeds above the actual cost of the meals and entertainment will go to the sholarship fund. Tickets are scaled at $10 and thru a vigorous selling job by Walholm and others, a large crowd is expected.

Caddies' Benefactor

Walholm, however, has found the Seniors a fertile ground for another of his interests connected with the Foundation. The Par Club, a unique organization set up the Western Golf Association, has seen its membership increase during the week of the tournament.

The Par Club is an elite organization which is virtually honorary but has an annual membership fee of $100. The proceeds from these fees go into the scholarship fund and last year this unusual plan provided nearly 30 per cent of the Foundation's operating capital.

Membership in the Club is from coast to coast. Each person joining receives a gold Par Club tie par (or in the case of women members, a bold bracelet charm) and each year the members receive a special Par Club bag tag with their name imprinted.

There were 919 members in the organization last year and Walholm says that the membership has grown during the present year. "We had only three members in Colorado Springs last year but I believe there are about 20 now," Walholm said this week.

The first year the Club was in operation was 1950 and there were just 100 members at that time. But the Foundation, which had awarded just 168 scholarships in 1950, has now awarded more than 1,200 indicating that the growth of the two is certainly relative.

Some 24 universities now participate in the plan and there were 443 Evans Scholars attending in 1961.

Walholm said Wednesday that three area lads who have received Evans scholarships left Wednesday for Chicago where they will attend the annual Scholars Outing at the Medinah Country Club. Approximately 500 Scholars, alumni, and directors attend the festivities which wind up with the Awards Banquet Friday night. Those attending from this area are Chuck Berry of the Broadmoor, Robert J. Popish of the Denver Country Club, and Michael Youel of Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver.

Colorado Springs Gals Defeated in Amateur

By MARTIN GLEASON

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Twenty-four years—the age of defending champion Anne Quast Decker—separates the youngest and oldest contestants today in the quarter-finals of the 62nd U.S. Women's Amateur golf championship.

The "baby" of this United States Golf Association (USGA) tournament at the Country Club of Rochester is 17-year-old Ann Baker of Maryville, Tenn. The senior member of the eight-player cast is Mrs. Harry Nevil, 41, of Cooperstown, N.Y.

The other surviving candidates for Mrs. Decker's crown are Mrs. Decker, Joanne Gunderson, 23, Kirkland, Wash., Phyllis Preuss, 23, Pompano Beach, Fla.; Barbara Williams, 24, Richmond, Calif.; Marcia McLachlan, 21, Danbury, Conn., and Patricia Hahn, 22, Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. Decker, bidding for the title she won last year and in 1958, scrambled past two stubborn opponents Wednesday enroute to the quarter-finals this afternoon. The history teacher from Marysville, Wash., fired par golf for 16 holes in stopping her hostess for this tourney, Mrs. Jean Trainor of Rochester, N.Y., 3 and 2.

She slipped a little in the afternoon match over the 36-36 par 72, 161-yard sun-baked layout but had enough to dispose of Judy Rand, Aurora, Ohio, by the same score, 3 and 2. Mrs. Decker now takes on Miss Hahn, the Delaware state women's champion.

Mis Hahn carded a snappy 74 to halt 15-year-old Janis Ferraris, San Francisco, Calif., 2-up, and repeated the 2-up method against Joan Gavigan, Troy, Ohio, a former Wisconsin junior champion.

Blonde Miss Gunderson, also seeking her third women's title, tied together her patented long-hitting game with pinpoint putting to defeat Mrs. Natasha Matson Fife, Wichita, Kan., and Nancy Holmes, Nashville, Tenn., both by 5 and 4.

Miss Williams gained a 3 and 2 victory over American Curtis Cupper Judy Bell and a 4 and 3 win over Karen Schull, Missouri Women's state champion from Kansas City.

Miss McLachlan, who winters in St. Petersburg, Fla., added 1959 champion Barbara McIntire, 27, Colorado Springs, Colo., to her list of victims 3 and 2, after struggling 19 holes before taking Mrs. Harton Semple, Sewickley, Pa., 1-up.

Vet Hounds In Feature At Dog Track

Tonight's nine and feature race at the Rocky Mountain Kennel Club brings to the oval eight of the veteran greyhounds from the youthful season entering its 10th night.

With three starts each as they enter the boxes tonight, it is Summit Kennel's Patty's Joy, B and B Kennel's Tumbler's Baby, Paul Sutherland's Aljora and Joe Mamino's S. W. Blake. Tumbler's Baby will no doubt be the favorite with two wins already, but a first and second already for both Aljora and Faith Hope will make experienced handicappers take a second look at the lines.

Faith Hope, Sky Label and Casandra with two starts each are the least experienced this season on the RMKC oval with the veteran being Gay Secret, four times out of the boxes before tonight.

With an attendance of over 2,200 at RMKC Wednesday night, some big payoffs were recorded but none broke the track records for the infant season. Wednesday night was the ninth night of the current 60-day meet.

Two hundred and fifty nine people shared in the Daily Double, the three-two combination paying off for the first time this season. Individual ticket shares in the $4,944. Daily Double pool were paid at $22.40 to the 259 holders.

Two high win payoffs in the fourth and fifth races were when F. B. Stutz's Bamboozle, number 8, paid $20.60 to be followed in the next race by Ortega Road paying $20.40 for the win. Persons taking Bamboozle "across the board" collected $24.40 for their six dollar investment. Bamboozle paid $15.40 for place in the fourth, the high for the night.

Manitou Springs Grids In for Rough Campaign

By JERRY MEGAHAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Move over, Jerry Carle. There's at least one other member of the Pikes Peak region coaching fraternity besides the Colorado College mentor who has a right to sing the blues. What could happen to coach Bill Phelps and his Manitou Springs gridders this autumn should only happen to a dog.

Only seven lettermen mosey back to the Mustang corral from a 1961 aggregation which won just one game in nine trips to the post and finished next to the bottom in the Pikes Peak League. So far, there are no outstanding transfers to help ease the pain, either.

"I read in the paper about how light Eldon Helm's Cheyenne Mountain team as going to be this season and I almost cried," said Phelps. "He's only got one boy who weighs over 200 pounds. The heaviest boy on our roster is only 170 pounds and he's a back."

To make things even worse, only 37 players have come out for football at Manitou thus far, which means that there isn't even too many lightweights to choose from. Several of Phelps' linemen this fall will scale in the neighborhood of 130 pounds. "What makes it really frightening is the fact that we aren't overly fast, either," Phelps grimaced.

Graduation stripped the Mustangs of most of their linemen, including second team all-Pikes Peak tackle Dale Titus.

Ron Thomas, 150 pound senior, returns to one end post. Who'll be playing on the other side of the line from him is a moot question but Phelps has liked the spirit displayed by John Lobaugh, 125 pound junior.

Lance Huffman, 150 pound junior, was last year's starting center, which takes care of one position, but the interior linemen on either side of him have graduated to greener gridirons.

Charles Graff, 160 pound senior, started at guard last fall and will no doubt lock up a similar position this fall unless he moves over to tackle. Joe Chapman, 165 pound senior, lettered at center figures at either one or the other tackle or guard spot.

Things look a little brighter in the backfield. Last year's starting fullback, Steve Hart, is back and he may ramble occasionally if he gets a little running room. An 170 pound senior, Hart is the biggest man on the Mustang squad.

Quarterback apparently belongs to Bill Schorer, 150 pound junior, who played mostly "B" ball but saw enough varsity action to letter. He's a fair sort of thrower who should have plenty of reason to unlimber his pitching arm this autumn.

Tom Bear, 145 pound senior, saw mostly defensive action last season but will get a good shot at a halfback position this time around. However, Bear injured his neck last season, then reinjured it again recently in an auto accident so he won't hit the practice field for at least another week.

Among the non-lettered candidates, Dan Wheeler, 155 pound sophomore, looks like a comer.

The Mustangs upset Harrison last season to save themselves from the Pikes Peak cellar and Phelps feels that his crew may have a fighting chance against the lesser denisens of the loop. He flinches, however, every time he thinks of Salida, Air Academy High, Widefield and Cheyenne Mountain.

"If nothing but sheer desire wins ball games, then we may win one or two here and there," says Phelps. "But most of the teams on our schedule have more depth, more weight and more speed than we do."

Our problem in the Pikes Peak League is that most of the areas in the league have expanded in populations whereas Manitou Springs has increased hardly at all. We have a student body of 300, including girls, and some of our rivals have 700 kids to choose from."

Any way you look at it, it looks like a long, cold autumn up in the shadow of Pikes Peak.

By TE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Denver grabbed an early lead and staved off a late Indianapolis rally Wednesday to beat the Indians 7-6 in American Association baseball.

Al Koch, third Denver pitcher in the ninth inning, took over with bases loaded, fanned two batters and retired another on an infield forceout to preserve the victory for starter Bob Dustal.

Oklahoma City defeated Louisville 8-4 to snap a six-game Colonel winning streak, and Omaha edged Dallas-Fort Worth 6-5.

Denver massaged southpaw Gary Peters hard in the early innings when the Bears jumped in front 7-1 by the end of six.

Cleveland Out of Race But Still Hurt Yanks

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Back in mid-season the Cleveland Indians were very much in the American League running and giving the New York Yankees fits.

They're heading into the stretch now and the Indians have dropped off sharply. But they're still giving the Yankees fits.

With a late-inning rally in one game and an early-inning spurt in the other, Cleveland's seventh-place Tribe beat Ralph Houk's reeling Yankees twice 3-2 and 9-5 Wednesday. It was the Indians' fourth doubleheader sweep over New York this season and gave them 11 victories in 17 games with the fizzling Bombers.

More importantly, it made eight losses in the last 10 games for the Yankees — and a couple of pursuers are moving up.

Star right-hander Camilo Pascual won for the first time since afflicted with a sore elbow a month ago as Minnesota took its fourth in a row, 5-3 over Chicago, and moved into second place — two games back of New York. Kansas City trimmed Los Angeles 6-0 on Orlando Pena's three-hit pitching, but the Angels inched up a half game on the Yanks and are three games off the pace.

Baltimore cut loose for a 9-3 romp over Washington. The Detroit Tiger-Red Sox doubleheader at Boston was rained out.

The Indians settled the opener at Yankee Stadium with a tatoo of four straight singles off southpaw reliever Bud Daley after two were out in the eighth inning. Hits by Tito Francona, Willie Kirkland and John Romano broke a 1-1 tie and Woody Held drove across what proved the clincher. Roger Maris homered in the last of the eighth and hit no. 31 in the second game.

Cleveland warmed up with two runs off rookie Jim Bouton in the second inning of the nightcap, made it 5-0 in the third on Kirkland's three-run homer, and added to their total off relievers Bob Turley and Tex Clevenger.

Bob Allison homered with two on, highlighting a four-run first inning that carried the Twins over the White Sox. Minnesota's early splurge against Ray Herbert came with two out on singles by Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew, Allison's homer, a double by Bernie Allen and Zoilo Versalles' single.

Pena, winner in three of four decisions since being brought up from the minors by the A's a month ago, allowed a pair of singles to Jim Fregosi, one to Billy Moran and one walk in throttling the Angels. Norm Siebern carried in the first run off Bo Belinsky (8-8) in the fourth when he tripled and scored on a ground out. Bobby Del Greco singled a run across against the celebrated Los Angeles left-hander in the fifth and Jerry Lumpe whacked him for a two-run double in the seventh.

Roebuck Makes Strides As Top Comeback Player

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Comeback of the Year? How about Ed Roebuck, the dead-arm guy of 1961 who's turned out to be a real live one for the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 31-year-old relief specialist continued his spectacular comeback Wednesday night, pitching four innings of shutout relief before the Dodgers finally edged Cincinnati's third-place Reds 2-1 on Johnny Roseboro's bases-loaded single in the 13th inning.

It was the ninth victory against no defeats for Roebuck, who used sheer guts and constant toil to break down adhesions behind his right shoulder after spending almost the entire 1961 season on the disabled list and showing little promise in spring training.

The doctors had given up on Roebuck, but Roebuck hadn't. He worked out at the Arizona Instructional League last winter and threw to the Dodger farm hands. He kept at it during spring training and finally made the team.

Dodgers 6½ games in front of the defending champion Reds and upped their edge over second-place San Francisco to 3½ games. Milwaukee knocked off the Giants 10-3 behind Bob Hendley's seven-hitter and homers by Hank Aaron and Lou Johnson.

Bob Friend posted his 15th victory as fourth-place Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2. Jim Campbell's ninth inning homer gave Houston a 3-2 decision over St. Louis and Philadelphia edged the New York Mets 3-2 in 10 innings.

The Reds scored first, getting a run off 22-game winner Don Drysdale in the sixth on Don Blasingame's double, a wild pitch and a single by Vada Pinson. Reds' starter Joey Jay had a one-hit shutout going into the ninth. He retired the first two batters, but Frank Howard stroked a single and Duke Snider followed with a triple that tied it.

Federal Policies More Favor Branch Banking

DENVER (UPI) — State Bank Commissioner Frank E. Goldy said today Colorado, which has outlawed branch banking, may wind up with it because of federal policies.

He said federal currency controller James J. Saxon was, in effect, authorizing branch banking in Colorado by granting national bank charters to affiliates of existing banks.

He gave these examples:

—A national charter was issued in 1960 to the Arapahoe National Bank, "clearly" an affiliate of the First National Bank of Boulder.

—A national charter also was issued to the Cache National Bank of Greeley, which appeared to have close ties to the Greeley National Bank.

—Saxon issued a charter to the Glendale, Colo., South Denver National Bank, whose organizers are directors of the Cherry Creek National Bank of Denver.

Goldy said two groups, one appearing to be affiliated with an existing bank and one apparently independent, have applied for charters in Fort Collins. The apparent affiliate has asked for both state and national charters, the other group for a state charter.

"The law requires us to give public notice and to have a public hearing," Goldy said. "He (Saxon) doesn't need to have hearings or give notice. He is responsible only to the president of the United States."

Rocket Plane Wings Red Hot in Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An X15 rocket plane skimmed across the top of the atmosphere Wednesday with its wings and nose red hot in the most difficult heat-research flight yet.

Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth put the stubby-winged craft through a steep bank and a figure S maneuver toslow his speed and land safely at this desert test center after a nine-minute flight.

A spokesman said temperatures on the X15's steel alloy skin were held below 1,100 degrees by a difficult maneuver that utilized the thin air as a speed-braking cushion.

To do this Rushworth elevated the plane's nose 19 degrees above the flight path, exposing the undersurfaces to the onrushing air. The 19-degree angle of attack was the highest yet attempted in a heat flight, but 23 degrees has been achieved in returning from higher altitudes.

A permanent outdoor barbecue surfaced with real creamic tile will be easy to clean, heatproof and durable.

Gil Gray Shrine Circus At Memorial Park Sept. 5-8

Always noted for its unusual animal acts, the Gil G. Gray Shrine Circus will play Colorado Springs four days — eight performances — next week.

An annual visitor to Colorado Springs for many years, the circus will set up at Memorial Park, and will present performances twice daily, at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m., Wednesday thru Saturday next week.

Included in the spectacular array of animal acts will be that of Miss Gertie and her elephants, Tillie, Minnie and Jennie.

On the program, too, will be the famous Singh Pigmy Zebus, the only act of its kind of the world. The Zebu, or sacred ox of India, is worshiped as a god and has never been permitted to leave the country. Gray's Zebus have been given a two-year leave of absnece, however, and must return to India at the close of the 1963 season.

Dave Hoover will be on hand with his 10 fighting lions, and has added Royal Bengal tigers to his "big cat" exhibit and his mixed display is a demonstration of wild animal mastery.

Back after a two-year absence will be the Lemke Chimpanzees, five natural jungle comedians. The chimps have a new routine of tricks, including a take-off on the astronaut chimp, first live animal put into space. Two cute babies are included in the simian troupe.

Other trained wild animal acts include Allen's Alaskan black bears, Peterson's leopards, Karl's Llamas, Kay's Zebras and two groups of trained dogs.

This year the circus offers such new acts as the Carlyle Troup, a six-person acrobatic act; the Johnson Flyers; Kinko and his Squat Car; the Bounding Donalds and a new high act from Sweden, the Weingartners.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

(© 1962, By the Chicago Tribune)

HOLLYWOOD, J. Lee Thompson, the English director who did "Guns of Navarone," left my office for a meeting with Mirisch brothers and made a deal to produce and direct four pictures from them in addition to "The Mound Builders," which he starts in December. Thompson is one of the most refreshing Englishmen I've ever met, and what endeared him to me forever was his comment that all the people who criticize Hollywood do it out of jealousy: "There isn't an actor anywhere in the world—with the one exception of Brigitte Bardot— who wouldn't give up everything for a chance to come to Hollywood. It's still the movie capital of the world."

Shirley MacLaine left husband and daughter in Paris five days ago. They went directly to Tokyo; she came here. Now she's flying to Japan to spend her 9th anniversary.

Richard Harris, after doing "Mutiny," got his salary upped from $2,000, to $10,000 when he returned to England. For the added scenes on "Mutiny" he wanted his new established salary. They compromised—for $7,500 a week. For his next picture, he will get $15,000. Do you wonder why actors like to work in America?

Rory Calhoun looks sensational after a three month bout with hepatitis, and I think he's just what the doctor ordered to play the movie star in "Mary, Mary," which Mervyn Leroy will produce and direct for Warners.

Carol Burnett stays but two weeks in Vegas. The boys working with her are from the Garry Moore show and have to get back to Garry. Carol goes east to do "Calamity Jane" on TV, and she'll take her Vegas loot with her: "I'm so dumb I can't gamble. I take a pad and pencil to the blackjack table. But I did hit the nickel jackpot."

I asked why she didn't do a solo act: "I'm basically chicken I like lots of people around." Carol hopes to do a musical on Broadway—that's why she won't sign for a series of her own.

When Julie Newmar loaned George Hamilton her New York apartment, her mind was working way ahead: "It'll pay off. I may want to stay in his apartment in Rome." I told her to ask for the gorgeous Jean Louis clothes she wears in "Three on a Match." She doesn't have to work in the picture until after Labor day, so she is taking her parents to Las Vegas.

Robert Preston, talking about his trip to Greece for "Not on Your Life!" said: "I've been on rougher locations 300 miles from Hollywood. That Morton Dacosta is the luckiest director around. He needed something to keep the beautiful Aegean sea from looking like a painted backdrop, and just when he was ready to shoot, along came a couple of yachts.

I asked if he saw the king and queen of Greece. "No," said Bob, "they were locationing some place else."

Rudy Vallee's getting more publicity now than when he was the vagabond lover. Claims young folks who want to get ahead in show business—or any other business—should learn how to succeed in the business of handling their own personal affairs instead of putting them in the hands of experts, who sometimes turn out to be something else.

Bees Land in Grass Atop Skyscraper

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A swarm of perhaps 10,000 bees spotted a tiny patch of green high among the skyscrapers of Kansas City Wednesday. They landed on it.

It was the small patio opening onto the office of James M. Kemper Sr., chairman of the board of the Commerce Trust Co.

Kemper carefully snipped the branch on which the swarm aws buzzing, dropped branch, bees and all into a burlap bag and ordered them taken to his home.

He already has seven hives.

Lucy and Vivian Back in Show Team Together

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance are back at the same old stand, three years and a few husbands later.

The famed red-haired star and her blonde pal are teamed once again for television, their first engagement together since the end of nine fabulous years of "I Love Lucy."

This time it's "The Lucy Show." The girls are the same as ever, though their marital status needs some explaining.

Lucille has shed her real and television husband, Desi Arnaz, and married comedian Gary Morton, but Desi remains producer of the new show.

Vivian is no longer married to her real spouse, actor Philip Ober, nor to William Frawley, her ever-loving husband of "I Love Lucy." She is now the wife of literary agent John Dodds.

To keep the confusion to the minimum, the new show features them husbandless — Lucille by death and Vivian by divorce.

I found Vivian on a rehearsal day at the Desilu lot, where she is established in a swank suite.

What has Vivian been doing for the last three years?

"Everything I could," she replied. "I played the Jack Paar show, summer stock; I kept as busy as possible. There was a special reason for this.

"I had to find my own identity. I was so submerged in Ethel Mertz that I was afraid I would never again be recognized for my ownself. Oh, I was grateful to her for the biggest success I had ever known. But, being a creative person, I was worried that I would be stuck doing the same role all my life."

She is perhaps more aware of her identity than most persons. She suffered a nervous breakdown 10 years ago and spent several years in analysis.

Treatment restored her balance and left her a zealot for mental health. Now living in Stamford, she has spent much of her spare time in mental hospitals in Connecticut as a volunteer worker with patients.

She appears happy in her marriage to Dodds, whom she met on a blind date in Santa Fe, N.M. She started the series in July, will be finished with the 30-show season in February.

Doesn't she run the risk of submerging her identity again?

"I don't think so," she said. "At least my name is Vivian in the show, I'll be playing my own age and I can wear more attractive dresses. I had to play Ethel Mertz older and kind of dowdy; also, Ethel seldom smiled. Me, I like to be happy."

DEFORMED

BONN, Germany (AP)—An estimated 5,000 German children have been deformed by thalidomide taken by the mothers during pregannacy, a West German health official said Wednesday.

Jose Stralau told a news conference the act obviously has passed.

Pensioners Win Big Pot in British Pool

LONDON (AP)—An aged couple—both old-age pensioners—won $174,420 today on a two-penny bet in the British soccer pools.

Ellis Jones, 75, and his wife, Mabel, 70, of Bristol, correctly picked eight tie games in last Saturday's contests.

Son of Wainwright Arrives in Viet Nam

TOKYO (UPI) — The Communist Chinese New China news agency today noted the arrival in South Viet Nam of the son of the late World War II hero Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stillwell.

The agency, in a broadcast monitored here, reported that U.S. Army Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell Jr., "is the son of Joseph Stillwell, once commander of U.S. troops in Kuomintang-controlled areas of China in the Second World War."

Educator Says Many High Schools Are Too Small

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

BLOOMFIELD, Iowa (AP) — One out of every three high school seniors in this country today has been denied a good education because the school he attends is too small.

Not one high school in four is big enough to afford the courses, the facilities, and the teachers to provide a substantial program.

Those statements were made by Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard, after his two-year study of the American public high school.

The proof, and the remedy, are to be found here in Davis County, where voters went to the polls and overwhelmingly approved a school district reorganization plan that combined 62 separate school districts into one.

The vote abolished 27 one-room schools and put the death sentence on 21 others. It also eliminated the Troy and Pulaski high schools.

Fifty boys and girls from Troy and Pulaski enrolled in Bloomfield High School, and suddenly a wide and wonderful world began to unfold.

Now, in a school with 568 students, they could study a foreign language, take a fourth year of English, and schedule courses in physics, chemistry, trigonometry, economics, sociology, geography, advanced civics, shorthand—even driver education.

All these had been denied them in Pulaski (population 389) and Troy (population 394) because the high schools were too small.

During the 1960-61 school year, its last year in existence, Pulaski High had 46 students and four full-time teachers. Troy had 25 students and three full-time teachers.

Each also had a part-time music instructor, and a superintendent who taught American history and supervised the study hall two periods a day.

This isn't just an Iowa problem; it is national in scope. Only in California and New Jersey do 90 per cent of the high school seniors attend schools which are large enough by accepted standards.

The problem is particularly severe in Arkansas, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Vermont and Wyoming. In these states, nine out of 10 high schools have fewer than 100 students in the graduating class.

In recent years, Iowa has led the nation in reorganizing and consolidating its school districts, and in eliminating the too-small high school.

This is appropriate, because Iowa has been among the last of the states to get started.

In 1954-55 there were 4,417 school districts in the state, operating 3,261 one-room schools and 819 high schools. This past year there were 1,575 school districts operating fewer than 500 one-room schools and 562 high schools.

The goal: elimination of all one-room schools by next year, and a reduction to 150-200 school districts and high schools by 1965.

Nationally, there are more than 40,000 separate school boards. The President's commission on national goals says this number should be reduced to not more than 10,000 by 1970.

This is a large order, and it won't be easily achieved.

Small towns are reluctant to give up their high schools, no matter how inefficient they might be.

Having a high school gives a town status. In the Middle West particularly, the cross-roads hamlets treasure their high school basketball teams.

Consolidation, such as that now going on in Iowa, nearly always means an increase in taxes in the rural areas.

There is also a fear of losing local control of the schools, and a loss of business to local merchants.

Last February, representatives of small towns all over Iowa gathered in Des Moines. They urged the state legislature to curb the power of the state board of education, which has been using considerable legal pressure to force school district reorganization.

The curb effort failed, but not until there had been angry charges that large schools promote juvenile delinquency, and heated claims that a small school can be just as good as a big school.

But here in Davis County, Bloomfield High hired four badly needed teachers from Pulaski, including a hard-to-get full-time science teacher and an equally hard-to-get full-time English teacher. The three teachers from Troy and the part-time music instructors had no trouble getting jobs in other cities.

With these new teachers, and with more revenue and more students, the school program was able to be expanded immediately. Further expansion is scheduled for this fall.

The state's colleges and universities will benefit, too.

Iowa State University, for instance, has had to offer as many as 18 sections of high school mathematics for freshmen engineering students who had attended high schools too small to offer any more than elementary algebra and geometry.

Of course details vary from state to state, but this is the curse of the too-small high school wherever you find it. It's a rare high school indeed which, with only three or four teachers, can adequately prepare a youngster for college in a day when college admission standards are getting tougher and tougher.

Spacecraft Correction Is Being Plotted

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists were calculating the proper point today at which they should radio a command to Mariner 2 spacecraft aiming it closer to Venus.

Scientists calculated that at noon (PDT) today Mariner 2 was 469,187 miles from the earth and and traveling 7,093 m.p.h. The earth's pull gradually slows the spacecraft, a spokesman explained. Later the sun's pull will accelerate it until, in the vicinity of Venus, its speed will be approximately 85,000 m.p.h.

At present the 447-pound craft jammed with electronic gear is 250,000 miles off course. U.S. officials hope that the radioed correction—sent to a special motor aboard the Mariner—will send it to within 10,000 miles.

A spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here said the direction change command could come this weekend.

But first, probably Thursday, the Mariner must be ordered to point its antenna directly back toward earth. Without this, the craft would not be able to pick up properly the command to change its directions.

An old Christian tradition says that the Virgin Mary spent her last years in the city of Ephesus in Asia Minor, which was once a great center of pagan worship.

Future Water Shortage Feared by Scientist

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government scientist has warned of future water shortages unless more attention is given to conservation of this resource.

Lloyd E. Myers, Agriculture Department engineer, told a meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America Tuesday that water conservation has been neglected in favor of developing new supplies by constructing reservoirs, stream diversions, and ground water pumping systems.

Myers said there is need for further research on ways and means of conserving water used not only in agriculture but in industry and homes.

Canyonlands Bill Future Seen Not Too Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Interior Committee approved Tuesday a bill which would establish a canyonlands national park in southeastern Utah but sponsors were not too optimistic at chances of getting the bill through Congress this year.

The bill okayed by the committee would set up a park of 332,292 acres. It now goes to the Senate for possible consideration.

A House Interior Subcommittee has held hearings on a similar bill but has taken no action.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, sponsor of the Senate bill, said in a statement that it would be difficult to get Senate action on the measure this year.

"However," he said, "even should the Senate not act, we still have achieved a very important milestone with the action of the Interior Committee." He added:

"The debate in the committee indicated a general belief that the canyonlands area is worthy of national park status, but questions were raised on the secondary uses of the land which the bill would authorize.

"I believe that we must reorient our thinking concerning land uses to permit the addition of this superb area to our national park system without precluding mining and other activities where they can be carried on without destroying or impairing the value of the park."

The bill provides for mining, hunting, and grazing as secondary uses in the park, which would be 30 miles long and 15 miles wide at the junction of the Green and Colorado rivers in southeastern Utah.

The mining provision permits substantial application of the general mining laws, except that the secretary of the interior may promulgate regulation necessary to protect the scenic, scientific and recreation values, Moss said.

Hunting would be permitted under the same provisions which govern it in Grand Teton National Park. This provides for a permanent wildlife conservation plan jointly developed by the state and federal governments. Hunters entering the park would be licensed by the state and deputized as rangers by the secretary of the interior.

Skybolt Missile Training Is Begun in Denver

DENVER (AP) — A $30 million program to train men who will put the Skybolt ballistic missile into the air for the United States and Great Britain was launched today at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver.

It envisions training as many as 8,000 technicians to handle all phases of Skybolt maintenance—from actual loading of the missile on bombers to care of intricate guidance systems.

The goal is to have Skybolt operational by the end of 1964, it was announced at special ceremonies marking the official start of the program.

The Skybolt, almost 40 feet long and armed with a nuclear warhead, is a two-stage missile designed for launching from B52 Stratofortress bombers of the U.S. Air Force and Vulcan bombers of the Royal Air Force. Each B52 equipped to deliver the weapon can carry four of the missiles under its wings and each Vulcan two.

Skybolt has a range of 1,000 miles and compares with Polaris and Minuteman in accuracy and striking power, it was announced. The air-to-ground missile was developed by the Douglas Aircraft Co. and already undergone tests over the Atlantic prounounced successful. Development cost will be about $465 million when the program is completed, said Brig. Gen. David M. Jones, Skybolt project director for the Air Force.

Its use, he said, will mean "an airborne Cape Canavaral in every B52."

Liquor License Grant Is Upheld by Court

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado Supreme Court has upheld the Montrose City Council and District Judge E. L. Dutcher in granting a liquor license to a Montrose cafe over protests by almost 1,000 residents.

The license was sought for Mary's Cafe, a motel restaurant in a residential section of Montrose on U.S. 50.

Rural Areas Show Less Anti-Semitism

NEW YORK (AP)— A Cornell University study says small-town American Jews run into much less anti-semitism than Jews living in big cities.

The study, released Monday, says Jews in small towns become an integral part of the social life of their communities through daily formal and informal contact with their Christian neighbors.

"In this way," said Prof. Peter I. Rose, "each gets to know the other, and the rural Jew finds himself better accepted among his neighbors than does the city Jew."

Jews were interviewed in New York communities of less than 10,000 population, and more than half named Christians as their closest friends. Some 81 per cent said they found no discrimination of any kind, and 83 per cent belonged to non-Jewish organizations.

Rose conducted the study under the sponsorship of the Anti-Defamation League of B'Nai B'Rith, national Jewish service and fraternal organization.

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon and Edmund G. Brown are ready for a showdown fight to see who will be governor of California for the next four years.

Both the 49-year-old former vice president and the 57-year-old Democrat who now sits in the governor's chair in Sacramento plan to launch an all-out campaign on Labor Day. The decision will come Nov. 6 when more than 7 million voters will pick the winner.

So important to both political parties regard the Nixon-Brown battle that President Kennedy is expected to make at least one trip to the West to campaign for Brown while ex-president Eisenhower is pledged to make one and possibly two speeches for Nixon.

The stakes are high.

The winner will become the chief executive of the state to be the nation's most populous, a state growing in political influence every year.

In 1964, whoever is governor of California will command almost 100 votes in the national convention of his party.

The election is regarded as particularly vital to Nixon if he expects to remain a national political figure.

Even though he insists he will not be a candidate for president in 1964 if he wins the governorship, it is obvious Nixon would have a strong voice in determining the GOP nominee if he headed the California delegation.

As for Brown, an active politician in his home state almost all his life, November will determine if the voters approve his four-year program of "responsible liberalism." And it also will be a test, to a degree, of Kennedy's personal popularity in a state which Nixon carried in the 1960 presidential election by a bare 35,000 votes.

One of the high spots of the campaign is expected to be a joint appearance of the two candidates before the National Conference of United Press International Editors and Publishers in San Francisco Oct. 1.

Replying to an invitation extended by Richard A. Litfin of UPI, conference director, both Brown and Nixon agreed to appear on the same platform to discuss campaign issues.

It will be one of the few face-to-face meetings between the two men during the entire campaign although in mid-October they are expected to engage in one statewide television debate.

Supporters of both say they are eager for a head-on meeting.

Nixon's staff points out that Nixon was a champion debater in high school, a member of his debating team in college and has engaged in debate with almost all of his political opponents during the years.

At the very outset of his political career, when he first ran for congress in 1946, Nixon engaged in a series of sharp verbal exchanges with Democratic incumbent H. Jerry Voorhis, whom he defeated. Two years later, he tangled once in debate with Helen Gahagan Douglas in his successful campaign for a U.S. Senate seat.

As for the 1960 presidential campaign and the series of debates with Kennedy, some of Nixon's aides admit the results might have been a factor in Nixon's narrow loss. But they insist that in several exchanges Nixon came out on top.

Brown, like Nixon, is a lawyer and he, too, has had experience in the rough and tumble political debate.

He got his nickname "Pat" from his oratorical ability as a high school student selling Liberty Bonds in World War I.

He usually ended his sales pitch by echoing Patrick Henry's immortal phrase "give me liberty or give me death"—and his fellow students called him "Pat" from then on.

In 1958 when Brown ran for governor against the then U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland, UPI editors in Southern California staged a no-holds-barred debate between the two men at Ojai, Calif.

To this day, Brown regards it as one of the high points of his campaign and has said he felt his performance that night was a factor in his election victory over Knowland.

Robbers Give Railroad Agent 'Donations'

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (UPI) — The two holdup men who forced Long Island railroad agent Joseph Sconza to give them $5,000 from the company safe and then took him for a ride had his best interests at heart.

Noticing Sconza wore an old sweater, they gave him $10 to buy a new one. Then they gave him $5 from the loot to buy a sweater for his wife. As they released him, they handed over $5 more for his taxi fare home.

World's Tallest Building To Get New Distinction

NEW YORK (UPI) — World's tallest building, Empire State Building.

The world over, in almost any company, mention the one and the association is immediate. The Empire State Building is the world's tallest and probably the world's best known building.

But this distinction is not enough for Lawrence A. Wien, who engineered purchase of the building last year for $65 million by a group which subsequently transferred the famous property to Prudential Insurance Company and then took back a 114-year lease.

Wien feels the full potential of the building has not been developed.

"For all its renown, it lacks definite character," he said. Built as it was during the depression, it was impossible to fill the building with the kind of tenants it needed. Although occupancy has been virtually 100 per cent since the war, it has been of somewhat hodge-podge nature."

Wien envisions gradual development of tenancy to emphasize international character.

There is greater appreciation of the building outside New York City, especially abroad, he said. It is the old story of the familiar being taken for granted. An ardent New Yorker, Wien nevertheless admits that, as a tenant of the Empire State Building some years ago, he never did "go to the top." His office today is not in the Empire State but father uptown in the Lincoln Building where from his desk he has a sweeping view of lower New York with the world's tallest building prominent in the foreground.

Woven in among such prosaic projects as a current exterior cleaning job, new lighting for the lobby and a switch-over to automatic elevator operation, are hints of a "revolutionary new art form" to be introduced next spring as part of the lobby redecoration, and plans for a "truly great international restaurant, perhaps featuring a series of picture windows with various international themes."

Wien, an attorney describes his ventures in real estate as "fun—especially if they are profitable." He is convinced the Empire State Building can compete successfully with even the newest New York's skyscrapers.

"The Empire State Building is still truly unique," he said. "It is very unlikely that it ever will be matched." The type of construction, Wien explained, is extremely costly and new zoning laws which would require a much larger lot for a similar building would make the cost doubly prohibitive.

Construction with all facilities in a central core gives the building large areas of shallow, windowed space, unavailable in newer buildings and extremely attractive to many tenants.

High ceilings were made for efficient installation of central air conditioning and, Wien said, the building today is more than 90 per cent air conditioned. In three to five years, as present tenants vacate space, the job will be completed.

A six-month exterior refurbishing of the building's 102 stories is under way—the first in its lifetime.

After long study and experimentation, new ceiling lighting is being installed in the lobby which will provide a brighter, more cheerful setting without changing the overall effect of the high-ceilinged, marble decor.

Perhaps, before too long, even native New Yorkers won't need out-of-town visitors to prod them into visiting the world's tallest building.

Three Men Are Indicted in Rice Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department announced the indictment here of three men, including two former Agriculture Department employes, on bribery and conspiracy charges involving fraudulent transfer of federal rice acreage allotments.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the indictments were returned by a federal grand jury in Houston, Tex., as a result of an investigation started by the Agriculture Department and pursued by the FBI.

Kennedy said the separate indictments named these defendants:

Laurence G. Newman of Lake Jackson, Tex.

Kennedy said Stephens was fired by the Agriculture Department June 12 and Thornhill July 19.

The government accused the defendants of representing to rice growers that rice acreage allotments were available for transfer and that a transfer would be made when one of the three received certain sums of money.

The men accepted payments from buyers, the government charged, and told them an allotment had been transferred when there really was no legal transfer.

Stephens, 46, was charged in six counts of offering $11,000 in bribes to other employes of the service, and was charged in 14 counts with receiving $20,905 in bribes.

Stephens was also charged with conspiring to defraud the government and making a false statement in a government report.

The grand jury charged Thornhill, 66, on nine counts of accepting bribes totaling $29,385 and on one count of conspiracy to defraud the government.

Kennedy said Newman, 35, was accused of conspiring to defraud the government. He was identified as not a government employe, but an individual who posed as a farmer willing to sell his allotments.

Rio Grande Road Reports Boost In Revenues

DENVER (UPI) — The Denver Rio Grande Western Railroad reports gross revenues for the first seven months of 1962 were up half a million dollars over the same period of 1961.

The railroad said the 1962 figure was $42,701,157, compared with $42,182,177 last year.

Net income of $4,406,133 was $359,511 over the similar period in 1961. Gross revenues for July were under July, 1961, but net for that month was up.

The July gross was $5,740,894, the railroad said, compared with $6,062,208 for July, 1961. The July net income figure of $701,059 compared with $459,591 in July a year ago.

"The 1962 July net reflects adjustment of $220,500 for portion of tax reduction on account of using new depreciation rates for the year 1962, for tax purposes only," the D&RGW said.

Seven-month operating expenses in 1962 were up $656,211 to $29.5 million but July operating expenses decreased from $4.3 million to less than $4.2 million.

Carloadings were down in July by 4,341 cars.

Market Closes Lower After Moderate Trade

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.1 million shares compared with 3.18 million Tuesday.

Losses of key stocks were mainly fractional, some going to about a point.

As the session wore on, quite a few stocks erased small losses and traded about unchanged. Some moved ahead slightly.

The "growth" stocks see-sawed, showing up fairly well in late dealings. IBM and Litton Industries were up about a point, Polaroid—ex dividend—about 2.

Wheeling Steel halved the dividend and the stock fell about 4 points, paring a point from the decline later.

Celanese raised the dividend and moved fractionally higher.

Ling-Temco-Vought received a $47.4-million defense contract and spurted a couple of points, then reduced the rise by a point.

The market was still under the spell of the approaching Labor Day milestone, brokers said, and caution prevailed.

Most of the leading steels remained fractionally lower. Motors were irregularly lower, with American Motors up a fraction and Chrysler firm, the others showing minus signs.

Homestake added about a point. Xerox was a 1-point loser.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and soybean futures maintained fairly broad advances most of the time today but other grains held generally about steady in rather quiet dealings on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans moved up almost two cents in spots at times on buying described largely as reinstatement of long positions following three successive steep declines. Those setbacks knocked some deliveries down about five cents a bushel. Thus, the firmness today was believed to be a normal reaction.

Some of the support for wheat apparently was for commercial accounts, probably against a good volume of export business expected later in the week.

Estimated carlot receipts are wheat none, corn 42 cars, oats 6, rye none, barley 3 and soybeans 10.

Funds Increasing Stock Investment In Corporations

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The furor over whether mutual funds are managed to the small investor's greatest benefit points up yet another angle of the securities business—the growing dominance of financial institutions in the corporate field.

Mutual funds, pension funds, foundations, insurance companies, personal trusts, college endowment funds and the like, all are steadily increasing their share of outstanding common stock in the larger and more prominent corporations—whether blue chip or growth.

Since the 17 million individuals who own shares rarely hold a large percentage per person in any one company, the influence of the big institutional investors grows more important each year.

Traditionally the funds have stressed that they do not interfere in corporate management. The publicly stated policy is to switch holdings if a company's future looks doubtful or its management ill-advised. But there have of late been a few instances when large institutional holders have questioned whether they should follow this course or take a hand in bettering affairs.

The phenomenal popularity of the mutual funds—total assets soaring from $1.5 billion in 1948 to $19.5 billion today—has meant a growing ownership by these financial institutions of common stocks in U.S. industry, although total assets also include other forms of investment.

Pension funds have grown as fast or faster. And they have bought more common stock in recent years than have the mutual funds. Pension fund purchases last year alone are put at $2 billion. Their total reserves, including other forms of investment, are estimated as high as $55 billion.

Personal trusts managed by banks or professional investment advisers are put at around $60 billion. The amount in common stock fluctuates as first stocks or then bonds look better to the experts.

Life insurance reserves of around $128 billion are only partly invested in common stock. But such investment holdings add to the total in institutional rather than private hands.

Foundations often hold huge blocks of common stock in one corporation. Although frequently such shares are denied voting privileges, the ownership of company assets is still a potential, and the dividend take is a very tangible fact of corporate life.

Few large corporations have any one individual shareowner with a large percentage of outstanding stock. Often the biggest holder is a pension fund, or some other financial institution.

Against some 17 million individuals who own shares personally, there are about 100 million who are benefitted by corporate profits as dividends are paid to the pension funds or other institutional investments in which they are involved.

Stock Sale Damage Suit Said Settled

DENVER (AP) — U.S. District Court records showed today a suit brought by Thomas C. Bein of Berthoud against Silas M. Newton of Denver has been settled, with Newton agreeing to pay Bein $25,000.

Bein, secretary of the Berthoud National Bank, had asked for $760,000 in a suit against Newton, charging he was sold worthless stock in an Arizona gold and silver mine.

Under the agreement Newton is putting up oil and gas leases on 640 acres of land in Arizona. These will be returned to him when the judgment is paid.

Newton, 75, once held the Colorado amateur golf championship.

Wheeling Steel Cuts Quarterly Dividend

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp., citing a cost price squeeze, cut its quarterly dividend on common stock today from 50 cents to 25 cents a share.

This was the second basic steel producer to reduce its dividend. On Aug. 21 Republican Steel Corp., the nation's third largest steelmaker, cut its quarterly dividend y one-third.

The reduced dividend will be paid Oct. 1 to stockholders of record Sept. 7.

Alcohol Experiment Is Staged in Halifax

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Dist. Judge Harold W. Pope told the Canadian Bar Association Wednesday he and seven other members of the Saskatchewan bar got together with a police officer and a breath analyzer for a scientific drinking experiment.

The judge from Moose Jaw said they drank for an hour to see how much it took to make their breaths show .06 per cent alcohol on the machine—Canada's legal criterion for drunkenness.

At the end of the hour, said Pope, two of the eight lawyers breathed more than .05 per cent alcohol.

He urged his hearers to make similar experiments "to come to grips with this terrible social problem and stop the murder on the highways."

Decline in Steel Mars Feeble Market Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—A decline by steels marred a feeble stock market advance today and prices were irregular early this afternoon in light dealings.

Reflecting the small change in the overall market, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down a minimal .1 to 222.2 with industrials off .3, rails up .1, and utilities up .1.

Trading was the slowest of the week as the Labor Day weekend approached closer and some Wall Streeters began to depart for their last summer holiday.

Caution over possible developments after the Labor Day milestone has prevailed all this week and trading was lethargic, under the assumption that nothing much will happen to stock prices, barring surprise news, until after the weekend.

Steels were increasingly depressed by Wheeling steel's dividend cut and expectations that others may follow. Motors perked up, however, all of them showing small gains. The rest of the list was thoroughly scrambled.

As the steels retreated, Wheeling, U. S. Steel, and Jones & Laughlin fell more than a point each. National Steel was down ¾ at 34 on a block of 4,100 shares. Losses of Bethlehem and Republic Steel were minor.

Fractional gains were scored by General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, American Motors, and Studebaker.

Some of the "growth" stocks came back a bit from recent profit taking. IBM and Polaroid were up about 2 apiece. Xerox rose a point.

Chicago and North Western Railway was unchanged as operations were halted by a strike.

Reynolds Tobacco was up about a point and Pacific Hawaiian Products was stead in the wake of reports they are talking merger. Other tobaccos were narrowly mixed.

Du Pont helped support the averages with a gain of about 2, other chemicals were unchanged or narrowly mixed.

Smith Corona-Marchant dipped more than a point on a report it plans a stock financing of about $12 million.

Standard Packaging eased ¼ to 13½ on a block of 14,200 shares.

Scant change was shown by such issues as Jersey Standard, American Telephone, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, and Goodrich.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .17 at 603.41.

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange in slow trading. Gains of around a point were made by Sunset International and Pyle National. Also on the upside were Mead Johnson, Kirby Petroleum, Consolidated Oil & Gas, Venture Capital, Magna Oil, Arkansas Louisiana Gas, and Canada Southern Petroleum. Among losers were Occidenal Petroleum, Associated Oil & Gas, and New Park Mining.

In the bond market corporates were unchanged to slightly higher. U. S. Government bonds were unchanged.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co., says the consensus among technicians is that the seasonal summer recovery has a little further to go, but that most of the juice probably has been squeezed out of it.

He feels it makes sense to be more cautious with the average at 620-650 than when it was at 575-600.

W. I. La Tourette of Shearson, Hammill & Co. notes that the market has staged a very sharp recovery in a short period and it would not be surprising to see some consolidation over the very short term. Nevertheless he thinks that the improvement in underlying investment psychology is likely to continue well into fall, and that the odds favor further gains in stock prices between now and year-end.

Bache & Co. continues to feel that any dip at its worst should be contained at the 600 psychological barrier in the industrial average and that the short term trend is still higher.

With the historical probabilities indicating two or three months of further technical recovery, there is ample justification for expecting the industrial average to exceed by a comfortable margin the 625 level, says James F. Hughes, analyst for Auchincloss, Parker & Redpath.

Cheyenne Mends Softball Field A Bit Too Soon

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Cheyenne city officials, looking ahead to next year, launched a project to remodel the city softball park this week.

Apparently someone forgot that the Rocky Mountain Regional Softball Tournament — with 12 teams from Utah, Colorado and Wyoming entered — was to be played at the park this weekend.

Dick Atkins, tournament director, just happened to drive by the field and spotted workmen tearing up the diamond. Atkins, aghast, quickly contracted city officials who directed the employes to put the field back in shape for the first game Thursday night.

Carry Back Gets Nod as Top Horse

NEW YORK (AP)—Carry Back today was rated the No. 1 handicap horse in the wekly championship poll of Thoroughbrd Racing Association racing secretaries.

Mrs. Jack Price's 4-year-old star was rated six points better than Bohemia Stable's Kelso, with 295 points to 289 for Kelso. Rex Ellsworth's Prove It was third with 42 points.

Carry Back, Kelso, Hobeau Stable's Beau Purple and J. G. W. Stable's Ridan are slated to clash Monday at Aqueduct in the $100,000 Aqueduct Stakes at 1⅛ miles.

Surgeons Get to See Operation Telecasts

TORONTO (AP)—Live telecasts of surgery on small animals are laying them in the aisles at the annual Canadian National Exhibition here.

Spectators are fainting at the rate of three an operation. More than 60 visitors have been carried or helped out, and a few have required hospital treatment.

The televised operations, performed twice daily on small animals needing treatment, are the chief attraction of a $1 million "vetescope" exhibit put on this year for the first time by Canada's 2,000 veterinarians.

Trailer Measure Passes at Green Mountain Falls

An amendment to a trailer ordinance in Green Mountain Falls was approved by a 27 to 24 vote Tuesday in a special election.

The amendment provides that resident may park trailers on their private property within the town limits.

The petition to put the amendment to ballot was originally submitted to the town council by C. M. Holloway.

Holloway contended that the ordinance prohibiting the parking of trailers was an undue hardship for residents who owned trailers and had to pay to park them outside the city limits.

Goldberg Praised for 'Scholarly Approach'

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has turkey with seamen, res- the strike-threatened Metro- Opera and preached the administration's economic gospel 19 action-filled months in Kennedy cabinet.

he's leaving to take the of his boyhood dreams.

President Kennedy nominated Wednesday to succeed Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, and said of his labor

"I believe that his scholarly approach to the law, combined with deep understanding of our and political systems, make him a valuable member of the Supreme Court."

Goldberg's black - haired wife, said "a little boy has a and it comes true. This is incredible, he's always it."

Goldberg, in Chicago for efforts a threatened railroad said "I shall, with the approval of the Senate, dedicate myself with all humility to this high calling."

The solemn silence of the Supreme Court will be a big change for the bespectacled, gray-haired labor secretary. But he's no stranger to its marble corridors. He has argued many major cases before the high court during 25 years as a top labor lawyer.

Born in 1908, Goldberg was the youngest of eight children of a poverty-stricken Jewish couple who came to the United States from Russia. He got his first job at the age of 12, as a delivery boy.

For two years, he went to two colleges at once and worked nights to pay his way. He graduated from Northwestern University Law School, top man in the class of 1929, and got special permission to take the Illinois bar examination before he was 21.

By the mid-1930s, he was counsel for a number of unions. In World War II, Goldberg took a job with the Office of Strategic Services, organizing a giant espionage network of anti-Nazi transportation workers behind enemy lines.

As counsel for the CIO, he won the 1949 court ruling that made pensions a collective bargaining item. He helped engineer the agreement that created the AFL-CIO, and had leading roles in steel negotiations over a 10-year span.

Before the Kennedy administration was a week old, Goldberg was off on his first peace-seeking patrol. He went to New York to press for settlement of a tugboat strike. Ever since, he's been heading for the scene when labor trouble erupted.

A year ago, he intervened and acted as arbitrator when a musicians' strike threatened to force cancellation of the Metropolitan Opera season. He was a key figure in administration efforts to win a steel settlement without a walkout, and in the battle with the steel industry over last April's short-lived price increase.

Goldberg's wife is a well-known abstract painter. Modern paintings, some by Mrs. Goldberg, decorate the paneled Labor Department offices where Goldberg has spent many sleepless nights guiding marathon negotiating sessions.

The Goldbergs have two children.

American Jazz Influences Italian Music, Prof. Says

The influence of American jazz is revolutionizing popular Italian music, says Colorado College music Prof. Albert Seay, back from Florence where he spent a year doing research for a new book.

But, he said, the more solemn efforts of American composers still are not taken seriously in the land where opera has been a major industry for centuries.

Prof. Seay, recognized in Europe and this country as a leading musicologist, has been collecting primary source material for a book on "The History of Italian Music Theory in the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Centuries." The work was carried on under a Guggenheim Fellowship.

This is just one of the activities of Dr. Seay, who in addition to his teaching chores at the independent college of arts and sciences here is founder and editor of the Colorado College Music Press.

During his year in Europe, he also has edited music for recording and for French television, written eight articles on music, written a section for a new musical text book, completed a book of his own, and accepted a commission to write a history of Medieval music.

"One of the reasons for the influence of jazz, rock and roll and American style dance music is the tremendous interest in anything American taken by the middle and lower classes in Italy," Professor Seay said.

"You also notice this American influence in the way the new middle class dresses and in the new super markets popping up all over the place," he ovserved.

The Colorado College professor who spent the 1956-57 academic year in Italy on a Fulbright research grant, noted that the number of night clubs has doubled in Italy during the past five years.

"It is in the night clubs and on radio that most American-type music is played," he said.

Prof. Seay said the Italian radio stations play a steady diet of American type music.

"Rock and roll is still big," he explained. "Many of the performers try to look like Elvis Presley. After all Italy still is the land of vocal music. There are more singers per square inch than anywhere on earth."

He said this was one of the reasons that Dixieland jazz is more popular in Italy than what has been termed progressive jazz.

Serious American music has made little headway in Europe, and is comparatively unimportant in the United States, Prof. Seay said.

"European composers still are the ones making the innovations in high brow music," he said.

During the past year, the musicologist spent most of the time at Florence and Lucca in the libraries and state archives searching for primary material for his book and making microfilm copies. He will spend the coming year working on the book.

Leg Pains Seen As Common Human Ailment

Editor's note:

Following is one of a series of articles on health submitted by the Society of Colorado Chiropractors.

If you are among those who complain of leg pains you may be comforted in knowing you are not alone. Pain in the legs or hips is one of the more common ailments seen by all doctors.

Altho there are different kinds, they all appear most frequently among the middle aged or older, and in the obese. The severity may vary from a mild ache to the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica.

Some types, especially those associated with arthritis, will bother only after strenuous exertion, while others may be almost continuous.

A particularly annoying kind is popularly called "the twitches" and will cause no trouble until one takes his rest to sleep. Then the extremity begins to twitch and ache, and sleep is impossible. This appears to be due, in part at least, to poor circulation.

Chiropractic Doctors find that the great majority of leg pains are caused by spinal nerve pressures resulting in poor circulation, arthritis, or neuritis, and very often by a combination of the three. This explains the high incidence of leg pains in older people, as all these ailments are common in later life. Arteriosclerosis, for instance, by restricting the blood supply, often leads to cold extremities and pain. Arthritis, another disease found in the senior years may also be characterized by pain in the extremities especially if a hip, knee, or foot is involved.

Not only the oldsters are bothered. Occupational stresses or peculiar circumstances may cause any group to have the ailment. The child who runs or plays too hard experiences leg ache, due to a temporarily inadequate blood supply to his rapidly working muscles. The barber or dentist who must stand long hours without any real exercise is very prone to get muscle cramps or varicosities if precautions are not taken against them. The pregnant mother-to-be may have similar trouble due to empeded circulation.

Anyone who has low back trouble is also liable to develop leg pains do to pinched nerves, that can affect the extremities in several ways. It may cause sciatica, it may impede the circulation, and chronic low back trouble may cause arthritis.

What can be done about those leg pains? Obviously the basic cause must be corrected. It it is caused by a lack of exercise, daily walking of 8 - 10 blocks will help. It it is caused by a pinched nerve, your Chiropractic Doctor can help.

If you have a question or for further information, write to Society of Colorado Chiropractors, 2224 South College Ave., Fort Collins, Colorado.

Biggest Whitewash Reported in East

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (UPI) — The nearby town of Tharptown here got perhaps the biggest whitewash in history.

Police said a hose coupling on a state highways truck broke and sprayed quick-drying paint, meant for highway divider lines, over a nine block area.

Caught by the spurting paint — it was in a 200-gallon pressurized tank —were four cars, sidewalks, trees, hedges and Mrs. Christina Bray, 67, who was crossing the street.

The driver of the truck continued blissfully on his way unaware of the broken coupling until motorists and passersby finally shouted and got his attention. By then, half the tank had been sprayed away.

District highways Superintendent Francis Donohue said the department would accept claims.

Martin Appoints New Executive Director

DENVER (UPI) — The Martin Co., builder of the Titan III rocket booster, announced today it had appointed a leading engineer-executive as its Denver division executive director of technical operations.

Martin said Nevin Palley, 47, would be responsible for engineer, manufacturing, quality control, field service and support, and materiel departments.

Palley has more than 25 years of technical and administrative experience. He holds basic design patents on the F7U Cutlass twin-jet fighter, the TT-1 primary jet trainer, and the Regulus Bombardment missile.

United Air Lines Plan Economy Fares

DENVER (UPI)— United Air Lines said here its new economy service would be fully in effect Sept. 10.

Economy coach service on one daily Boeing 720 flight between Denver and both Los Angeles and Chicago will begin by Aug. 30.

On Sept. 10 economy first class service would be offered in the forward compartment of the same planes, UAL said.

Economy coach one-way fares, exclusive of tax, will be $46 to Los Angeles and $44 to Chicago. First class economy fares will be $63 to Los Angeles and $61 to Chicago.

CUT

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Iraq Petroleum Company's pipeline through Kurdish rebel territory has been cut and the oil flow halted, a company spokesman reported today.

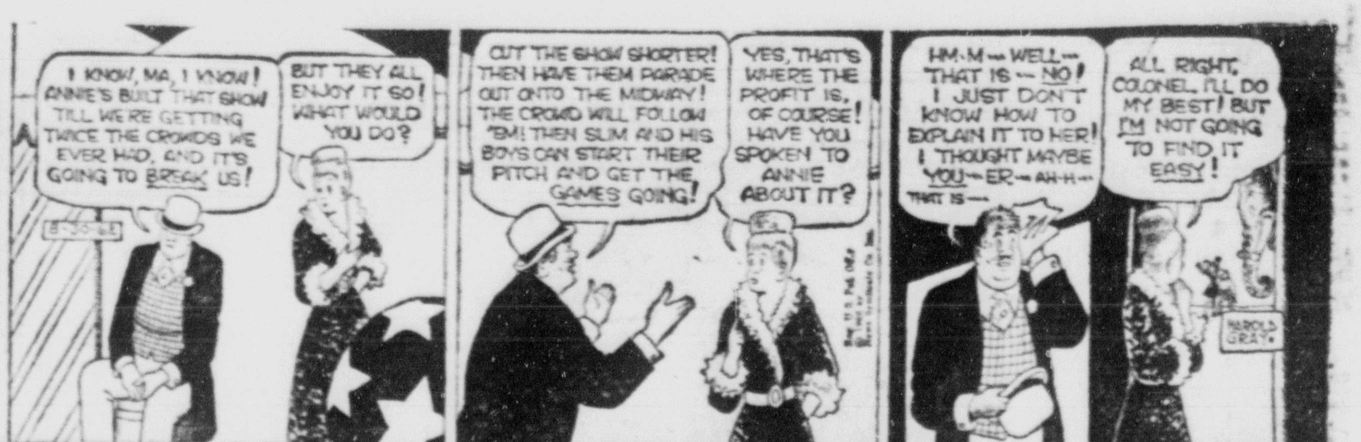
MAC DIVOT
LOOK, MAC, I DON'T KNOW WHAT KIND OF BAD LUCK I'M HAVING --- ALL I KNOW IS THAT IT'S BAD!
TO PARAPHRASE ONE OF OUR FEW PRESIDENTS WHO WAS NOT A GOLFER —
"—BAD LUCK IS SOMETHING THAT HAPPENS TO EVERYBODY SOME OF THE TIME — BUT TO NOBODY ALL OF THE TIME!"
BUT, MAC, I KNOW I'M BUGGED BY MORE COURSE OBSTACLES THAN ARE NORMAL!
THAT MAY BE, BUT I DOUBT IF IT'S DUE TO BAD LUCK!



ORPHAN ANNIE
I KNOW, MA, I KNOW! ANNIE'S BUILT THAT SHOW TILL WE'RE GETTING TWICE THE CROWDS WE EVER HAD, AND IT'S GOING TO BREAK US!
BUT THEY ALL ENJOY IT SO! WHAT WOULD YOU DO?
CUT THE SHOW SHORTER! THEN HAVE THEM PARADE OUT ONTO THE MIDWAY! THE CROWD WILL FOLLOW 'EM! THEN SLIM AND HIS BOYS CAN START THEIR PITCH AND GET THE GAMES GOING!
YES, THAT'S WHERE THE PROFIT IS, OF COURSE! HAVE YOU SPOKEN TO ANNIE ABOUT IT?
HM-M — WELL — THAT IS — NO! I JUST DON'T KNOW HOW TO EXPLAIN IT TO HER! I THOUGHT MAYBE YOU — ER — AH-H — THAT IS — ALL RIGHT, COLONEL, I'LL DO MY BEST! BUT I'M NOT GOING TO FIND IT EASY!

Survey Shows You Can't Keep Everybody Happy

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA)—Now nearly two decades later, U.S. hotel keepers are still trying to woo back the public they alienated during the standing - room-only days of World War II and have since been losing to motels.

Basically, nothing really seems to turn the tide—not free TV in every room, nor fresh flowers, nor instant coffee makers, nor even original works of art.

The last, and until now untried, methods is a survey. With a courage born of exhaustion, one titanic chain about to complete a new hotel (the New York Hilton at Rockefeller Center) has queried a national sampling of Famous People on their accommodations likes and dislikes.

Questionnaires went to such people as Eleanor Roosevelt, Tony Curtis, Dave Brubeck, Gen. Lucius Clay, Joan Crawford, etc. And if the answers point in any one direction, it is that the survey was not such a good idea.

On the other hand, IBM president Thomas Watson Jr. objects to "just cold, impersonal handling."

Then, there's author Taylor Caldwell, citing "too fast service in restaurants (which) are for dining, not mere eating."

"Slow service in restaurants," says publisher Alfred Knopf in the complaint department.

William Paley, chairman of the board of CBS, would like to see more "polite and well trained servants (maids, waiters, etc.)—European fashion."

And so it goes. San Francisco entrepreneur Richard Gump objects to "slow housekeeping of rooms." Dr. Morris Fishbein of the AMA objects to the "delay in cleaning rooms."

But J. H. Booth of the Polaroid Company doesn't like maids' wanting to clean up quickly and early, "usually about 6:30 a.m."

Pollster Elmo Roper likes certain hotels because "I feel at home there."

But five other Famous People say that they don't want to feel at home in a hotel.

Gen. Lucius Clay, however, likes best the hotels whose quiet charm and unobtrusive service have "little to do with elevator speeds, telephone or mail service."

Richard Nixon wrote regretfully to say that he could not answer the questionnaire as "the combination of an active law practice and continuing responsibilities in the field of public affairs makes my schedule a heavy one . . ."

Nobody, of course, said anything about price.

Fair Price Seen In Growth of Natural Gas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pipeline executive said today development of a great growth potential by the natural gas industry is dependent upon fair prices to producers.

W. M. Elmer, president of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America, said gas supply is in good shape today and the potential is tremendous.

"The only hinderance is equitable treatment of producers by the Federal Power Commission," Elmer said. "the producers must be given the incentive to produce the gas."

Elmer said the coal industry's hope for end use controls over domestic fuels also poses a threat to the gas industry's growth.

"We will have to continue to fight coal on end use controls," he said.

The coal industry has been a major backer of proposals that Congress study the possible need for a national fuels policy. Most oil and gas trade groups have pledged cooperation with the studies but have charged coal with advocating federal control of the type fuel individual consumers may select.

In his presidential report before the gas association today, Elmer said the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee soon will release a final report made by a special staff group on national fuels policy.

"While you may not be entirely satisfied with some aspects of the staff's work, I believe it is fair to say that, in general, the facts developed fail to support the charges and claims the coal interests have made over the years," he said.

"It is safe to predict, however, the coal and allied interests will continue to press for action detrimental to the gas industry."

3,350 Workers to Get Jobs Upgraded

DENVER (UPI) — The State Civil Service said today it would recommend upgrading of 470 job classifications involving about 3,350 workers.

The recommendations, if approved, would increase salaries of state employes by a total of more than $1 million a year, effective July 1, 1963.

State Regulation Of Trade Schools Being Proposed

DENVER (AP) — A bill drafted by Sen. Allegra Saunders, D-Denver, to provide state regulation for vocational, technical, mechanical and trade schools may be rewritten before the legislature meets in January.

Sen. Saunders said, at the conclusion of a hearing here, that the bill may be clarified to clearly exempt private and parochial schools offering academic courses.

"It was never the intent of the bill to include them but we may have to write a specific exclusion," she said.

Several witnesses at the session expressed fear the bill might be broader than was intended.

Mrs. Saunders said more than 200 schools in the state would come under the measure's provisions.

The bill calls for an advisory committee and provides $20,000 appropriation.

Twenty seven states now have similar legislation said the senator, who is chairman of a special subcommittee of the Committee on Education Beyond the High School.
